Yeah. You just keep on dreaming and continue to ignore the power requirements that new chip sets are not going to fix.

The receiver part manufacturers would do it for the same reasons the transmitter manufacturers and broadcasters got into HD radio. And TI did make the commitment to manufacture the first generation of IBOC chips.

Or the first start date was when the radios hit the shelves. Or when the much ignored HD radio sales campaign started. Or the big Christmas of 2005.
Or when the 1000th HD station went on the air (even though the part makers thought HD radio was still in limbo). Or the big Christmas of 2006. Or when the new and improved encoding was implemented.

So many disappointments, so many start dates.

I can find no reference to this. In 2004, the only chipsets were literally prototypes for very limited production sepcialt radios.

In correct. The new chipsets will be considerably less expensive than the existing ones. See press releases on iBiquity website.

Yes, when they replace the tower that was felled by an airplane. Currently, the emergency facility has a high Q ATU and ugly load properties and they can not put the HD exciter on; Clear Channel has a corporate mandate for HD on all AMs.

'course, it could be they don't care... as long as people keep coming to the Opry and the Opryland Hotel and buying stuff off their websites...

Back in the earliest days of radio, the bottom line didn't involve selling advertising. It was about promoting your own business. You sold life insurance? You built WSM or WLAC or WTIC & used your airtime to promote your policies. You sold flour? Build WCCO and promote Gold Medal. You ran a hotel and spa at Hot Springs, Arkansas? Build KTHS (now KAAY) and urge tourists to town. Your goals are a bit lower? Use WSIX to sell tires and tire repairs. I've read (though am not 100% certain this is accurate) that the first sale of airtime to a third party wasn't until 1927, seven years after commercial broadcasting began. Until then, "commercial" radio meant selling your own stuff, not somebody else's.

Sounds to me like Radio Disney bills essentially zero. But Disney is keeping them around. Seems like they feel they're getting their money's worth in promotion for Disney properties.

(it does seem a bit unlikely that WSM could pull enough business for Gaylord to support the station -- but the Opryland Hotel does do pretty well...)

Again, at a 2005 meeting of all or PDs and GMs, I asked, "when is a low power chip going to be available to allow portables and luggables?"

The CEO of iBiquity said, "non is available, in development or being planned." He then went on to describe the power consumption of DACs and how he hoped the offshoot of devices like the iPod would eventually create more efficient chips and that the technology could be applied to HD.

Given that the Vancouver station must protect WSM (must use a directional antenna that decidedly does NOT favor the southeastern U.S.) - and that even Vancouver stations that don't have to protect anyone in the U.S. Southeast are VERY difficult to log here - I think the chances of hearing the Vancouver 650 station in Kentucky are only very slightly better than the chances of hearing China itself.

And that's assuming the Vancouver station broadcasts programs in Chinese. Its normal format doesn't, and there are fulltime Chinese stations on other frequencies (1320, 96.1, possibly others) there.

You must be counting incidental hearing (e.g the dry cleaners playing the radio in the store, babies at home, etc.) as opposed to voluntarily initiating or joining a listening session. There are lots of people who have no use for the radio and that 96% would have to include small children.

Typical news item... there are dozens to be found searching on Samsung

Samsung developing new chipset for HD Radio
Thursday, May 10, 2007 at 9:49 AM

Samsung said they will introduce a new low-power, low-cost chipset for HD Radio receivers. These new chipsets will be an important step in the development of portable HD Radios.

Samsung figures that samples of the chipset will be available before the end of the 2007 - and production anticipated for the first quarter of 2008.

The low-power, high-performance chip will be capable of supporting all current and planned HD Radio technology features. It is being designed and manufactured using advanced technology and features a System-in-Package (SIP) module and a CMOS, mixed-signal single-chip tuner.

Target HD Radio applications include: mobile phones, portable media players, portable navigation devices, table radios and home audio-video components.

If HD Radio is able to integrate into mobile phones and portable media players before satellite radio does, then we have no one to blame but ourselves.

That is all they care about. The WSM website is pretty much a gareway to the Opryland hype pages. I have not been to the hotel or the Opry for about 15 years or so, but it is truly a fun experience and a living piece of Americana. Yet the radio station, today, is extraneous.

The modern equivalent is selling the name of every stadium, park and public

Disney stations cover expenses... a few bill several million on local sales, and they do get national sales. The PPM allows them to show 6-12 numbers., too. But the main purpose of RD is to do brand enhancement.

There is no documented night listening in the ratings in any US market. WSM only shows in two markets outside Nashville, both contiguous to the home market and both in the groundwave contour.

Radio ratings only include 12+ for the diary and 6+ for the PPM, so any reference to radio is based on those numbers. I wrongly assumed you knew that... or I would have put the "legal notice" on the end like the medical ads in magazines. PPM is the Portable People Meter, which is rolling out right now after about 8 years of testing.

All but two markets are diary based so far. The diary method does not pick up hearing a station for a moment in a store or someone else's cubicle as nobody writes that down... and if they do, they likely have no idea the station they heard. Also, Arbitron puts a minimum listening length for any listening to be credited, so it is even less likely your scenario could be responsible for any listening. The average person, in the diary (about 290+ markets) is listens to about 18 hours of radio a week.

About a week after purchasing a rig from this guy I find this.

I was contemplating a second purchase but was waiting for the first to arrive before I decided about it. Regardless of the condition of the first rig now I don't think he will be seeing my return custom. I will let you know how the rig arrives, from what I see it seems to have grown in spec from when gottahaveit1995 bought it (it now has extra filters installed, CW+SSB narrow)

Hoping I am one of the lucky ones (the radio gottahaveit1995 bought did seem very tidy tbh) iBiquity never made claims about portables. The first mention has been in the Samsung press releases about low cost low power chips.

Like nearly all your recent posts, you show that you don't understand the radio business model and are lying about the technical issues of HD.

For example:
Samsung developing new chipset for HD Radio
Thursday, May 10, 2007 at 9:49 AM

Samsung said they will introduce a new low-power, low-cost chipset for HD Radio receivers. These new chipsets will be an important step in the development of portable HD Radios.

Samsung figures that samples of the chipset will be available before the end of the 2007 - and production anticipated for the first quarter of 2008.

The low-power, high-performance chip will be capable of supporting all current and planned HD Radio technology features. It is being designed and manufactured using advanced technology and features a System-in-Package (SIP) module and a CMOS, mixed-signal single-chip tuner.

Target HD Radio applications include: mobile phones, portable media players, portable navigation devices, table radios and home audio-video components.

If HD Radio is able to integrate into mobile phones and portable media players before satellite radio does, then we have no one to blame but ourselves.

You would know better than any other poster about Miss Cleo.

HD radios were originally supposed to be out more than a year ago

Every article I could find mentioned that the chips would be low in energy mid-2007 that could hope to run on battery power.

You are obfuscating with this dumb little joke... the fact is that neither you nor anyone else can prove that the Samsung chips are "more" expensive and you can not prove that iBiquity offered hope for a portable device prior to this year.

Any reliable source reported, through Spring of this year, that there was no chip capable of the battery drain requirements of a portable. Now that Samsung and others have announced low cost low power chips, we can now predict portables around Q2 or Q3 of 2008.

There were HD radios out nearly 4 years ago. However, they were really limited in production, marketed mostly to the engineering staffs of early HD stations. The HD system was developed to first get stations on, then get some early receivers, then get more stations on, then get FCC approval and then get mass production. That was the only way manufacturers could have the necessary guarantees: they wanted about half the total radio listening to be to HD equipped stations and coverage of about 2/3 of the population of the US... both goals have been achieved now.

I do believe if there were cosmetic issues with the radio, you should disclose them both in photos and text. It is not up to the buyer to inquire. That said, RadioMart(TM) is a jerk.

The PPM is only in 2 markets.... and yes, people who do not listen do have PPMs... because PPMs are placed by the household, not by the individual.

You can doubt all you want, and replace "c" with "k" in all the words you want... there are no black helicopters in radio broadcasting... and the existing audience measurement is good enough for the ad agencies and clients who spend over $20 billion a year on radio to use the data to create price comparisons and other metrics based on them.

I'm sure there are still a few people who believe the earth is flat, too.

Because we all know that press releases are, in fact, unbiased technical data.

And you can cite specific Samsung releases with inaccurate data in them?

Probably not.

First, why if the poster is "hearing" something in Chinese does it have to be from China?

Second, let's establish exactly where the poster is located?

Third, what "standard" of receiver/antenna is the poster using?

Fourth, even if the poster has a reasonably sophisticated receiver/antenna system, other factors could be at play (i.e. receiver-generated garbage).

Fifth, more details are needed to even speculate on the source.

Sixth, even if in wildest dreams, the poster (supposedly in North America) was in a receiving location that could log "direct from China" 648, then WSB/650 would conversely be a virtual impossibility .

Seventh, we need more information.

Oh, sorry, I repeat myself.

Yeah, I know... a wet blanket...

I still don't believe 19 out of 20 people bother with the radio, Ipods are way more popular than that. Maybe poor folks who can't afford an in-dash MP-3 player or wretched creatures who commute and need traffic reports listen because they have no choice. I doubt many people who never listen to the radio are fitted with your PPM device.
(Isn't that the kind of 'VU' meter they have in Switzerland?)

I looked around on on the Samsung web site and the only reference I could find is the original announcement #172.

There is no information on engineering samples of this module. Not a good sign for its development. There should be at least a projection of samples by now according to the news release. Looks like more vaporware to me.

It will definitely be expensive in the beginning. The only way it will not be expensive in time is for that chip to become a commodity with a very large volume.

I did. I found one press release and that's it. Looks like vaporware.

Not so fast. That one news release was an announcement kickoff for the system on a chip development. Samples should be available by now according to that news release. They might have run into problems. We will see if they can solve them or if sales / management shot off their mouths.

Here is something interesting that I found regarding the Chinese radio situation. Any possibility it could be one of the mega transmitters for hundreds of kilowatts.

I found a posting on asiawaves.net about a station used by Voice of Russia/Voice of America. This transmitter is in the Far East of Russia near Vladivostok which is far north and far east in Russia.

1000 kW RUSSIA Ussuriysk Voice of Russia / Voice of America (VOA)

Rare DX catch but if the signal is coming over the dark parts of the earth, it could be possible. Not to mention the ionospheric conditions were horrid for any sort of HF activity especially 80 meters and above. Even during the day, my 1500 foot longwire couldn't pick up much in the way of quality signals on the HF bands. I will say that Jordan, Pakistan, India and other stations came in quite well today.

Vladivostok is NE of my location, and I regularly hear a station on 810 near there (when the Korean jammer is shut down). Never heard anything on 648 out of there, though.. their beam is pretty much due west, directly into China, but can likely be heard in N. Korea as well. Not much chance of being heard in the US, except MAYBE on the west coast using a directional EWE or Beverage.

So since you don't have receiver issues. It's either a US/Canada based transmitter with Chinese programming or some extremely strange propagation conditions is causing a severe fade where WSM is out of the picture. That combined with a hundred of kilowatt transmitter may very well register China for you. Did you get any place names or recording. That would be a great catch though. Very near impossible under normal conditions but with the radio comditions lately you never know.

I know that from here in Indiana it was very common in the past to receive the Chinese People's Broadcasting Stations from as far as Lhasa, Kunming, and other locations at this QTH. Of course, I have been working with a 1500-2000 foot long wire for quite a few years as well. I'm currently planning to work with a full fledged Beverage Antenna to hook up and see what I can find for MW Dx.

That above posting regarding the Vladivostok station is actually in Ussuriysk about 100 miles south of Vladivostok. I find it strange as well but I did notice that propagation was very strange. Seems that last evening there was a severe fading problem even on 75 meters as I could not pick up many stations within 500 miles. It is like the bands went very long and I also noticed that 160 meters was open to Australia and Indonesia earlier on Sunday morning local US time.

Come to Minnesota, and you will find that they are pronounced exactly alike, unless you are a recent European ï¿½migrï¿½ in which case
'auto' may be pronounced 'ow-toe'.

Oh, and probably the Ryman and the Wildhorse.

15 years is probably how long it's been since I've been to the Opry as well. Visits to the hotel are a lot more frequent. Anyone who comes to Nashville really should see it.

But again, if the idea of WSM is to draw visitors to Gaylord's tourist properties in Nashville it may not be that important. Most of those visitors bring their cars (as one learns to one's possible chagrin when trying to drive up that stretch of Briley Parkway!) and one might presume some portion is listening to WSM as they travel from site to site within the city.

Stupid ass - of course searches for "HD Radio" aree only way to find out more information, or go directly to "hdrdaio.com". The onlyactivity is from radio-geeks - HD Radio is DOA!

No one buys radios anymore, except ro radio-geeks. The HD channels at clearchannelmusic.com/hdradio are abysmal - try slacker.com, pandora.com, or last.fm, instead.

"AFTER A MASTURBATION SESSION, DO YOU ALWAYS 'CLEAN UP' THE SAME WAY?"

"A few people use other methods, which include: ejaculating into a condom, plastic bag, or article of clothing such as a sock or underwear; at orgasm, aiming their penis towards the toilet (having masturbated in the bathroom) so that the semen goes into the toilet bowl; eating their semen; and rubbing it into the skin."

They started making and retailing radios before the start date?

The $200 million radio ad campaign was a year and a half before the start date?

I guess those were startdates 0.2 and 0.51 or something.

Here's the list from early 2006:

"HD digital radio receivers are currently manufactured by more than 15 companies, including Audio Design Associates, Kenwood, Alpine, Panasonic, Boston Acoustics, Polk, Day Sequerra, Radiosophy, Delphi, Rotel, DICE, Sanyo, Eclipse (Fujitsu), Yamaha, JVC and Visteon."

http://www.hdradio.com/press_room.php?newscontent=23

Too bad HD radio has been flat for the pre-start manufacturers. Now that HD radio finally has major manufacturers and StartDate 1.0, there's nowhere to go but up!!

Frank Dresser

Too bad HD radio hasn't been a roaring success.

How amusing - the HD Radio Alliance's stations are jamming each other,

Yeah, after I pointed that little fact out to you. However, your original response indicated that it was already on the air according to your 'updated data'.

Here is what the GM of WHAN has to say, hot off the press in response to a query about the Construction Permit:

"We are still on 1430. It will take some time to complete the move as we have to confirm the site and then build two towers. But we're moving albeit slowly. Thanks for asking."

"They" is a few second or third tier specialty manufacturers and one or two others with a single offering at a high price to satisfy a need for a monitor receiver at the converting stations.

This was one of the requirements of the interested manufacturers.... and it actually started about 9 months prior to FCC approval of HD. The $200 million figure is the value of airtime contributed by HD Alliance stations... by no means all the HD stations on the air at the time.

Very limited lines, totaling less than a dozen models, some hard to get.
Many were first generation, like the dreadful BA Receptor.

It very well may be on the air, or testing. A CP can be operating some time without a difinitive license. I believe one of the extreme cases was WISN in Milwaukee which ran with a CP for the better part of two decades for its night facility.

OK, all that does is eliminate that station as a possibility. It is a valid CP, and could have been on. For the first time in a long time, you have contributed something useful to helping solve an un-id.

There is more money looking for stations than there are stations for sale.
That usually means an increased price. Clear Channel felt the market was undervaluing its assets and cash flow, so they are going private. Univision did the same early this year, for over $12 billion. Station prices for decent facilities have shown no erosion, as proven by the Clear Channel and CBS spin-offs.

Funny, but I never saw such MW receptions reported in DX News or the IRCA Monitor... that would be most amazing reception in the last 3 decades or so. Even in the peak years of good reception to the Pacific in the early 60's, I never heard of a Chinese station making it East of the Rockies.

When did this occur and what stations were heard?

According to iBiquity, the Receptor is probably the best that is

Yes, and when the market is "undervaluing" your assets and cash flow, that's always a good sign....lol

The dateline on the linked page is Feb. 21, 2006. To be fair, the article said the ad campaign was "As promised and ahead of schedule". I know I was hearing the ads in March or April. So maybe it was more like a year than a year and a half. You like nine months, fine. Just for the hell of it, we can call it six months.

That's not the point.

The point is that HD radio, for whatever reason, was being widely promoted before the buying public even knew it was well before the offical "start date".

Yeah, those pre-starts were rough. A big promotion for expensive, crummy radios to receive mostly simulcasts and also-ran programming.

Good luck with your next few start dates!

They are a fun to use radio if you enjoy bandspread tuning. There are more similarities than differences between the 150, 150A, 150B and 160. However, in reference to the auction comments I would say the 150b had a slight edge because of the relatively improved selectivity from a mechanical filter and the 160 because of extended coverage.

Best of luck with the auction.

With the emergence of new technologies not called HD radio, it would appear that traditional AM and FM broadcast stations are going to have a hard time maintaining solid listerner bases. When you consider that you can connect any computer to practically all kinds of Internet stations that is one avenue. Another is satellite radio systems such as Sirius or XM. Another is the fact that so many listeners now download music from I Tunes, Napster or other online services. That is another hit to the bottom line. So instead of attracting listeners by finding ways to atrract them through the traditional media, they would rather find a way to digitize the media Ie. HD radio at which very few people are interested except for a few shills. I live somewhat near a major metro and I can assure you that I rarely hear anyone at my vocation talk about HD radio. They are talking about the Ipod, Zune, or something else. You don't hear all kinds of talk about this radio station or that station.

Since the telecommunications mergers the local radio spectrum has pretty much become a joke in that it is now filled with pretty much the same garbage up and down the band. I had a good laugh last night when the Chicago Bears-Dallas Cowboys football game was being talked about at the same time on no less than 4 local Chicago stations on the AM band. Just an observation from listening.

While I live further downstate, it is noticeable that our local stations are now pretty much Clear Channel stations with very little local programming and a great deal of verbatim and silly talk. Very little substance. You have the occasional small time shock jock at night talking dirty to the kids about whatever social norm they are trying to bring about. Just good for a laugh anyway. As far as musical diversity or anything else, you will hear the same bland playlists of similar songs or the same song going over two stations at once in the same market. Not really any way to gain listeners.

For the most part, I've stopped listening to local FM because its the same old morning talk show host talking about some of the most brain dead things. Rather than enlighten anyone, it is more on the maintainance of the lowest common denominator. At leat here, if you want to find out information, news, weather or talk radio you still do have the AM band and local stations that broadcast the news or features. FM has been pretty much raided by two or three media conglomerates so you will pretty much be listening to your Ipod with annoying commercials. It's a shame that we don't have local ownership and local tastes to our radio culture.

Instead they would rather give us the big media crap that is presented as news, entertainment, music etc. I've noticed that Chicago, IL and Memphis TN have a wide variety of still local flavors. In fact, some of the better stations heard come out of Memphis TN since much of their local stations are locally owned and operated and the decisions are not made in a corporate boardroom in NYC, LA or wherever. But instead, they would rather trash a perfectly good communications medium in AM/FM radio with inexpensive and often cheap radios (cheap not implied as junk) and instead would give us more of the same garbage but charge 200 to 400 dollars for a radio.

It's pretty much a big fraud being foisted upon the American consumer to trash their perfectly good AM/FM radios in their homes and cars and instead spend 200 to 400 dollars to buy one of the HD sets. So what are we going to do with all these old radios? Are we going to send them to Chad via Ebay or just let them collect dust. The FCC said they would let the market decide so hopefully the END User consumer will drop this idea like a hot potato. And fortunately, it seems that they are doing just that. But instead the radio mafia still wants to jam this retarded idea down our throats. Not to mention sell everyone a bill of goods with their 300 dollar crappy looking junk boxes.

I noticed that WTAM was wiping out adjacent channels last night on 1100 khz and WBT which is usually audible here was getting splattered. The best thing to do is for people to start writing the Commission and let them know what a boondoogle this is. Ridiculous

I didn't notice Cuba being on 9820 last evening. I do know they were on the 49 meter band at 6000, 6180, etc.

I was referring to the SW transmission in regard to the stations in Llasa, Kunming, etc.
I did notice however that John Plimmer from South Africa does an excellent job with his DX operating from South Africa.
Quite amazing what he picks up although he does live in the 9 khz channel seperation area versus our 10 Khz area here in the states.
However, I do note that he had quite a nunber of catches of US stations even on the Western edge of South Africa.
Plus the fact they have much less in the way of co channel interference and IBOC crap going on.

I don't particularly like QVC or ShopNBC because their merchandise is mostly low-class stuff like NeverSharp knives, George Foreman Grills, Cubic Zirconia rings, etc. They rely on high-sizzle merchandising including overstated MSRP's that are cut by absurd discounts. Not much has really changed in that industry from when Ron Popeil was first marketing Veg-O-Matics.

However, a lot of people buy stuff from venues like that so think of it as just another successful distribution channel like Overstock.Com, Amazon.Com, etc.

I suspect the allure for Tardo is the prospect of getting his colloidal silver and Amazing HGH some airtime on QVC.

If so, that would be odd for two reasons...

1. The thread is about MW.
2. He is using a beverage antenna, not usually associated with SW receptions.

This is what has been called the "Viacom Syndrome" where an entire industry was punished on the Street for the problems of one company in the sector.
Viacom recognized it two years ago and split into two parts; others have gone private as the value is there, based on revenues and cash flow or profits, but the market is undervaluing the issues... a perfect time for private equity to get something for less than it is worth.

According to the manual at the BAMA, it uses those late 50s car radio tubes which could run with 12V on the plates and screens.

Yhe HD Alliance campaign started around June, 2006. That is less than a year before the FCC approval; many stations were promoting on their own prior to that, though.

Any station that started HD broadcasts would, on their own, promote it. Not all are part of the Alliance, nor did all run the Alliance spots. Several of the top 10 largest broadcast companies are not even HD Alliance members, although they have HD stations running.

For most manufacturers, the FCC approval was the start date.

Going private is a retreat strategy - Wall Street has smelled out HD Radio. CC has gone from a high of $90 to a low of $30/share. Broadcast radio is dying and HD wil l ust accelerate its death.

In Memphis, of the 23 stations with a one share of audience or more (23 stations) two are non-commercial FMs and 3 are locally owned by Flinn Broadcasting which has 26 stations in the region.

The rest are owned by Clear Channel, Citadel and Entercom, including the top 6 and 8 of the top 10. So much for your theory about Memphis.

In Chicago, 31 stations have a one share or over. Of them, of the top 18, only one is locally owned, Tribune's WGN (but it is a multi-market and multi-station owner). #19 is a non-com, and 20 to 25 are not locally owned. #26 is locally owned and classical, and the remainder of the 31 are not locally owned except for Moody's religious WMBI (FM).

There goes your theory.

Yup, the Street is punishing broadcast radio for the HD Radio farce.

Well you can use a Beverage antenna for SW as well. I might have to put one across the way here in a few days when I get some more material.

And this has exactly what to do with a reception on the low end of the MW

The fact is that South Africa has pretty much eliminated the MW band with just a couple of exceptions. SABC has all of 3 AMs left, there are a half dozen community AMs and 3 commercial AMs listed in WRTVH 2007. Otherwise the band is virtually empty for about 1000 km, with 10 AMs in Botswana and a few in other closer nations, most at a near perfect 90 degree angle to the Americas.

HD has nothing to do with radio stock prices... the investment per station is a tiny drop in corporate capex budgets (we spent about 10 times more in LA for one morning show studio than putting HD on 5 signals). Many stocks were very high in 1999 (when CCU peaked in the 80's) and have never recovered after the dot com crash... it has to do with the markets, not the companies.

Going private is a future strategy: buy now, when the market undervalues, and in 3 to 6 years, go public again based on value and profits.

"But is "availability" of HD radios the problem?"

"They can't find the radios even if they want one. That's one way some folks explain HD radio's sputtering sales. But now that Best Buy is coming into the fold of retailers that offer HD radio products nationwide, it will be impossible to say that "availability" is a problem, because that availability will generally be universal. Chalk off one excuse from the pile of excuses theoretically explaining HD's lack of momentum."

The idea of a Beverage is to have a multiple wavelength antenna. Multiple wavelengths on SW frequencies are much shorter, and many longwires are, in essence, possesing those properties already.

That's IF the broadcasters want to stick exclusively with broadcasting, at least free broadcasting. Consider that the broadcasters have spent millions on IBOC radio interference transmitter equipment and only a pittance on HD radio content. And they've spent millions more on advertising HD radio before adaquate mass market radios were available.

HD radio might not have been designed to fail, but it sure doesn't look like the smart guys have thought out the elements of success, either.

But now we have a FCC decision which will mark the latest first start date in which very important things got fixed. Inexpensive low power consumption chips are in the pipeline and I'll bet these new, improved chips are subscription radio ready.

Amazon.com, as with Best Buy, Radio Shack, Wal-Mart, and Circuit City have all been miserable failures for HD Radio. Jerry Del Colliano made the point that even if people buy HD radios, the radios do not work as advertised and will be returned promptly.

I have no idea who the self-proclaimed expert Jerry D.C. is, but his and other claims about poor sales and high returns of HD radios are unsupportable now. Such claims will either be verified or dismissed in the next 9 months which includes the christmas selling season.

SHillilng is when someone bids up an item with no intent

Eduardo is really a shill for the corporate media conglomerates. It's pretty obvious what his agenda is here. It seems that I was pointing the vapid stupidity of many of the hosts not to mention the lack of quality programs on the corporate FM jukeboxes.

If you want to listen to real radio, find a station that is locally owned and operated not some overpriced corporate jukebox owned by Entercom, Clear Channel, etc. When I make a reference to Memphis it's one of the better ethnic music cities where LOCALLY owned stations generally exist with local DJs and local people. Not some satellite feed from some Ivory tower place in NYC or some other major metro.

Ever notice that in many places overseas, they don't have the media concentration we have in the US. I'm not talking about governments controlling broadcasting, I am talking about locally owned stations in the Carribean, Europe, and other countries. Not this corpratized crap that they call radio in the US.

If you had solid profits and earnings from your operations, your company could outpace the market. Look at the oil and gas monopolies.

You know what gets me is that their audio is always poor. I've heard some of the old QRMers on 75 meters from years ago have better audio. Used to be a guy named Walter up in the NJ/NYC area that played this old Marching music on 75 meters. He was about broadcast quality audio. Yet for some reason, the people in that round building in Cairo can't get the audio right. Its been awful for years and I've been into SWL and Ham for 15 plus years.

I'm thinking of writing one of their technical people and finding out the scoop on why their audio is always so distorted. It sounds like someone has a mouthful of peas trying to talk. It used to be quite bad on 9900 years ago as well. 12050 had better audio and some of their Arabic broadcasts weren't bad. Some good mics and audio gear would help immensely. They need to talk to Berringer, Audio Technica or the like. Its bad.

Thanks for the tip. Wow...it sounds like iBiquity itself is quite pessimistic about the prospects of HD.

Neither Memphis nor Chicago have a higher percentage of locally owned stations than the average for markets their size. In fact, both are among the lowest.

Caribbean? Most Jamaican radio is controlled by two entities. Groups own multiple stations in the Dominican Republic. In Puerto Rico, consolidation is greater than most of the US, as nearly all stations are networked. The Lesser Antilles are so small that there is not much to compare with.
Colombia has 3 companies controlling 80% of the stations and was consolidated since the late 50's, and Venezuela is similar. Central America has been consolidated since the 60's. In South America, most of the countries have national networks, owned by one company that runs multiple networks... one Chilean company has 5 national networks from Arica to Punta Arenas.

In Europe, much if not most radio is networked nationally. In Spain, SER has 5 or 6 national nets with as many as 180 stations and low power repeaters on each; Germany, France, Italy, Hungary, etc., have highly consolidated national nets.

The company I am with outpaces the market, had solid profits and a double digit growth rate. In fact, the TV side has just had several consecutive weekly Nielsen wins as the #1 national network in 18-34. The market was undervaluing us because of the Viacom Syndrome and going private was a shrewd investment for those who bought the company. They acquired a profitable, growing enterprise at a low multiple of earnings.

The investment in equipment in the top markets is minimal. As I mentioned, in LA we spent 10 times as much on the new studio for one morning show as the HD gear for all 5 of our signals.

The principal objective of HD for us is to put out a digital FM signal; in LA it is very much less susceptable to multipath. HD2 is a side benefit, but not critical at this time.

There was no expenditure on ad time by the HD Alliance. It is all based on the value of time on the Alliance stations themselves.

I don't think many receivers will be sold at Christmas, 2007. The ones out there still bite big time, and the first generation of really good ones will come sometime in mid-2008.

Speculative comments will either be proven or disproven by the sales record tallied 120 days after the christmas rush. As of right now we can guess about the volume of HD radio sales volume. Even more important than the number of people buying hardware will be the number of people who switch some of their listening time to HD channels. My guess is that will take even longer for listening habits to change.

I think that mid-summer 2008 will be the earliest that any meaningful HD listening statistics will be available.

That's a pretty good point. The preponderance of consumers will not take a second chance after a bad experience.

Look at David, himself...returning his XM rig because of reception problems in areas where there are XM listeners experiencing no difficulties. Having been offered an opportunity to try a second radio, he declined.

The first batch of HD radios were pretty poor. Those appealing to innovators and early adoptors, which are crucial to creating the pilot stream of retail and the buzz on the street. If their experiences were not good, they'll be off to something else before they try a second HD radio, and the buzz that drives the mainstream adoption will not develop.

That's not a great road sign for HD's future.

5202. Unused NiMH Battery Aging?

I found a 4-pack of Kodak 1800maH AA NiMH batteries that's probably a couple of years old. They all test out at around 1000maH.

I've had good luck with Kodak NiMH batteries, as to reliability and power, though mostly the AAA's.

Can this low rating be just from unused aging? I assume the battery quality is up to standards, since why would these be the only weak ones among the dozens I have.

I'm planning on putting together a 750 foot maybe longer Beverage just for the hell of it. I guess that I can't use it on SW now though, hahhahahaha. Since I have quite a bit of written material on the Beverage and the skill to put it in line, I wonder if that makes me qualified to know how it works. Also, considering that in past years when time wasn't an issue, I used to regularly receive Atlantic 252 on longwave here in the Midwestern USA state of Indiana. Not to mention quite a few other longwave catches starting just after dark local time. Maybe someday I will figure out how to use the Beverage for shortwave. Mwhahahhaha.

FWIW - Did another AM/MW Radio Station
Blinking Blue Light Test this Morning at 7 AM and Yes There Be "HD" Radio Signals Out-There . . .

18 Blinky Blue Light AM/MW Radio Stations
- - - I could NOT get a Solid Lock on any of them.

Plus now I am Hearing what David described as "Motorboating" on many of the "HD" Stations.

47 Hear-able AM/MW Radio Stations

21 Listen-able AM/MW Radio Stations

on the Radi-Osophy HD-100 Radio.
- - - Low Cost Consumer Grade "HD" Radio.

-But- by 10 AM the Number of Listen-able AM/MW Radio Stations was down to 'Only' 8 and the 21 Hear-able 'Only' Stations all had Heavy Noise Levels which rendered them
Non-Listen-able. The Blinking Blue Light

Station count dropped down to 'only' 3.

About 1997, I went to a local Bell South cell phone store and I signed up for two years cell phone (Ericsson cell phone, I still have that cell phone too, at about $18.00 plus each month for two years, I more than paid enough for that cell phone and cell phone service) service.Yeah, after a while, those NiMH batteries will not take a recharge.

Meerkat Manor is on the Animal Planet tb chanel now.I likes that show. Big Joe Polka Show will be on the RFD tb channel on Wednesday at 6:00 PM,,,, I likes that show too.

NAB does not maintain lists of radio stations or a database. Per BIA, both of these markets are as highly consolidated as any.

I just checked the Kneisner + Doering web page and noted a subtle change regarding the KWZ-30/2. On the page that describes the receiver it used to state that they had hoped to release the KWZ-30/2 in 2006, now it says "There will be a successor to the KWZ-30. The release date is still unknown."

Interesting. I'll wonder if they're waiting on the DRM module from Texas Instruments.

The only thing that makes me think that this receiver will in fact reach the market is the fact that they're churning out plenty of other radio products now, like their software defined transceiver and linear amp.

 U.S.A. WBCQ Schedule Update, September 22, 2007

Lots of schedule changes and program moves are in the works. Some of these changes reflect new shows already on air, and others are moves to accommodate an exapnsion of programming by the Christian Media Network on 7415. All listed are UTC.

"Fred Flintstone's Music Show" moves from Thursday 2200-2300 on 7415 to Sunday 2100-2200 on 7415, replacing "Above All Things."

"The Jean Shepherd Show" moves from Monday 2100-2200 on 7415 to Sunday 1800-1900, replacing "The Overcomer Ministry."

"The Alternate Transportation Show" returns, is now Saturday 1900-2000 on 7415, replacing "The Last Roundup."

"Think Tank North America" returns, is now Saturday 2100- 2200 on 7415, replacing "Playing with Electricity."

"Glenn Hauser's World of Radio" moves from Wednesday 2200- 2230 to Thursday 2330-2400 on 7415, replacing "Jesus Global Outreach." The Wednesday 2200-2230 broadcast of World of Radio on 18910 remains unchanged.

Christian Media Network adds Monday 2100-2200, Thursday 2200-2300, and Wednesday 2200-2300, all on 7415. In addition to the shows noted above, this addition replaces "Mind Games," which was Wednesday 2230-2300.

"The All New Hank & Jim Show", was Sunday 2000-2100 on 7415, is on hiatus (at least from WBCQ, their webcasts continue). Sunday 2000-2100 is now an available time slot.

The full program schedule for all WBCQ services is found at

I said the database showed a CP. Not being in Virginia, I have no way of knowing if a CP is on. There are 1100 active CPs, many of which _are_ on but have not yet been licensed. A CP may take years from the time it goes on to the time it is licensed. As mentioned, I believe the record is for WISN in Milwaukee, at nearly two decades for its night CP in the 60's and 70's,

It is a simple lesson.

You would do well to learn it.

Even the FCC site does not show CPs that have been activated... the CP designation disappears when the CP is licensed.

So you are saying that there are not, as of today at close of business at the FCC, 1159 CPs for new stations or changes in facilities, both commercial and non-com, AM and FM? Or that there are 397 AM CPs that are not yet licensed?

Or are you saying that a CP can be on the air for years before it is licensed (or amended) before it is licensed?

Or both?

So? You acted as though it was on. It wasn't.

I'm happy though to have pointed it out to you, and to even go to the trouble of axually contacting the station itself.

You'd better inform them that, despite their belief to the contrary, they do not maintain such a database.

Again, the Ashland station is listed as a CP on 650.

Even if the 1430 facility continues to operate, stations changing frequency commonly run the new facility way before changing over to do field strength readings (it's directional) and to test equipment. So, when looking at what is authorized for 650, the VA station is definitely a possibility until proven that it is either not built or was not on the air at the time.

They have a membership database, but buy BIA for a full, daily updated, database of radio and TV stations. They are listed as such on the BIA web page.

There is no such source, as the FCC maintains a CP as a CP until the licensee of the station submits a license application after the CP is proven to be operating correctly. As I said, sometimes this can go on for over a decade.

The LA DX list is moving to a new home. For the past year the MCDX Team has been doing the work of updating and improving the list and now they will also be hosting it. This will be the last edition of the list here, as this website is in the process of being retooled for purposes other than radio DX.

You can find further updates to the list at the MCDXT website at http://home.tele2.it/MCDXT/LASWLOGS.html

Good luck, best wishes and 73's to all the compaï¿½eros at MCDXT

If I had a choice, I'd pick the any of the 150-series units over the 160. The sound quality of the 160s are just awful-The filter is just too aggressive, with no way to switch it out for casual listening.

I suppose I can try KNX this morning, but I don't see any reason for IBOC to cause motorboating. Granted IBOC sucks in many other ways, but it should not have such an effect on the analog signal.

There is no data. This is just about the announced development. This is nothing more than a proposal to develop a chip set. At the point of this news release nothing has been developed. Like you are one to talk about reading comprehension problems.

Except it isn't true, the first 500,000 watt station was WLW in Cincinnati Ohio, owned by Powel Crosley Jr. It went on the air at 500KW in 1935.

No that would not be correct. A Beverage is a special case antenna

I would consider what you use to be a Beverage antenna for SW since I believe your long wire antennas to be about 10 foot off the ground. You have two, one a hundred foot and another 200 foot long.

There are two caps on the 160 you can replace that will widen up the audio nicely, without widening the IF bandwidth.

You don't need a super power TX to create this kind of chaos. At KOEL, we were a 5kw regional with the major lobe squirting the power north. Off the north end of the site, close enough that the guy ran right to the fence, and on the other side, a developer built a high end subdivision. Well, high end for that area. And the first house was less than 50 feet from the fence.

About once a month we had to go out and detune refrigerators, water pipes, bathtubs, toasters and especially the chain link fence...all of which were making quite audible music from our transmitter.

The biggest problem we had was with the house by the fence. The owner had cleaned up the garage and put in flourescent lighting....that he couldn't turn off.

He had to remove the tubes in order to get dark in his garage.

Night was no better. The pattern was less than 5 degrees wide, concentrating on a few houses adjacent to the property. We got calls almost every night.

M...Sushi,

1 - It may be that there is a 'Predictable Point' {Distance from the Transmitter} and specific Time-of-Day when the Radio Stations Analog Signal and it's Digital Signal cause a phase mixing product that 'appears to be' {sounds like} what is classically called 'motorboating'.

-Or- it may be the Radio Stations own Analog Signal with the Digital Signal of one or more of the Adjacent Channels Radio Station; that is 'causing' this audio effect.

The 'Cause' May Be Unknown - But What You "Hear" Is Real.

2 - Also I am hearing more and more of what we use to call Automotive Engine {Ingition} Noise {at very High RPM} with the Radi-Osophy HD-100 Radio.

When I first got this "HD" Radio this Noise was not as noticeable -but- now it is the 'preponderant' sound across
the AM/MW Band except when there is a Clean and Clear Analog AM/MW Radio Station to listen to on any given Frequency.

-NOTE- This HD Radio "Noise" Background is so strong
that IMHO most 2nd and 3rd Generation "HD" Radios
should have a Squelch Knob to quiet-out this Noise so that a Radio Listener only has to hear those 'local'
AM/MW Radio Stations with a Clean and Clear Signal :
Be it Analog or Digital.

I Ask Myself : What IBOC ?
All I See Is The Blinking Blue Light ! ~ RHF
In That Distant Land* Where IBOC Fears To Go :
Life Exists and Radio Listeners Live Beyond the 10mv/m Contour.

Why this Antenna is So... Long...
That It Could Bridge Two Adjacent 10 mv/m Contours
-and- Disrupt the Separation of Localized Media Markets.

The Continuum of Localized Radio Broadcasting must be 'preserved' to Maximize Profit for the Media Corporations.

I keep track of things just fine. After all, I'm not a dumbass Canuck!

This yo-yo of an OP posts this in some form about 2-3 times a year in various groups, if you have not noticed. RAR+P always gets it at some point and he's a prankster that just trolls it to death.

Yes, the best achievable portable HD AM receiver crashed and burned.

Not according to iBiquity, which maintains that the BA Receptor was the best HD AM portable achievable.

This is incorrect. The HD Alliance reports that a very large amount of money was used to purchase ad time.

If by "expanded coverage" you mean the addition of the LW band on the 160, that is seen by some as a negative. The fifth band added to the same-size window makes it slightly more crowded and hard to read, and there's nothing to listen to on LW anymore. Wasted space.

The DX-150 and 150A have a speaker built in. The external speaker wasn't needed until the DX-150B and DX-160. I really wonder why they did that, except maybe to lower the cost of the radio and drive the inevitable purchase of the add-on SP-150.

Back in July and the first part of August I did some moonlighting at a lab that certified equipment for FCC class A or Class B compliance. It was educational and I was dismayed to see just how bad something can be and still pass.

For SWLs the main aspect of FCC certification is the conducted specs. Radiation, direct transmission through the air, becomes more of an issue at higher frequencies, above 30 MHz.
Below 30 MHz the focus is on conducted emissions. This mainly deals with signals conducted via the AC mains. RF can and is conducted into every conductor connected to a device. And each conductor must be inspected and measured.

Laplace Industries makes some very good test equipment, and while I am certain that other companies make equally good or better equipment, the lab I worked at primarily used Laplace.

The average radio type regardless of focus, by this I mean SWL or ham, often has no idea what FCC certification means.

Class A, business, commercial or industrial 0.45KHz~1.6MHz 1000uV, 1.6MHz - 30MHz 3000uV.
Class B, home, residential, is limited to 300uV. for the entire .45KHz through 30MHz bandwidth.

Expressed another way.
Class A
0.15~0.50MHz 66 dBuV
0.50~30MHz 60 dBuV
Class B
0.15~0.45MHz 56 dBuV at 150KHz decreasing to 46 dBuV at 450KHz
0.45~0.50MHz 46dBuV
0.5~30MHz 50 dBuV

For the official wording from the FCC checkout <http://frwebgate.access.gpo.gov/cgi-bin/get-cfr.cgi?TITLE=47&PART=15&SECTION=207&YEAR=2001&TYPE=TEXT>

The voltages are measured in a device that,while IMO, is not representative of the real world, it does give repeatable readings. A typical test facility will have a screen room, with a measurement bench that is 1/8, or more, copper. There are specific requirements as to how the power leads from the Equipment Under Test (EUT) are to be routed but we will ignore them. The AC from the real world comes in through a LISN. Line Impedance Simulation Network.

A diagram can be found on page 12 of <http://www.ets-lindgren.com/manuals/4810.pdf>. The most important part is the 50uH inductors and the 50 Ohm termination. Trust me, no AC wiring is anything like a constant impedance!

"Class B" devices conducting 300uV into your household wiring will cause significant interference to the recption of any but the strongest signals!
"Class A" devices which are allowed 1000uV to 3000Uv are nightmares!

About the only way to cope is to never ever use Class A devices, and many PC network devices are Class A! Even quieter Class B will almost always require additional filtering on the AC mains to reduce the RFI to "acceptable" levels. I have found the Curtis 2 stage RFI/EMI filters offered by Hosfelt Electronics for less then adollar apeice to be very effective at managing RFI.

One thing to keep in mind is that medical devices, such as CPAP, BiPAP and APAP devices used for sleep apnea are regulated by the FDA and the FCC sets no RF limits on them. My wife's APAP's switch mode power supply barely meets Class A requirements. I am lucky because we went with an APAP with an external 12V "emergency" power port, so I build a linear power supply that when coupled with a Curtis filter is quiete enough that further effort is not justified.

One of the nicer toys that I got to play with was a PLIP.
<http://www.laplaceinstruments.com/PDFiles/plip.pdf>

Chuck W1HIS offered some usefull information on my efforts to build my own. Unless you know what you are doing, and by this I mean an EE with enough real world experience to build something that you will be attaching to the AC mains and to insure your safety, don't even think of trying to duplicate the PLIP. I will not give construciton details except to say that for the average ham/SWL the 30dB amp is not needed!! If 30dB of amplification is needed, there isn't a problem.

My home made PLIP has allowed me to study how RFI travels through the AC wiring, and how it is coupled into other conductors, telephone, ethernet etc, and it allows me to rapidly see if my RFI reduction efforts are working.

A 50 uH LISN can be used on DC power lines to check for noise and I have used it on our telephone line to verify the presence of incoming noise from DSL being deployed in our area. My LISN is a "do all" and has connections that the UL, or local electrical inspector would freak if they saw it. I can use it on 120V AC, up to 15A on DC, the telephone line and anyother conductor I wish to test. Very flecible but great caution must be taken to keep from exposing one's self to lethal voltaages.

As I discribed before a portable receiver that covers trhe frequencies of interest and an inexpensive home made sniffing coil of ~20 turns on a plastic pill bottle connected to the receivers antenna input can be very useful. Given the risks a PLIP creates, I must advise that for all but the most stubborn and possibly fool hearted, the loop is the way to go. With my home made PLIP and LISNs I can make measurements that are repaetable and allow me to gain a better understanding of the issues in fighting RFI. It is a never ending battle. When you find one source and remove or reduce it, another unheard noise source reveals itself. My wife says I am no longer a SWL but a RFI fighter. Details for my RFI sniffing loops and the "B-filed" loop used by Chuck, W1HIS, can be found at the yahoo groups stopRFI page. I hope to expand this piece and include a generalised set of diagrams of that will be safer then my LISN and the mods I made to allow measurment of "differential mode" and "common mode" noise.

Reducing DM noise at the source will prevent it from being converted into to CM noise.

This is the most important leason I have learned.

DM, by itself, is a minor problem.

CM is the real RFI problem.

One way or another, there does seem to be a new sync-equipped portable

According to an editor comment on the PWBR website, "We're testing a new portable with sync, and it's yet another flawed attempt."

Despite the fact that both the AM and FM versions of HD radio are a good example of out-of -control technology that nobody really wants, the FCC has mandated that all broadcasting will be digital. Therefore, I see no turning back regardless of what the consumer does or doesn't want or understand. The only way out of this that I see is that some entity with deep pockets poses a legal challenge to the FCC mandate.

This really isn't a consumer issue but rather a big business/ government deal and will take legal action to reverse and I'm not sure it can be. Consumers don't count, surveys don't count and the number of radios sold doesn't mean anything. This is the sad truth.

Since the FCC violated its own rules on radio interference and since it's in bed with iBiquity and no other systems were even considered it will be a very difficult challenge. Remember all this when it comes time to vote and consider that we are no longer represented by our elected officials but, rather, we are being controlled by them.

The FCC's decision of letting the market decide was just their way of begining a full scale deployment. It's an incremental deployment. The next step will be increasing the power levels for the transmitted digital component and ibiquity is lobbying heavily for that now. Watch and see.

Perhaps we'll see the day of an R8B copy for a few hundred dollars? But then again the Eton E1 is around $500. I look forward to seeing the RP3000 arrive. Anyone heard of a price tag for the RP3000?

I think I said something like "slight edge". That series is best viewed as four very similar radios with each subsequent one offering a small improvement. Whether you listen to LW or not isn't the issue.
The capability of the radio was improved, if slightly.

Yes, thats true. But in my experience a trickle charge provides a more complete charge than a quick 90 minute.

Probably using the current chip design. Which is still not saying much.

Supposedly they're still working on a second generation design. Maybe they should have waited a bit more till the receivers were perfected before rolling this stuff out on the consumer market.

Oh it will go away all right, but not until it has insured, once and

It's part of the IBOC signal. If you have selectable single sideband listen to any HD AM station, one sideband only; you'll hear it quite clearly. It's a warbling signal at approx. 400 Hz.

A Beverage is a specific kind of long wire, generally wavelength or multiples, which can operate well low off the ground (MW Beverages are often on sticks in the ground) and is grounded at one end and end, not center, fed. Like other antennas, they can be used in multiples to create directional patters and "moving" directionality by means of a phasor.

I was not speaking of other stations. Our station cluster in LA spent about 10 times more on one single broadcast studio than it did to put HD on all 5 of our transmitters. Heck, the studio lights in that studio cost more than the HD on KRCD.

No, there was no cash spent. Each member committed to giving a certain VALUE in ad time to HD promotion on its own stations. There is no out of pocket cost in giving your own time to a particular purpose.

1. Receptor is not a portable.He says it it.
2. He lied about HD Alliance ad expenditure
3. He is clueless about cost of going HD vs. normal engineering capital

My first CD player was crap.... and cost $1400. I can say that about nearly every totally new product. Early XM and Sirius receivers were vastly less

Are you obsessive-compulsive - here we go again! It is up to consumers to determine the fate of HD Radio - period:

"4/4/07 - FCC: Market to Decide Fate of HD Radio"

http://www.diymedia.net/archive/0407.htm

There is zero consumer interest in HD Radio - period:

http://hdradiofarce.blogspot.com/2007/09/interest-in-hd-radio-remains-flat.html

There are indications that HD Radio is failing and will disappear - period:

Yes, but that wasn't the comparision. How much had been spent on HD radio content compared to how much had been spent on IBOC hardware?

And, to get to the point, there would have been good promotional value if the HD radio early adoptors had something special to listen to, and maybe brag about.

HD radio won't get many more chances to make a good first impression.

But people have to at least hear the radios to appreciate any difference.
The market for "crystal clear" simulcasts at high prices is obviously and predictably small. Better radios at lower prices and worthwhile HD radio programming would have sold plenty more radios.

Not to say that I have any idea if such a rollout would have been worth it.
The idea of putting more channels on the air without a corresponding increase in overall listenership and advertising revenues seems problematical to me but I'm just some guy with a radio, hearing the damn noise nobody listens to.

The ads were on the air and from the radio buying public's point of view, it doesn't matter how they were paid for.

The promotions are being dropped by stations at end-of-year because they were ineffectual because consumers don't give an ass's shit about HD Radio:

"HD Radio Marketing: Change is Coming"

"The date is no surprise. It was a 2-year deal. It ends in January.I agree it's time to re-assess. The problem with the licensing plan is two very different groups with different agendas pay the fee. Which is why neither is happy. Broadcasters pay for the encoder, and they're not happy with the radios, and electronics manufacturers pay for the decoder, and they're not happy with anything. They see no demand, and therefore, no return on their investment.I think the best bet is for everyone to walk away at the end of this deal, and leave iBiquity to think about what went wrong."

"Maybe the date is no surprise to you, George. But the lack of renewal of that deal for a later date might be a surprise to some."

It's too late - consumers do not buy radios anymore, cell phone companies will not be interested in HD Radio because of WiFi/WiMAX, and automakers are not interested in HD Radio.

True - there are more than enough AM/FM stations without the need for simulcasting.

According to iBiquity it is.

Well, that's not what any of your station managers are saying. You'd better confer with them and report back.

According to the HD Alliance, vast amounts of money were spent.

David - My Point Is - I Am Hearing This With An "HD" Radio :

THIS IS BAD NEWS FOR "HD" AM/MW RADIO LISTENERS !

I am hearing more and more of what we use to call Automotive Engine {Ingition} Noise {at very High RPM} with the Radi-Osophy HD-100 Radio.

THIS IS BAD NEWS FOR "HD" AM/MW RADIO BROADCASTERS !

When I first got this "HD" Radio this Noise was not as noticeable -but- now it is the 'preponderant' sound across
the AM/MW Band except when there is a Clean and Clear Analog AM/MW Radio Station to listen to on any given Frequency.

-NOTE- This HD Radio "Noise" Background is so strong
that IMHO most 2nd and 3rd Generation "HD" Radios
should have a Squelch Knob to quiet-out this Noise so that a Radio Listener only has to hear those 'local'
AM/MW Radio Stations with a Clean and Clear Signal :
Be it Analog or Digital.

=IMHO=

The Grundig Satellit 800 Millennium AM-Sync was OK and better that the Icom IC-R75's AM-Sync after the Kiwa Mod.

The Eton E1 Radio's AM-Sync [DSB + Selectable USB & LSB]
was better than both of them; and better than the Sony AM-Syncs.

So the trick of the Chinese Radio Manufactures is to 'copy' the Eton E1 Radio's AM-Sync and produce it in large numbers of Radios to make AM-Sync a standard feature of many AM/FM Shortwave Radios priced in the # 3 Level of Chinese made Radios
Low Price Level # 1 : $15 ~ $45 USD
Moderate Price Level # 2 : $50 ~ $150 USD
High Price Level # 3 : $160 ~ $480 USD
Very High Price Level # 4 : Above ~ $500 USD

It doesn't have to be grounded at one end, though it can be, to reduce reception off the back end of the wire. In that case the ground should be at the end reception is desired from.

The longer the wire (in wavelengths) the greater the gain and the greater the directionality with respect to the direction(s) the wire is running.

A lot of stations simply beileve having the manin analog channel content available in digital is a good gain, which is why less than half the HD staitons have inititiated HD2 broadcasts.

Those of us who have some HD2 content have spent lots more on content... our Tejano network on HD2 in Texas speands more on talent in a month than the cost of each conversion.

In some areas, the digital ability to reduce multipath is worth a great deal.

Personally, I don't think the HD Alliance campaign is very good... it's about the creative more than the content. There are plenty of opportunities to find classical, jazz and other non-duplicated formats on HD2's... country in NY being a good example.

I think the justification is in avoiding erosion to other media... yes, it will fragment the audience, but it the end result is to keep existing listeners on terrestrial radio, the fragmentation is a small cost.

Yes, we agree here. But the earlier comments indicated that money was spent... it was not. And, again, I thought the campaigns have failed to do anything to make HD appealing. But I am not in the HD Alliance, so my opinion is worth about what it costs to read it....

The HD Alliance has NOTHING to do with iBiquity itself. It is a group of broadcasters... like the RAB... that further a common goal. In this case, the goal is to get people to notice something the member stations are doing. The Alliance has nothing to do with receiver sales, receiver design, encoders, licensing agreements, etc.

It's a portable in the same sense that a 13" or 19" AC-powered television sets have been called "portable" in sales literature and advertisements. Maybe something you can carry from room to room, but still have to plug into a light socket, as opposed to a console that is placed in one spot in the room..

But I agree, David, that's not my definition of portable. More like TRANSportable.

Give me a break. It is one roughly 10" by 5" by 6" box, with a power cord, connected to a half size box with the second speaker via a cable. The battery in it is to hold memory on the clock and presets, and does not run the radio. Together, the two boxes weigh about 4 to 5 lbs.

For FMs, the cost of conversion in a top 100 market as a percentage of the technical budget is small. For AMs that are viable, the same applies.

Everything released says that the chip will be lower cost, and nothing says

You'd better tell that to the HD Alliance. Sounds like they're going

No, it was just the cost of wanting new technology when it was in its infancy....no oversampling, intolerance to surface errors, etc.

Early color TVs sucked and cost about $3000 2007 dollars. But as they evolved, they got better... it took about 15 years, too.

This is incorrect. Samsung expects the chip to be very costly.

I have a Receptor HD right here on my desk. It is anything but portable. It is a tabletop radio. It can't run off batteries, as it has none except a penlight to hold clock memory in power failures.

What characterizes a weak battery is that it takes on a high voltage (like 1.4 volts) in a minute or so in the charger. That means that much of the battery isn't very engaged in the process of soaking up energy. A trickle charge isn't going to help it.

The charger in fact will declare it charged pretty fast, as it has in fact gotten as charged as it is going to get.

I'm trying refresh cycles now. I have various smart chargers; the La Crosse one has them at the moment.

Idiot - you are as stuoid as Eduardo! Stations have NOT been mandated to go just digital. Only 1500 stations are broadcasting in HD and ther eis no, and will not be a cut-off date for analog.

Because of power consumption and hte requirement for special antennas, ther will never be successful portable HD Radio - plus, consumers won't buy them.

No, they don't. The radio is not portable, and can not run off battery

Saw one at my neighborhood Radio Shack this past Sunday. I was able to "force" it to go HD on AM 77 (WABC), provided I turned the radio a certain way.

I was unsuccessful with the other IBOC station transmitting that day (WOR -710). Both WFAN and WCBS were doing ball games, so they turn the HD off.

The radio wasn't able to pick up a single FM station (in either analog or digital mode) inside the store. ANd yes, I made sure that the chintzy wire dipole in the back was plugged in properly.

- My wife says I am no longer a SWL but a RFI fighter.

- Details for my RFI sniffing loops
- and the "B-filed" loop used by Chuck, W1HIS,
- can be found at the yahoo groups stopRFI page.

That would be the "STOP RFI" Group on Yahoo !
<http://groups.yahoo.com/group/stopRFI/>

STOP RFI => http://groups.yahoo.com/group/stopRFI/

- I hope to expand this piece and include a generalised set
- of diagrams of that will be safer then my LISN and the mods
- I made to allow measurment of "differential mode" (DM) and
- "common mode" (CM) noise.
- Reducing DM noise at the source will prevent it from

- being converted into to CM noise.
- This is the most important leason I have learned.
- DM, by itself, is a minor problem.
- CM is the real RFI problem.
- More data can be found at
- <http://www.ce-mag.com/99ARG/Gubish31.html.bak>.

RH,

Have you tried doing a Complete Discharge of the questionable Batteries ?

Place a Bent Paper Clip for 5 Minutes across each of the used Batteries
before putting them into the Charger.

Tip - Place the Discharging Batteries on an old Ceramic Plate.

Warning - The Paper Clips can get very HOT {Fire Danger}

Caution - Let the Paper Clips cool down before removing them.

We used to use 1/2" Wide by 1/16" Bent Copper Strips to do this with Ni-Cads before recharging them.

hope this helps ~ RHF

Hmmm - that title sounds a bit like the first Twilight Zone episode!

Since the new moderated group was created (whose mission was to improve communication and raise the bar on decency over the Policy group), everyone seems to have disappeared. The moderated group is virtually dead, containing primarily bulletins from Amateur groups around the world and the odd post hare and there....and the Policy group has degenerated into a "Mark vs the World" quagmire - quite unfortunately for Mark.

With the exception of Dave Heil, who pops up from behind the ramparts here occasionally to take a well placed shot at his old nemesis Mr.
Wiseman, no one seems to be left from the old crowd who regularly discoursed in this group. Even N2EY's regular "ARS Numbers" posts seem to have vanished into oblivion.

Dee, Kim, and the rest of the old regulars on the group? Hope all is well!

They went to gav's place.

Excellent. Continue to do so... as opposed to bitching at me just because somebody crossposted

Couple of hours ago, skinny twin sister, she said to me, Your yard looks like s..t, sir! (she was in her kitchen, she said, look at the new kitchen floor I put down) Then she called me a dumbass at the same time she was dialing her cell phone she always keeps glued to her ear.I was over there because one of those boys she pays to mow her yard, he was in my front yard, running her gas engine weed trimmer.What if he fell down on that gas engine weed trimmer? his parents would be wanting to sue me! She said they were bored and looking for something to do.I don't run some kind of an entertainment place over here.My yard is my yard, I will mow my yard when I feel like it.I didn't tell her so, but when she is working at that Shell Ram Powell off shore oil rig (two weeks on, two weeks off) 80 miles South of Mobile,Alabama, she might as well get somebody else to step over there to her snail mail box by the side of the road and get her snail mail and hold it for her untill she gets back.Last week, she said she is going to sell her house (next door to me) and move back to Galveston,Texas, probally in December of this year.(somewhere near Galveston, the place has a spanish looking name) As far as I am concerned, she can't move back to Texas fast enough!

HD TV according to a recent article in Hearing Loss Magazine does not support Closed Captioning very well. Even though the FCC has mandated twice that all new televisions MUST run closed captioning. I think the television manufacturers are more concerned with getting the product out there than with making sure they meet FCC regulations.

My old Ericsson cell phone came with a charger thingy, take the battery off of the cell phone and put the battery on the charger thingy and plug it into a wall outlet.That old NiMH cell phone battery would not take a charge at all.Stay away from Lion batteries, they are dangerous, they will burn your house down, if they don't burn your laptops up first.Such things have happened before.

I see, so what you are saying is that it took them 4 freaking times to get it right. That raises the question of just how good this 4th generation is going to be.

iBiquity, with the nth generation HD chip set, which expires in six months.

No, it took FCC approval of the system for the genuine developers to be interested. The original chipsets were as close to a prototype as you can get and still sell to the public.

In all likelihood, dxAss has never put up a true MW Beverage, or gone on an AM DXpedition where one builds one or more of an afternoon, hopes the local vertebrates don't knock it down or eat it, and then rolls it up in the morning after 10 or 12 hours of non stop DX.

I do not need to understand the industry as a whole to understand the reports that the investors in iBiquity receive regarding the developments in chip development, receiver manufacturer interest, etc. Any individual in any business at some point has to rely on trustworthy sources of data as it is impossible to know all the details of every service, technology or process we buy, hire, rent, use or are dependent on.

I doubt Jack Welch did GE's taxes while he was CEO and I am sure he did not insert blades in jet turbines. His success was finding the best people to do those things under his direction.

I've known some fine DXers who could not open a receiver ant tell if it was hollow state or solid state; they trusted a good manufacturer and the advice of fellow DXers... they had no need to know.

There is plenty of data if you happen to be an investor in iBiquity. On the other had, there is no data about a more expensive Samsung chip and considerable data on it being smaller, having lower power consumption and being much less expensive than the current short production run chips. I don't think you need to be told to go Google it....

OK then, it took them 4 times just to get FCC approval. It does not sound like they are very interested to me or they would have got it

Great let me straighten you out then. It costs big bucks to develop the ASIC. The more you sell of those ASICS the sooner you recover the costs and start making a profit. If you don't sell many you have to charge a higher price. That is a little over simplified but you should get the drift of it.

So, the chips will start out expensive and HD will half to take off big time for the price to drop... over time.

Wow, you really know how to blow it out your butt.

I've been to and posted the link to the Semi manufacture press news link. Semi manufactures usually don't keep progress on new product development since they like to show off their new products. That's what the link is for, press releases about new product development. No press releases mean no development.

New product is expensive until large quantities are sold so the development cost is amortized over larger numbers of the devices.

Samsung itself plans to use the chips in various product lines, as well as selling to third party manufacturers. The reason none of thebig fabs entered the market earlier is that with fewer stations (now 1500 covering nearly every viable top 100 market station) and no FCC approval, the volumes they needed would not be met.

That is not even an interesting catch. Many of the LW stations could be used as indicators of conditions favoring low band MW European DXing when more of the LW stations existed. When the LW stations were exceptionally strong, you could look for things like Lisbon on 655 that would indicate a good trans-Atlantic path.

Proven by various, highly-respected U.S. TV and Radio programs as being 100% legal, feasible and true.
Oprah Winfrey and ABC's investigation team 20/20 also prove it can be done.
For a simple investment of 15-30 minutes and just $6, it is 100% worth it to make thousands so quickly.

>From PayPal:

"Dear Member, it has come to our attention that there is a paypal investing opportunity floating around at the moment you may have heard or seen the $6 investment. You may have even taken part in it. Well we have been asked a lot of questions about this investment the answer is yes it does work and yes it is safe to use providing you follow the rules it is legal and has made a big hit on the internet this year. If you would like to take part in this scheme or would like a bit more information then please see the attached file that was kindly donated to us. Thank you for using PayPal!"
Turn $6 into $15,000 in only 30 days...here's how! - revealed to you in step-by-step detail.
I found this on a bulletin board and decided to try it:
Make Money with your Paypal account as shown on Oprah!
"A little while back, I was browsing through news groups and came across an article similar to this that said you could make thousands of dollars within weeks with only an initial investment of $6.00!
So I thought, "Yeah right, this must be a scam", but like most of us, I was curious, so I kept reading. Anyway, it said that you send only $1.00 to each of the 6 email addresses stated in this article.
You then place your name and address at the bottom of the list at the 6th position and email it to your friends as well as post this message

(with your email address in the list) to at least 200 newsgroups.
(There are thousands)
So after thinking it over, and talking to a few people first, I thought about trying it. I figured "what have I got to lose except $6.00, right?"
So I invested the measly $6.00
Well GUESS WHAT!!
Within days, I started getting money coming into my Pay Pal account!
I was shocked!
I figured it would end soon, but the money just kept coming in.
In my first week, I made about $25.00, which means that 25 people joined the group after they saw my posted messages.
By the end of the second week I had made a total of over $1000.00!
In the third week I had over $10,000.00 and it's still growing.
This is now my fourth week and I have made a total of just over $42,000.00
and it's still coming in rapidly.
It's certainly worth $6.00, and the few minutes it took to join Paypal.
I have spent more than that on the lottery!
Let me tell you how this works and most importantly, why it works.
Also,
make sure you print a copy of this article
NOW, so you can get the information off of it, as you need it.
I promise you that if you follow the directions EXACTLY, that you will start making more money than you thought possible by doing something so easy!
SUGGESTION:
Read this entire message carefully!
Follow the simple directions and watch the money come in, it's that easy!
It's legal. And, your investment is only $6.00.
AGAIN, PLEASE NOTE:
Follow these directions EXACTLY, and $20,000 or more can be yours in
to 6
weeks.
This program remains successful because of the honesty and integrity of the participants. Please continue its success by carefully adhering to the instructions. In this business your product is not solid and tangible,
it's a service. You are in the business of developing Mailing Lists. Many large corporations are happy to pay big bucks for quality lists. However,

the money made from the mailing lists is secondary to the income, which is made
from people like you and me asking to be included in that list.
Here are the 3 easy steps to success:
REQUIREMENTS:
You must have a verified PayPal account. If you do not have an account,
take a few minutes to join Paypal FREE: www.paypal.com
Paypal is 100% secure and is used by millions of people worldwide.
The Internet's most trusted Internet banking system for your future income.
When creating your Paypal account make sure you use the same Email address
as your user name in the list below so people can send money to your account.
STEP 1
Once you have a Paypal account running, use Paypal to pay $1 to EACH
of the 6 Email Addresses below because you pay people with an email address in Paypal.
FOLLOW THESE EASY STEPS:
1. Log in to PayPal. Go to SEND MONEY tab.
2. Type in Recipients name: (Email address)
Subject:: "EMAIL LIST"
Category:"SERVICE"
Comments: "PLEASE ADD ME TO YOUR EMAIL LIST".
3. Next screen: CHECK PAYMENT DETAIL - Select "NO SHIPPING ADDRESS REQUIRED"
4. Send Money.
THAT'S IT. YOU'RE DONE!!
What you are doing is creating a service.
THIS IS ABSOLUTELY LEGAL!
You are requesting a legitimate service and you are paying for it!
Send $1.00 to EACH of these Email addresses:
1) stitchqueen13@hotmail.com
2) whokeyad@yahoo.com
3) rross34@aol.com
4) mlrobinson1@mchsi.com
5) ejfern16@comcast.net
6) holida0255@sbcglobal.net
STEP 2
Now,... AFTER paying $1.00 to each of the email addresses above, take
the #1
Email Address off the list, move the other Email Addresses up (6 becomes 5, 5 becomes 4, etc.) and add

Your Email
Address as number 6 on the list.
STEP 3
Keep this article as close to the original as possible.
Post this article to at least 200 newsgroups (there are thousands of groups).
And email your message to as many people you can. Remember, the more you
post and email the more money you make!

HOW TO POST TO NEWSGROUPS & MESSAGE BOARDS
Step #1)
You do not need to re-type this entire letter to do your own posting.
Simply put your CURSOR at the beginning of this letter and drag your CURSOR to the bottom of this document, and select 'copy' from the edit menu. This will copy the entire letter into your computer's temporary memory.
Step #2)
Open a blank 'Notepad' file and place your cursor at the top of the blank page. From the 'Edit' menu select 'Paste'. This will paste a copy of the letter into notepad so that you can add your email to the list.
Step #3)
Save your new Notepad file as a .txt file. If you want to do your postings
in different sittings, you'll always have this file to go back to.
Step #4)
Use Netscape or Internet Explorer and try searching for various newsgroups,
on-line forums, message boards, bulletin boards, chat sites, discussions,
discussion groups, online communities, etc. EXAMPLE: go to any search engine
like yahoo.com, google.com, altavista.com, excite.com - then search
with subjects like millionaire message board? or money making message board? or opportunity message board? or money making discussions? or business bulletin board? or money making forum? etc. You will find thousands & thousands of message boards. Click them one by one then you will find the option
post

a new message.
Step #5)
Visit these message boards and post this article as a new message by highlighting the text of this letter and selecting 'Paste' from the 'Edit' menu. Fill in the Subject, this will be the header that everyone sees as they scroll thru the list of postings in a particular group, click the post
message button. You're done with your first one! Congratulations!
REMEMBER, THE MORE NEWSGROUPS YOU POST IN, THE MORE MONEY YOU WILL MAKE!!
BUT YOU HAVE TO POST A MINIMUM OF 200!
That is it!
PLEASE REMEMBER
This program remains successful because of the honesty and integrity of the participants and by their carefully adhering to the directions.
You are simply paying into a money making chain of participants and if
the
chain is broken you are screwing someone else out of their fair share.
So, as each person who joins the family and the directions are followed, six members will be reimbursed for their participation as a List Developer with
one dollar each.
You then insert your Email Address into the list and it will move up geometrically.
So that when your name reaches the #1 position you will have potentially received thousands of dollars into your account!!!
JUST MAKE SURE ALL THE ADDRESSES ARE CORRECT.
Now the WHY part out of 200 postings:
Say I receive only 5 replies (a very low example).So then I made $5.00
with my name at #6 on the letter.Each of the 5 persons who just sent me $1.00 make the MINIMUM 200 postings, each with my name at # 5 and only 5 persons respond to each of the original 5, this is an additional $25.00 for me.
Now those 25 each make 200 minimum posts with my name at #4 and only 5 replies each. This brings in an additional $125.00. Those 125 persons turn around and post the MINIMUM 200 with my name at #3 and receive 5 replies

each, I will make an additional $625.00. Oh, now here is the FUN part,
each of those 625 people post a MINIMUM of 200 letters with my name at #2 and they receive 5 replies each. That just made me $3,125.00!!!
Those 3125 persons will all deliver this message to 200 newsgroups with my name at #1 and if still 5 persons per 200 react, I will receive an additional $15,625.00!!
With an investment of only $6.00!!

5468. Question for Tardo

Hey Tardo, on that rather sad exercise in narcissism that you call your "website", you say you spent some time in college-level journalism seminars at Michigan State University, and you display an image of something that LOOKS like a diploma, but which you refer to as a "certificate of achievement".

So did you graduate from Michigan State with an actual degree? If so, why don't you come out and say it? If not, why would you bother, after all these many years, to roll out your ultimately insignificant "certificate of achievement"? Inquiring minds want to know...

Of course, no one suggested that it is possible to know all the details of every service, technology, etc. Are you just talking to yourself?

This is very hard to believe. You're trying way too hard.

It was a summer course of study, not a 4 year program. Lots of colleges offer them for students looking for advanced placement later.

No. The session was for advanced High School students with some jounalism experience, like being a school paper editor. Like many such courses, they were a good introduction to college level studies and very useful towards acceptance at another college, often for advanced placement.

The spectrum the shows up on my radio now is much different than that described in the web sites a year or so back. From two sidebands, 10 kHz wide, at +/- 15-25 kHz, now reduced down to 5 kHz wide at +/- 10-15 kHz.

If they're changing it that much, no manufacturer is going to commit to loading firmware into a bunch of chips if they'll have to scrap them in 6 months.

I can just hear the marketing rep at the semi company.
"You changed it. AGAIN?".

I wonder if Retardo ever has done anything with MW DX or Longwave reception. Or is he just spouting his trap again about the virtues of IBOC. By the way, Eduardo/Frackelton or whatever your name may be, exactly when have you done anyting regarding LW DX or even MW DX. I'm not talking about listening to a few clear channel stations regularly available in the US.

I'm talking about putting a Drake R8 in line and then a 1000-2000 foot Beverage. I had an R8 for many years and regularly heard stations on SW from very small stations all over the world. Not to mention many of the major LW stations from Europe and North Africa. Been there and done that many times for years prior when I had more time to devote to the hobby.

Now when you can pull out the 150 khz and up area with what you have done, you can come tell me Eduardo. I might even give you dog biscuit.

I was a member of the NRC from 1958 or 59 (First club was DXers Radio Club in '58) through 2005. Founding member of the IRCA and on the first BOD. Member NZDXA in 60's. Current member of MWC. From Ohio, about 2200 stations verified on MW (87 countries, 50 states), from Ecuador over 200 US stations verified, from AZ over 250 Mexican AMs verified. Currently have R8, R-75 and TenTec 350 at three locations in CA and AZ. On trip through Central America and Norhtern South America in 1963, obtained over 200 veries for NRC and IRCA members. Published the SACCA log of all Latin American AM stations for NRC / IRCA in 1963. Receivers were Trans Oceanic, SX 99, HQ180, R390 (several), NRD 525 and then the current ones.

I ran well documented DX tests on my HCRM1 570 (moved to 565 for the tests) and HCFV1 on 805 from Quito between 1965 and 1968. Many DXers have veries from the tests. Also did tests on HCEG1 when it moved to 5 kw on 855, before I had my own stations to mess with.

Best catches from Ohio, late 50s and early 60's, documented in DX News include:

Salta, Argentina 830 5kw
Guayaquil, Radio Vistazo, 995.
Ramey AFB PR 780 50 watts
Montevideo, 1090 10 kw
Rotorua, NZ 1000 10 kw

I never had land for a permanent Beverage, but did several temporary ones, the nicest being on the desert near Salinas, PR aimed at deep South America (70's) and the next best being on the flat plain to the NW of the Cotopaxi (15,000 feet AMSL) in Ecuador several times in the late 60's. Most MW DXing was with a Sanserino Loop... good enough to hear Caaguaz&#65533; 645 nightly from Paraguay from an apartment in Hato Rey, PR in the ealy 70's.

It goes back to my criticizing the DX community, an earned right, for becoming anti radio instead of the traditional radio devotees that earlier typified the hobby. To feel good, a few here need to discredit me to justify their hatred of broadcasters who, at the end of the day, benefit not a bit from DXers today.

Yep, just now sent a post lamenting how DXers used to be radio fans. Now they are declared enemies of the broadcasters and are, in a considerable percentage, radio haters. You should see some of the reception reports AMs get these days. The ones that are not lies often have demands for a "QSL" as if most radio broadcasters knew what a QSL or QRM or SINPO even mean.

Dear President Mahmound Ahmadineja:

On behalf of the American people I would like to sincerely apologize for the insulting manner that you have been treated by the American media and leadership.

As a Head of State and guest in our country you deserved to be treated with respect and courtesy. Instead you were met with derision and insults premised upon lies.

Consequently the image of United States of America as arrogant, ignorant and extremely dangerous is yet again confirmed on the world stage.

Once again, please accept our profound apologies to you and the Iranian people.

Respectfully,

Not everyone sees it that way. The DX-150A was an improvement over the 150, but then cost-cutting and marketing kicked in as they began to use ICs, remove the internal speaker, make the knobs plastic push-on instead of machined aluminum with a set screw, etc.

It's not always true that subsequent models in a series are better, and a lot of people feel that the 150A is the one to have in this series.

Yes, and a pretty minor thing, but it did result in something that looks a lot like a diploma. In fact, it looks so much like a diploma that you could reasonably expect a good proportion of visitors to your anyone can criticize the DX community if they want to.

Who are the non-traditional devotees that, in your mind, today typify
'the hobby'?

No, Tardo, If I want to 'feel good', I'll just create a biographical website showing the whole world all of the little gold stars I received on my elementary school report cards.

And nope, I don't hate broadcasters who happen not to benefit from my Dxing. Nor do I hate carpenters or plumbers or tax attorneys who fail to benefit from my DXing. Why should my DXing benefit anyone other than me? It is, after all, a hobby, not a charity.

Every one of those radios were low-end entry level models that would do passable job of catching signals if you could put up with drift, inaccurate dial, modest selectivity, image signals and somewhat harsh audio.

There isn't a radio around that is not subject to heavy marketing, so I don't see your point.

So what. Welcome to the world of modern electronics. Should we critizize the many top-end shortwave receivers of today because they use IC's as well? Can you imagine the forest of soldered in discreete components if we didn't use IC's? And can you imagine the cost?

No big deal on a budget consumer shortwave radio because it works and

This series of radios was, indeed, entry level. Some would say they were below that. At the time, they were relatively inexpensive, reasonably well made, and when you turned them on, they made a sound. For a lot of hobbyists, that was enough. And for them, this series of radios was a benchmark of performance. Truth is, for most people who bought these radios, they were the most radio they'd ever owned. And pinnacles of serious listening hardware.

Just as some models are, today.

Then there were the hot rodders, who could modify them enough to make them sing and dance with some of the mid level Hallicrafters.

For those of us who grew up on S-40's, the RS DX series was a nice step laterally. Better cosmetics. Smaller footprint. Often more features. And this alone was enough to think of them as a step-up.

But for those raised on HQ's and their like, these were nice rigs to give beginners with the hopes that they would spark an interest in the hobby, and an interest in better radios.

Which, they did.

The DX series were those radios that everyone remembers, and everyone has an opinion of. And most everyone left behind fairly early on. They served their purpose by putting reliable, working radios in the hands of beginners at a price point.

To those who went on and left them behind, the debate over the rise and decline of the line is almost surreal.

Your post is quite funny in light of the fact that, when Ahmadinejad was at Columbia, he insisted that there are no homosexuals in Iran. The audience couldn't contain its laughter.

Before Ahmadinijad spoke, I had a lot of sympathy with people who said that Columbia was making a big mistake by letting him speak on its campus. However, I now think they did the right thing. Ahmadinijad made himself appear utterly bizarre and devoid of reason, and it wasn't just Columbia University watching but the entire world. I guarantee you that, if he ever visits the US again, he will not accept an invitation to speak at Columbia or any comparable university.

Hi,
The following is from:
Agilent AN 1287-2
Exploring the Architectures of Network Analyzers.
I don't know the exact reason of limited dynamic range of scalar network analyzer. That is, why the scalar will the fundamental frequency signal (one-half the frequency of the filter passband). Is it because the impairment (i.e. IP3?) of wideband amplifier of scalar network analyzer? Could you explain it to me? Thanks in advance.

In fact, the broadband, diode-detection-based response of the scalar network analyzer shows a false signal below the filter passband, created by a harmonic of the test signal. When a harmonic of the test tone falls within the passband of the filter (for example, when the source frequency is one-half the frequency of the filter passband), the analyzer will register a response even though the filter's stopband is severely attenuating the fundamental test tone. Such a spurious response is effectively filtered by the narrow IF passband of the tuned receiver.

I guess that does say that most broadcasters are ignorant of what traditional radio was all about since QSLs were a pretty solid part of the hobby since the earliest years before the corporate boards deemed the consumer largely irrelevant. As they do today. Seeing the general lack of education in US society, one must wonder if even the station staff or engineers would even know much about any of the traditions of radio.

You should, then, ask yourself why most radio broadcasting folks who have come in contact with DXers believe that the DXers are the odd ones; it was not so a decade or two ago, and even further back, the DXer was perceived as a friend of radio. No longer so.

Yeah, it is a great deal. Loads of cash flow, low debt to equity ratio, great asset values.

No, "verifications of reception" were common. Few AM and FM radio folks know what a QSL card is. AM DXers collect "veries" and not QSLs.

In most cases, they are irrelevant to today's broadcast environment where the competiton is new media, no an out of town skywave delivered signal

Actually, CCU ran up to just under $90 before the dot-com crash. As it was a media stock, it came down as hard as the Silicon Valley issues..... deserving or not.

Something like a third of the NASDAQ issues traded in 1999 are still below half their pre-crash values.

FORD TO MAKE HD DIGITAL RADIO AVAILABLE ACROSS NEARLY ALL PRODUCT LINES
* Dealer-installed option available nationwide on nearly every 2008 model year Ford, Lincoln and Mercury vehicle
* HD Digital Radio™ can be installed on most currently-owned vehicles built in model years 2005, 2006 and 2007
* Ford's high-definition radio strategy builds on company's effort to be among the industry's leaders in delivering new automotive entertainment technologies

DEARBORN, Mich., Sept., 26, 2007 - Ford Motor Co. today became the first automaker to offer HD Digital Radio across multiple product lines. The dealer-installed high-definition radio option is now available nationwide on nearly all 2008 model year Ford, Lincoln and Mercury vehicles. Additionally, HD Digital Radio can be installed on many earlier models from 2005, 2006 and 2007. As with SYNC, the extensive availability of HD Digital Radio furthers the company's ongoing efforts to deliver new entertainment technologies to automotive consumers.

"We believe HD Digital Radio will be an important part of Ford's commitment to delivering innovations with mass appeal," said Kim Irwin, Vehicle Personalization and Accessories manager for Ford's Customer Service Division. "We're helping our customers stay connected by supporting the features and functions they want in their vehicles. The dramatically improved audio, text and data features of HD Digital Radio - along with its hundreds of new radio stations - create a compelling combination at the right price."

HD Digital Radio dramatically increases the sound quality of radio broadcasts and enables more than one radio broadcast on a single channel. As a result, consumers hear a wide range of new HD2 multicast stations as well as their favorite radio stations in crystal clear digital sound with no monthly subscription fee. More than 1500 radio stations in the U.S. currently broadcast in HD digital sound, with more than 600 stations also airing HD2 multicasts.

HD Radio joins other new technologies - including SYNC - being offered in Ford, Lincoln and Mercury vehicles to make driving more enjoyable and convenient than ever before. Beginning immediately, HD Digital Radio will be available as a dealer-installed option on new, pre-owned and currently-owned vehicles. Price points will vary by dealership but, as always, HD Radio broadcasts carry no monthly subscription fee.

"Drivers have always had a love affair with their car radios," added Irwin. "HD Radio offers our dealers a triple threat: It differentiates their offerings from other brands; it lets them upgrade customer entertainment systems in a unique way; and it lets buyers of recent pre-owned vehicles as well as current vehicle owners share completely in the benefits. This is the kind of program that our dealers love to see."

To support the launch, Ford, Lincoln and Mercury dealers will benefit from an aggressive, multi-million-dollar, 13-week, on-air radio marketing campaign in partnership with the HD Digital Radio Alliance. The commercials will air in 100 markets over some 700 radio stations beginning on September 26, 2007.

"In all of our discussions with auto makers, Ford has consistently demonstrated both the will and the resolve to be industry leaders in this arena," said Peter Ferrara, president and CEO of the HD Digital Radio Alliance. "Now that HD Radio is broadcasting across hundreds of local stations nationwide, partners who move early will gain the biggest advantage."

The HD Digital Radio Alliance is a joint initiative of leading radio broadcasters to accelerate the successful rollout of HD Digital Radio. Current members include major radio groups and independent station owners: Beasley Broadcast Group, Bonneville International, CBS Radio, Citadel Broadcasting / ABC Radio, Clear Channel Radio, Emmis Communications, Entercom, Greater Media and WBEB Philadelphia. And the fact that they're not "radio fans" is clearly very upsetting to you, despite your occasional claims about how insignificant the DX community is. It's clearly significant enough to keep your panties in a twist.

Unless an engineer is a ham, and fewer and fewer are today, the knowledge of Q codes is limited. In the MW DX ranks, the terms are not used that often. But that assumes that a station engineer is going to get a reception report.

With most smaller market stations using contract outside engineering services, requests for verification of reception often go to managers, PDs, the receptionist, etc. It's highly unlikely that any among those ranks would know what a QSL is. And the contract engineers are paid a fee or by the hour; they don't, unless DXers themselves, answer reception reports.

In fact, if you look at the NRC "report form" going back decades, the "QSL" term is not used; the form requests a "verification that I received your station at my location."

Many of the Scandinavian DXers get this. Reports received by KTNQ from that part of the world use totally non-DX terms to explain their hobby as one of taking the challenge of catching stations at great distances and collecting proofs of such receptions.

It's a quirky business, where one lives quarter to quarter based on radio ratings in the larger markets and where a certain degree of controlled insanity makes for good programming and fun for listeners. It's not an insurance company, in other words.

There, you see. In any event, you were about to say something about

I'm not sure it matters much, but I dropped out of high school to build my 5534. Common Mode noise, some comments.

On of the main causes of "common mode" [CM] noise is "differential mode" [DM] noise that gets converted to into common mode noise.

There are two main means of conversion.

The least common but most powerful occurs when a device like a laptop is powered by the AC mains and is connected to a phone line or Ethernet cable. The noise from the power supply is coupled back on the AC mains and into the telephone or Ethernet line, and this forms a very effective unintentional antenna. Any device that is connected to the AC mains and any other conductor is very likely to be a source of significant common mode noise. This other conductor can be telephone, Ethernet, Coax Cable for DBS or CATV, or any other conductor. While we are used to thinking of antennas as needing to be an odd quarter wave length, effective antennas can in fact be much shorter. Ground leads approaching 1/20 f a wave length are effective radiators.

The most common conversion of DM to CM occurs due to the imbalance in the AC mains. I have looked at over 20 different brands of 3 conductor cable used for domestic residential wiring. Some of this is new and some dates back to cable that is at least 30 years old.

There are 3 main types:
Type 1: H-G-N arranged in a triangle with the ground between the hot and neutral.
Type 2: H-N-G arranged with the hot on one side, the neutral in the middle and the ground on the other outer side next to the neutral.
Type 3: The H and N run, more or less in parallel, with the ground weaving back and forth from one to the other.

At the start of this investigation I assumed the primary reason for DM to CM was caused by the interruption in what I had perceived "the natural balanced transmission characteristics" of AC power cords. I do accept that when the conductors that are nominally on 3/8" centers are spread for outlets, switches, light fixtures, and the mess inside a breaker panel, don't help the situation.

However it became apparent in some tests at a new home with all of the AC and other cables installed, but with no connection to the real world via power, telephone or CATV, that my original idea was flawed.

I now believe the primary cause is the extremely unbalanced "transmission line" effects caused by the ground conductor's relation ship to the purported balanced 2 conductor hot and neutral.

In a simple test last night an Electrician friend brought over a ~100' piece of Romax of the type 1 construction. We(he) laid it out on the surface of ground and I used a Balun to couple the Romax to my R2000 operating on battery power. I terminated the far end with a non inductive 120 Ohm resistor. When this experiment is performed using 2 conductor zip or speaker cable there is minimal reception of all but my local 770KHz MW pest. However with the Romex reception of even distant MW and HF signals was significant. Grounding the Romex "ground' conductor did not have a significant effect.

I suspect that if we could wire our homes with 2 conductor cable and run a separate grounding conductor we could reduce the conversion of DM to CM. Since the NEC would frown on such a scheme and because the costs would be extraordinary the only effective way to stop the conversion of DM into CM is to eliminate or at least reduce DM noise at the source.

I hope to put a more detailed version of this experiment along with the new house test results on Will's stopRFI page "some day real soon".

Why would building a #1 station in a market with 40 signals at age 18 require proving myself... again? And actually, I went back to school nearly a decade later and did quite nicely, while at the same time programming a

It's your behavior, so you tell me.

Perhaps you worked with people who didn't have sufficient appreciation of what you'd accomplished. Maybe they tried to use your lack of formal education against you in some petty, political way. Who knows?
This isolated piece of your personal history could have been subtly relevant on many occasions, the cumulative effect being the chip you now have on your shoulder.

Terry,

Insightful Report and a good read.

Alas, the NEC is all about Electrical Safety and not concerned about RFI Suppression.

I always thought that if I were having a Home Built and could do the Electrical Wiring myself. It would be better to use Type "AC" Wire through-out the House
http://homerenovations.about.com/od/electrical/a/artbxwire.htm
then the "NM" Plastic Covered Stuff.

Very interesting that Ford is not footing the bill for installation and that installation is done at point-of-sale. Ford is heavily promoting their new Sync option for the same $350. Still, this is not good news.

But you're constantly remarking that DXers are a very small group. It doesn't make sense that you'd be so obsessed with them if you truly regarded them as insignificant. It's funny actually. Earlier in this thread you said that "[t]o feel good, a few here need to discredit me to justify their hatred of broadcasters", but no one here has sought you out. You come to this group of your own volition, and a look at your profile reveals that you post more here than anywhere else by a wide margin. An interesting fact given that there are plenty of broadcasting-related groups out there. Sorry, but your behavior is not at all motivated by a "love of broadcasting". Nor does a love of broadcasting rationalize your bizarre, self-aggrandizing website, where readers find everything from your family history to the "certificate of accomplishment" you received from some summer program you participated in at Michigan State. People simply don't go to these lengths unless they're grappling with feelings of shame and inferiority. It's a pity you're unwilling to discuss them openly and honestly.

There is some thought that the soft steel of the armor flex type cables may hurt more then it helps. The spiral wrap is a real concern.
For some general research on conduit and transfer impedance please see:
<http://www.emcconsultinginc.com/docs/conduitse.PDF>

I have the url at home of a company that makes "Armor flex" that has a real tinned copper braid and is damn near RF proof.
I will dig it out and post it.

The electrician that I mentioned just completed a wiring contract where all the conduit was copper tubing.
Very Expensive! This was for a computer lab that I suspect deals with unusual data. There were three layers of screening, the EMC certification lab I worked at for a while only had 2!, and the AC mains go through more filters then I have ever seen.

I suspect the one reason why my common mode noise issue is so low is my ground ring. It offers a very low resistance/impedance to the earth. And at least one circuit in every room has a 6AWG aux bonding to the ground ring.

But I still think the best solution is to stop DM at the source.

I found the most important comment was the

Why would Ford even say yes to HD Radio as an after-thought - same

I know that Hyundai and Ford owned Jaguar are doing poorly, so I can see adding HD Radio out of desperation, but why would Ford proper need to have anything to do with HD?

How dare you.

The loss of love of Broadcasting by DXers is something that is, itself, a very late development. Most DXers didn't lose the love of broadcasting, until they were openly discounted, disrepected, and held in open contempt by broadcasters.

Something broadcasters, themselves, have been doing for far more than the handful of years that DXers have been responding with disdain to.

Broadcasters have been spitting in the face of DXers for at least 30 years that I can recall. Sometimes, one on one. Sometimes, as Mark Byford did at BBCWS, in mass media presentations, and in direct messages on his own radio stations.

Imagine the gall of a shortwave broadcaster telling his listeners, en masse, that his programming was intended for 'decision makers and opinion formers' and would be made preferentially available to them, while eliminating service to hundreds of millions of listeners at a stroke, because they simply weren't elite enough.

We're not talking about local radio, here. We're talking about a shortwave broadcaster. DX by design. With more than 120 million listeners worldwide. Told in no uncertain terms that they were of no importance, and not worth being served.

You think that may have something to do with loss of passion for broadcasting? It sure turned my radio dial in a hurry.

I've worked at radio stations where the engineers were not permitted to respond to listener reception reports because, and this is a quote by the GM, "They're not worth the postage." This was in 1977.

He's by far not exclusive in my work experience.

Something you've demonstrated for some months here, yourself.

You think that may have something to do with DXer disdain?

DXers have been enthusiasts for broadcasting until only a few years ago. They've stood by those who echo your sentiments for more than 20 years while being openly and personally dissed by Broadcasting.

How dare you display the temerity to imply that the problem is with DXers. Look within your own ranks. Why the hell would ANYONE remain loyal to an industry which speaks of them the way Broadcasting speaks of Dx...the way YOU speak of DX.

Fans don't leave without cause, David. Enthusiasm doesn't die. It's murdered.

The first slap in the face came from broadcaster themselves. Look in your own house before you dare point a finger at your listeners.

And Broadcasting has been holding that smoking gun for decades. YOU have pulled the trigger here, more times than I can count...in this thread alone.

How dare you.

You arrogant son of a bitch.

I've actually stored away my Quantum Loop because it's useless to me now, here on the East Coast. I feel bad for Gerry Thomas as IBOC is NOT going to be good for business.

For those old enough to remember, just a plain AM radio was a option on the new cars many years ago. Later, when an AM radio was standard equipment, an AM-FM radio was an option. It won't be long and HD radio will be standard equipment in all new cars.

Now Ford, Lincoln, Mercury, BMW, and Jaguar offer HD as an option on their 2008 line of vehicles. And the 2008 Hyundai Gensis will also offer it -- OR, as I have read, HD Radio in the Gensis may be STANDARD EQUIPMENT.

Too bad, IBOCcrock, you are spending half your life fighting a losing battle. Looks like all your stupid, uneducated predictions are going down the drain. HA! HA!

In broadcasting, after a few year's experience, accomplishments are what are evaluated, not degrees.

Yes, yes...and we saw your certificate of achievement from Michigan State, and we know you were editor of your school newspaper when you were a kid, and we know your dad was an investment banker....and we know you expend an incredible amount of time and energy trying to convince everyone of how impressive you are.

The broadcasters, particularly engineers, I have spoken with, find that DXers started becoming less pro-radio as AM quit being a music medium and lots of stations didniche formats like religion, ethnic, etc., or went talk with networked content on 600 affiliates.

Disagree. I think broadcasters have a greate deal of interest in local listeners, and spend more than ever to determine their likes and dislikes and overall preferences.

I know lots of broadcasters who caution talk hosts or programmers to ignore out of market listening of any kind, since the business model has moved away from taking such listeners into account as driven by advertisers.

And there are new SW broadcasters every week? SW is a good indication that the audience has moved on to better technologies.

And ever-declining. I looked at radio ratings in Ecuador in the late 60's when there were many, many SW stations. Never saw one, local or national or international even mentioned. The motive for SW, getting remote listeners, is better served (except in controlled nations) by the web and other options such as local broadcast of national or even foreign shows.

No, in the SW case, it is a loss of listener need for SW and its comparitively lower quality.

That sounds reasonable. More than the postage, it is the wasted time. As more and more stations became competitive in each market, doing useless things was closely monitored. 1977 was the year that nationally FM surpassed half of all listening.

Actually, in LA our DoE is a ham. The company let him put a 10 meter relay on our roof, in fact. And we answer valid reports. But for every one of those, we get a bunch that are fabrications... based on streaming listening or "I heard your station plesase QSL" and no RP.

Again, for a reason. Read AM (DX News, etc) publications and see the constant ragging about synidcated overnight shows, etc.

As a DXer, I am dismayed by the attitudes... when you have DXers in their public message boards calling companies "Cheap Channel" and "Idiotvision" it does not take much to write the whole community off.

DXers are not fans, today. And what used to be viewed as amusing is now viewed as annoying.

With more stations came tighter budgeting... and a lot of engineers with multiple stations to deal with... and these engineers are of a generation that does not know what DX is, and don't care.

We have been collectively pushed to the point of dismay by DXers... particularly the amount of totally fake reception reports that come in.

No, I did not. When I went back to school, I wanted to study what I thought useful and relevant, not a proscribed specialization or major with course requirements. I took everything from sociology and cultural anthropology to statistics, math and literature. I only took one broadcast course, in fact. I quit the university when a headhunter convinced me that running a radio group was going to be more productive than getting a degree the employer did not care one hoot about, anyway.

That's fine. I don't care about your career path, but you must realize that no one is going to be impressed by the GPA of a person who never crossed the finish line. That's like boasting that you once led the

Not the same. I am in a field where the ability to perform is measured, not the ability to complete classes. There are no degrees required in most positions, in fact. Except for entry level positions, educational background

If you look around, I think you'll find that this is true in most areas of business.

That's fine, and consistent with everything I said. The point is that, since education matters so little in your field, it's odd to see you crowing about your college GPA while conveniently failing to volunteer that you never graduated.

I have even spoken at industry seminars about the inapplicability of communications and broadcast courses of study, since they miss so much of the social sciences and the technical disciplines like math and statistics as well as the business courses needed in the business. I am proud to have created my own broadcast curriculum, even if would never have gotten me a degree.

I've met DX'ers, and Eduardo, you're no DX'er.

I just finished up the last part of my installation of the Eavesdropper trap dipole. The last coax run, the last connector soldered and everything hooked up and running.

Have to see how it really plays this season.

Actually it is good news for proponents of HD radio. That one major car maker is offering a dealer-installed HD radio will mean the others will do so to remain competitive. And in short order HD compatible radios will be standard equipment in new cars. Just as FM, tape cassette, CD, satellite radio and Ipod went from niche to standard equipment for providing in-vehicle entertainment.

How many credits at 'ASU'?

You've claimed in the past to have 140 college credits, and to have gone to 'college' in both Ecuador and Puerto Rico.

That's great...and consistent with everything I said. Since a formal education is so unimportant in your field, I'm sure you will no longer be tempted to boast about your GPA while failing to mention that you never graduated. Of course, that you boast about it at all suggests that it is, in your view, of some importance. And your failure to mention that you never graduated is, again, like someone's boasting that they once led the Boston Marathon while neglecting to mention that they led only for the first five seconds. You aren't doing yourself any favors today.

I have about 30 loose credits from PR and college credit training. I also have totally non-transferable credits from two universities in Ecuador. The point is that the total number is irrelevant, as they can not be combined for a degree and I have no interest in a degree...

It's pretty quiet. And reasonably flat across the SW broadcast bands.
But it does creditably across the ham bands, as well.

You'll find it better than a random wire except on the very lowest bands.

Education, whether via work experience, seminars, home study, or in a classrom is important. But at the end of the day, the value of a degree declines the further one is into a career where evaluations are made based on career, not academic success.

No, radio is relatively insecure because there is no such thing as tenure, and stations change format and staff quite constantly. Add to that the fact that progress is generally attained by moving from smaller to bigger markets, over and over, rather than within a single station, and you have plenty of instability. Did I mention most programming jobs are also very ratings-dependent and of limited security?

We'll see. Last time I had this antenna up was about 1990 or thereabout.

I oriented this one at about 150/330 degrees. Unfortunately at only 16' elevation at this time, but it seems to play fairly well. I do notice differences between it and my 70' and 200' wires.

I'll try to get my camera out (and re-learn how to use it!) and take some new pics.

Ah but in that case, since you are well beyond your school days, your GPA boasts make little sense. Either that or your formal education is more of an issue than you let on.

Correct. Yours was a sin of omission, not commission, but dishonest all the same--and still further evidence that you do not, after all, view formal education as of little importance for someone senior in your profession.

This doesn't distinguish radio from the vast majority of business

Radio is more like the rest of the entertainment business... you may do a sitcom for a season or two... and then not work for a year or more. There are just no guarantees, and progress is determined by moving up in market size in radio... most places there is no internal career path on the programming side. .

And this was BEFORE the trillions of $$$ the Iraq War will cost the taxpayers was factored in. Wonder how many of the patriotic old timers will reject their handouts for the good of the the country? Of course none will because they are hypocrites.

And one other thing - SURRENDER YOUR FUCKING DRIVERS LICENSES before any more of you senile assholes drives your car through another store front or school yard and blames it on a "stuck accelerator". Better yet, do society a favor and kill yourself.

The Looming National Benefit Crisis

By Dennis Cauchon and John Waggoner, USA TODAY

The long-term economic health of the United States is threatened by $53 trillion in government debts and liabilities that start to come due in four years when baby boomers begin to retire. (Related graphic: U.S. economy threatened by aging of America)

The "Greatest Generation" (ha! ha!) and its baby-boom children have promised themselves benefits unprecedented in size and scope. Many leading economists say that even the world's most prosperous economy cannot fulfill these promises without a crushing increase in taxes - and perhaps not even then.

Neither President Bush nor John Kerry is addressing the issue in detail as they campaign for the White House.

A USA TODAY analysis found that the nation's hidden debt - Americans' obligation today as taxpayers - is more than five times the $9.5 trillion they owe on mortgages, car loans, credit cards and other personal debt.

This hidden debt equals $473,456 per household, dwarfing the $84,454 each household owes in personal debt.

The $53 trillion is what federal, state and local governments need immediately - stashed away, earning interest, beyond the $3 trillion in taxes collected last year - to repay debts and honor future benefits promised under Medicare, Social Security and government pensions. And like an unpaid credit card balance accumulating interest, the problem grows by more than $1 trillion every year that action to pay down the debt is delayed.

"As a nation, we may have already made promises to coming generations of retirees that we will be unable to fulfill," Federal Reserve

Chairman Alan Greenspan told the House Budget Committee last month. (Related story: Americans' views on the benefit quandary)

Greenspan and economists from both political parties warn that the nation's economy is at risk from these fast-approaching costs. If action isn't taken soon - when baby boomers are still working and contributing payroll taxes- the consequences may be catastrophic, some economists say.

The worst-case scenario is a sudden crisis - perhaps a major terrorist attack or a shutoff of oil from the Middle East - that triggers a loss of confidence by investors in the U.S. economy. Foreign investors refuse to lend more money to the government to finance its deficits; drastic tax increases and benefit cuts occur suddenly; the dollar's value plummets, which raises the cost of imported goods; and a severe recession or depression results from falling incomes.

A softer landing: The USA acts swiftly and becomes more like Europe. Taxes are higher, retirement benefits are less generous but widely distributed; health care costs are controlled; and the economy is sound but less productive.

Big payments on the debt start coming due in 2008, when the first of 78 million baby boomers - the generation born from 1946 to 1964 - qualify at age 62 for early retirement benefits from Social Security. The costs start mushrooming in 2011, when the first boomers turn 65 and qualify for taxpayer-funded Medicare.

Early warning signs

But Americans needn't wait until 2008 or 2011 to see firsthand the escalating costs of these benefit programs. Medicare last month announced the largest premium increase in the program's 39-year history. In 2004 alone, federal spending on Medicare and Social Security will increase $45 billion, to $789 billion. That one-year increase is more than the $28 billion budget of the Department of Homeland Security.

Many economists say a failure to confront the nation's debt promptly will only delay the inevitable.

"The baby boomers and the Greatest Generation are delivering an economic disaster to their children," says Laurence Kotlikoff, a Boston University economist and co-author of The Coming Generational Storm, a book about the national debt. "We should be ashamed of ourselves."

USA TODAY used official government numbers to compute what the burden means to the average American household. To pay the obligations of federal, state and local government:

· All federal taxes would have to double immediately and permanently. A household earning $100,000 a year would see its federal taxes double from an average of about $20,000 to $40,000 a year. All state taxes would have to increase 20% immediately and permanently.

· Or, benefits for Social Security, Medicare and government pensions would have to be slashed in half immediately and permanently. Social Security checks would be cut from an average of $1,500 per month for couples to $750. Military pensions would drop from an average of $1,782 per month to $891. Medicare spending would fall from $7,500 to $3,750 annually per senior. The Medicare prescription-drug benefit enacted last year would be canceled.

·Or, a combination of tax hikes and benefit cuts - such as a 50% increase in taxes and a 25% reduction in benefits - would avoid the extremes but still require painful changes that are outside the scope of today's political debate. Savings also could come in the form of price controls on prescription drugs, raising retirement ages and limiting benefits to the affluent.

Every solution has the potential to damage the economy by reducing disposable income or diverting economic resources.

The estimates computed by USA TODAY are similar to ones by government watchdog agencies such as the Congressional Budget Office and the Government Accountability Office and respected think tanks such as the conservative American Enterprise Institute, the liberal Brookings Institution and the non-partisan Urban Institute.

"Political leaders know this is a big problem," says Glenn Hubbard, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers for President Bush from 2001 to 2003. "I know the president is keenly aware. But in an election year, it's not easy to talk about. The solutions may be very painful. If he is re-elected, I think he will make this a top priority next year. I hope so."

"Economists agree this cannot go on," says Joseph Stiglitz, President Clinton's chief economic adviser from 1995 to 1997. "We can borrow and borrow, but eventually there will be a day of reckoning."

Economist James Galbraith of the University of Texas in Austin is a rare optimist in this debate. "I'm not at all concerned about Medicare or Social Security," Galbraith says. "Unless the government goes broke, Medicare isn't going to go broke, and the U.S. government isn't going to go broke because it can print money."

Galbraith says the country can handle higher tax rates, as Europeans do, and can save money by cutting spending elsewhere, such as on defense, and by implementing a Canadian-style health care system that uses private doctors and hospitals but has the government set prices and pay the bills.

"We are an enormously rich country," he says. "Providing health care and a modest living for our elderly is certainly something we can afford."

An aging population

Social Security was created in 1935 to help the elderly avoid poverty during the Great Depression. Medicare was established in 1965 to provide health care for the elderly, who were finding it increasingly difficult to afford medical care. But the aging of America and a declining birth rate have put these programs on a collision course with financial reality.

When the government set 65 as the retirement age in the 1930s, most people didn't live that long. But life expectancy for women has increased from 66 to 80 since 1940 and for men from 61 to 75.

Meanwhile, the birth rate has dropped from 25 births per 1,000 residents in the 1950s to just 15 today. The lower birth rate ultimately means fewer workers paying taxes to finance Social Security and Medicare benefits for the rapidly growing population of people 65 and over.

Medicare has had about 3.3 workers paying taxes for every recipient for the past 30 years. Baby boomer retirements will reduce that to just two workers supporting every Medicare recipient in 2040.

Immigration has helped offset some of the decline in birth rates. But immigration rates would have to increase by five or 10 times - above the recent peak of 1.2 million in 2001, legal and illegal - to provide enough workers and their payroll taxes to boost Medicare.

Medicare recipients are growing older and more expensive, too. Annual medical costs for an 85-year-old are double those of a 65-year-old. Federal spending per Medicare recipient will average $7,500 this year. The official projection for 2050: $26,683 per recipient in 2004 dollars.

A problem in plain view

The scope of the problem is no secret in Washington.

Medicare and Social Security trustees report the obvious every year: The system has no way to pay for itself, even under the rosiest scenarios. The Congressional Budget Office regularly updates Congress on the liabilities.

Bush's budget for the fiscal year that began Friday spells out the numbers in detail and concludes, "These long-term budget projections show clearly that the budget is on an unsustainable path."

Comptroller General David Walker, the government's chief accountant, travels the nation warning of the impending crisis. "I am desperately trying to get people to understand the significance of this for our country, our children, our grandchildren," Walker says. "How this is resolved could affect not only our economic security but our national security. We're heading to a future where we'll have to double federal taxes or cut federal spending by 50%."

But documentation of the problem hasn't prompted political action to address it. The $4.2 trillion national debt has generated some debate in Congress and the presidential campaign. But the government's obligations for Medicare and Social Security are 10 times the size of the national debt.

"We have instructed our politicians not to tell us about this problem," says Boston University economist Kotlikoff. "If they even mention cuts to Social Security, we vote them out of office."

Grim financial statement

To bring attention to the problem, USA TODAY prepared a consolidated financial statement for taxpayers, similar to what corporations give shareholders. The newspaper totaled federal, state and local government liabilities, taken from official documents.

Key findings:

·Total hidden debt. Federal, state and local governments today have debts and "unfunded liabilities" of $53 trillion, or $473,456 per household. An unfunded liability is the difference, valued in today's dollars, between what current law requires the government to pay and what current law provides in projected tax revenue.

·Social Security. The retirement program has $12.7 trillion in obligations it cannot meet for current workers and retirees at the current Social Security tax rate.

·Medicare. The health care program has a $30 trillion unfunded liability for people now in the system as workers or beneficiaries. The $30 trillion reflects the value today of the more than $200 trillion in deficits over 75 years to cover current workers and retirees at existing levels of benefits, tax rates and premiums. Medicare's new prescription-drug benefit, which starts in 2006, accounts for $6.9 trillion of the program's financial ill health.

How much is $30 trillion? The gross domestic product, the entire economic output of the USA, was $11 trillion last year.

"These numbers are staggering in their magnitude," says economist Thomas Saving, whom Bush appointed as a public trustee on the Medicare and Social Security board. "But when I testify before Congress, I'm the only one saying, 'We have a funding problem.' Everyone else is testifying for more benefits."

Like a home mortgage

The $53 trillion in liabilities is like a mortgage balance: That's what it would cost to pay off the debt now. The actual cost would be higher because of interest payments. A $100,000 mortgage at 5% interest, for example, actually requires $193,000 in income to repay over 30 years.

Under corporate accounting rules, a corporation would record a $100,000 liability on its books if it promised to pay $193,000 in medical benefits over 30 years. That liability would reduce profits immediately, when the promise was made, although the money would be paid over 30 years. Otherwise, shareholders could be fooled into thinking that the company was better off than it really was.

In fact, the company had committed $193,000 in future revenue - worth $100,000 today - to a retiree and couldn't use the money for shareholder profits.

Government doesn't follow this accounting rule. If it did, the federal deficit in 2004 would be $8 trillion, not $422 billion. The $8 trillion reflects the value of new financial obligations Congress approved without any way to pay for them,plus the year's operating deficit.

Government accounting rules are more lenient because, unlike a business, Congress can take whatever money it needs through taxes and renege on promises by passing new laws. Theoretically, the president and Congress could end all health care for the elderly tomorrow and cease Social Security payments the next day - or double or triple tax rates to pay the bills.

That's why AARP, a non-partisan lobbying group for people over 50, says the unfunded promises of Medicare and Social Security are less worrisome than they appear.

"The reason we make companies fund their pension liabilities is because it's uncertain they'll be around in the future. That doesn't apply to government," says John Rother, AARP's research director. "The size of the liabilities isn't relevant, nor is how much we put aside today. What matters is how healthy will the economy be in the future."

He agrees that Medicare has a long-term funding problem but says the nation's entire health system is the issue, not Medicare.

Alan Auerbach, director of the Burch Center for Tax Policy and Public Finance at the University of California-Berkeley, says people are understandably skeptical about gloomy predictions. But he says these numbers are not guesses.

"We can't predict major wars or major inventions," he says. "But we do know the baby boomers aren't going to disappear. We know pretty well that health care costs will rise because of new technology. I wish these were worst-case scenarios, but they're rather cautious best guesses. It could be much worse."

A bill coming due

The heart of the problem is that the Greatest Generation and baby boomers have promised themselves retirement benefits so generous - and have contributed so little to financing them - that even the most prosperous economy in history cannot pay the bill.

Consider a married couple who throughout their lives earned the median income - the amount at which half of Americans make more and half make less - and who will retire at age 65 next year. They earned $46,400 in their final year of work.

Mr. and Mrs. Median would get a joint Medicare benefit valued at $283,500, the Urban Institute estimates. That's the present value of the benefit - what it's worth today - not the larger amount the government will actually pay over the years. But the couple would have paid only $43,300 in Medicare taxes (valued in 2004 dollars). Taxpayers lose $240,200 on the deal.

But the Medians' good fortune doesn't end there. They also qualify for $22,900 in annual Social Security benefits, which rise annually with inflation.

Present value of the Social Security benefit: $326,000. Present value of Social Security taxes paid over a lifetime: $198,000.

Net loss to taxpayers: $128,000.

And the situation is worse than that. The federal government didn't save the money that the Medians paid in Medicare and Social Security taxes. It spent that money as it came in on other things - defense, education, past Medicare costs, etc. So the Social Security and Medicare taxes paid by Mr. and Mrs. Median won't help offset the cost of their benefits. The Social Security and Medicare trust funds have no money, only IOUs that other taxpayers must repay.

"These mythical trust funds are a financial oxymoron - they can't be trusted and they aren't funded," says Peter Peterson, a businessman and Commerce secretary under President Nixon who wrote the best seller Running on Empty: How the Democratic and Republican Parties Are Bankrupting Our Future and What Americans Can Do About It.

Because the trust funds have been spent, taxpayers must come up with the full $609,500 that Mr. and Mrs. Median are entitled to under Medicare and Social Security. And the Medians are a bargain compared with what their 45-year-old children will cost.

Social Security is structured so that future generations get increasingly large benefits. And Medicare benefits rise with soaring health care costs.

The Medians' children would receive Social Security and Medicare benefits with a present value of $884,000 in 2004 dollars when they turn 65, according to the Urban Institute. That's 45% more than their parents would get.

For Hubbard, now dean of the Columbia Business School in New York, the stakes are clear: "The question is whether the political process will make gradual changes or we'll wait for a crisis."

IMHO - When 'HD" Radio is a OEM Factory Equipment in new Automobiles : Then "HD" Radio will become the Standard that American Consumer will demand for Everyday Listening : in the Car or Truck ; at Home ; and in the Office / at Work.

Think of how you think of the common AM/FM-Stereo Radio today as being "What Is and Should Be"

-IF- 'HD" Radio becomes the OEM Factory Equipment in new Automobiles : Then with in 3~5 Years the average American {Who Love's Their Car or Truck} will come to accept "HD" Radio as being "What Is and Should Be"

The Current FCC Planning Failures of "HD" Radio are :

That it is Limited to 1% of the Analog Signal's ERP.
- - - Year # 1 @ 1% > Year # 2 @ 2% > Year # 3 @ 4% . . .

No FCC Requirement for Manufactures and Importeres to Produce Only "HD" AM/FM Radios by a Certain Date for Use in the USA. {Forced Transition by the Radio Listeners}

No FCC Mandate For All US Broadcasters To Be "HD" by a Certain Date. {Forced Transition by the Radio Broadcasters}

Three Classes of AM/MW "HD" Radio Broadcasters :
* Rural Local 1000 Watts - Days and Nights
* Metro Local 3000 Watts - Days and Nights
* Regional 9000 Watts Days and 3000 Watts Nights Localizes All "HD" Radio Broadcasting.

The Transition to Digital "HD" TV was an Example of Good Planning by the FCC and the TV Broadcasters.

Yes, I didn't understand you were using an IBOC radio. I have no experience with one, other than trying to play with one at Fry's and not getting it to work.

I notice that some of the IBOC hash does reach the analog channel, even using a very selective filter. That is, the noise floor of the analog signal is raised a bit. This is noticeable on very clean AM signals.

M...Sushi,

The Radi-Osophy HD-100 Radio was functioning in the Analogy Mode. Had a GE Superadio III sitting next to it and basically heard the same thing on it.

It just may be that I am at the 'right distance' from the Radio Station's Transmitter where It's Analog and Digital Signals 'Interact' and cause the sound effect heard.

-Or- More likely it is the Analog Signal of One Radio Station being Trashed by the Digital Side Band of an Adjacent Channel's Radio Station. Again being at the 'right-distance' to where the two Signals 'Interact' and cause the sound effect heard.

AM/MW "HD" Radio is 'by-design' Engineered to Interfer with the two Adjacent AM/MW Radio Channels at 10 kHz.

He's 'claimed' in the past to have enough 'college' credits for two degrees.

True for older homes, but around here, in Central Kentucky, many homes are being built with metal "2X4". While my latest investigation was at 750K house which was all wood except for some bracing in the roof trusses, most of the 'affordable' 250K used the metal "2X4". In every home around here the AC mains approached the heating and coolnig duct work closer then I like, but non had contact. In two of the lower end 250K homes, not wired by my friend, the Romex was in almost direct contact with the copper water pipes.

Another reason I like the newer non spiral wrapped armor that is formed from extruded aluminum is that with age the edges of the wrap tend to corrode. My parents house, built in 1948 and upgraded to matalic 1960 has RFI issues that weren't there when I was a SWL there.Some checking revealed that in two places the armored cable had a light coating of rust. And those two runs re radiated a mix of two not so close MW signals, 590 and 630. The mixing appears to be solely a product of the corroded sections.

I have several experiments I am waiting in severe frustration because of my bum right arm.
I hope to do some real world tests with various AC cables and see if matalic is better then Romex. Given the 1/20 of a wavelength maximum ground lead "rule" it will be interesing to see how armor cable fairs. I suspect it will radiate nearly as bad as Romex becasue of both the length and the typical poor bonding between the metal armor and outlet and junction boxes.

Well said. We all have our "first radio" that spurred our interest in those early days. Those that could afford, or maybe had a father that could, a higher-end Hallicrafters or Hammarlund, were lucky and got spoiled. A lot of us though had to save up our paper-route money to buy our own radio, and these were still expensive for a 13-year kid.

I think you're giving the radio itself a bit of a short sell. These are really very good radios. They are extremely sensitive, and (contrary to one poster) have great image rejection which nearly cancels out the disadvantage of single-conversion. They are very quiet with a low noise floor, and the audio is pretty good. Put up a good outside longwire and you get excellent results. And because they'll pull just about anything out there, they are a lot of fun to cruise the bands with.

These are indeed "real radios" that were on par with some of the entry-level Hallicrafters or similar, and thus (I believe) deserve some discussion of variants and differences. A lot of people love these radios, and it's not all nostalgia.

Radio industry gets a bad signal

"Music formats, which will be widely available from a variety of sources, are most vulnerable, Harrison said.Bill White, program director of Charlotte's WBT-AM (1110), told those attending that his station has found success by focusing intensely on community-oriented programming and by serving local sponsors. And we have a lot of fun,"White added. Richard Neer, a sportscaster on New York's sports radio station WFAN, said although his station isn't a ratings leader in its market, it is highly successful because of the sports-talk niche it serves.It's going to be the last surviving dinosaur, said Neer, who lives in Mooresville and connects electronically with WFAN for his show. "It's specifically aimed at a very passionate audience."

Ha! Ha! Eduardo! Music FMs are screwed, just liek I've been saying! News/talk/sports AMs will be the last survivors, if not killed off by AM-HD! No wonder, FM-HDs want to simulcast AMs! You are nothing but a fucking lier and IBOC-shill!

I suppose it's only natural that marketing of a new device is somewhat tentative until consumers really show an interest. Who knows, maybe HD radio will turn out to be a flash-in-the-pan like 8 track tapes and AM stereo. And then again consumers might see it as a way to improve the choices they have with tradidional FM and AM broadcasts. I think that HD radio also has a reasonable chance of becoming a successful competitor with satelllite radio because there's no fee and the cost to the station of adding new channels and programming should be lower.

One question is whether consumers will see a benefit from purchasing yet another set of components to listen to yet another source of news or entertainment. One can be entertained by signals from AM, FM, Satellite, HD, Ipod, Internet, CD's, tapes, etc., and they all require hardware.

That's a good description of how 40 years ago, individual perception of the same radio differed widely as a result of individual listening experience. I'm sure that in 1968 a new listener would have been fascinated by signals from around the world that could have been gotten with 20 feet of wire hooked up to a DX150. And it had a lot of company with good performing basic radios from Lafayette, Hallicrafters, Heath and others. When introduced it incorporated leading-edge electronic technology. At the time those basic radios provided a tantalizing entrance into a hobby that could have led to an interest in more advanced listening equipment and possibly an amateur operators license.

A lot of guys must have snapped them up when new because they remain plentiful in the resale market. Heck, the same basic radio was sold for about 13 years so it had to have been a success.

And yes, in the hands of someone who remembers bandspread tuning an early DX receiver can still pull in a lot of stations. In today's world an experienced SWL would have a greater chance of enticing someone into the hobby if a more up to date receiver were offered. One that included single control synthesized tuning, dual conversion, multiple filters, keypad entry, memories, etc.

This is why, then that major markets like Houston now have only 12% of total listening going to AM stations, and in 18-34, it is less than 5%? AM is dead under 45, and dying as its remaining listeners age out of the desirable sales demos.

It's all got to do with content. Nobody's going to waste their time listening to the snake oil and bible thumper drivel that dominates over the large majority of AM stations. Why do:

A) These stations remain on the air, if practically nobody is listening.

B) Why are people paying for time on these things. Do they not know any better?

I keep saying it's time for the paid-programming peanut whistles to go off the air, and open the band up to mega-powered stations doing a contemporary general interest talk formats, no matter what the language (English, Spanish, Korean, etc.).

Sports talk, when done locally and done well (see WFAN if you want to know how it's done) is a good revenue getter in the "proper" demographics.

Stop targeting news/talk stations exclusively to right wingers or left wingers. Just make them compelling listening for EVERYONE across the political spectrum. Emphasize LOCAL talk. People want to discuss stuff that's going on in their own cities and talk radio is an excellent forum for that. Especially big cities like New York, Dallas or even Denver have plenty of material for people to talk about on the air.

Music may be dead on AM, but I have a gut feeling that properly programmed talk shows could bring back some attractive demos and revitalize the band quite a bit.

Get RID of the paid programming. All that is doing is damaging the long-term survival of the band in return for quick immediate profits.

RFI on the cheap:
Other suppliers are available, but I have had great success with Mouser over the years. On page 1722 they offer some Triad isolation with an intergral electrostatic shield.

Some of these transformers have dual primaries and can be wired for 120V or 240V. Most of us will only need the single primary transformers, which also cost less. Dual windings are marked with "*". The medical units have much lower leakage capacitance and unless you need a 500VA transformer, I would go with the less expensive units.

*553-N48X 15VA $15.51
*553-N51X 35VA $12.00
553-N68X 50VA $11.20
553-N54MG 150VA $71.95
*553-N67A 150VA $46.98
*553-N66A 250VA $62.20
*553-N77U 100VA $25.31
Medical Applications
553-N90MD 250VA $210.38

Hosfelt offers Curtis F1600CA03 RFI IEC filters.
http://www.curtisind.com/pdf/filtercatalog.pdf
http://www.hosfelt.com/en-us/dept_572.html#item_1706

I have found the addition of a 0.01uF across the output side of the filter from hot to neutral offers somewhat higher RF attenuation levels.

I ordered mine from Digi Key because I had a fairly large order from them and didn't want to split an order.

http://dkc3.digikey.com/PDF/C071/1405.pdf

For a good overview of Class X and Class Y capacitors see:

http://my.execpc.com/~endlr/line-filter.html

By mounting a Curtis RFI filter in a Bud Box, mounting the Triad isolation transformer and using a "pop in" single NEMA 15-5, or a standard NEMA 15-5 duplex outlet one can have a very nice RFI filter that will knock most RFI down by nearly 99%.

Will included a neon pilot light with a double pole fast 1A magnetic breaker and his unit looks like it came off an assembly line.

He was plagued by the RFI from his daughter's Dell laptop PC.
The RFI was so bad that he couldn't listen to MW stations 30 miles away!

Be certain to size the transformer to match the load. And if you add a fuse or breaker size it to match the load as well.

I rave on and on about the Curtis filters from Hosfelt simply because at $0.33 each, they are a steal! CorCom and other companies make very effective RFI fitlers. But all new RFI/EMI filters are expensive.

I use a couple Topaz Ultra-Isolation transformer in my home.
Built like a tank, and very effective with only 0.005pF (yes >pF<) coupling between the primary and secondary. They are the best isolation transformer around. But they are obscenely expensive.

Will lucked out and bought a set of 250VA for $10 each and when he asked the flea market had 6 more that had seen better days. They had damaged power cables and busted NEMA 15-5 duplex outlets.
He got the lot for $20!.

But in truth we compared a Topaz with Will's homebuilt unit and they both had nearly the same level of attenuation. When you add a EMI filter to the Topaz, it becomes the clear winner. But at upwards of $500 each on the surplus marekt, Will's DIYS version is very attractive.

Again this will be incorporated into a much longer and more complete article for Will's stopRFI page.

I am posting these in nearly a random order because I will almost certainly be undergoing elbow and knee surgery and we are planing on selling our current home and relocating. At that point my life will become rather complex and I don't know when I will get a chance to polish these and combine them for the stopRFI page.

followed by a QF-1 "Q" Multiplier

Either they make money or someone thinks they can make money.

The evangelists and preachers judge media by the amount they get in donations; if the show pays for itself and allows the "word" to be spread, they continue to buy time. Most want not just the time cost but some extra money for their church, though.

The dominant stations on the band were licensed for population centers and city sizes that existed in the 1930's... the basic plan goes back to 1928.
Cities have outgrown all but a few AMs in every market.... sometimes all of them in markets like DC. The whole system is out of date, and a huge cleansing and reallocation would be needed. The AM band and its technology are approaching 100 years of age; the delivery system is defective by today's standards and the allocations are such that in the top 100 markets only about 250 stations are even competitively viable.

AM just doesn't exist in the minds of most under-35 listeners. And experiments like Air America have shown that there is not a deep talent pool of entertaining liberal talk hosts.

I don't think there is a valid model for the bad technical facilities other than brokered time or religion.

I'm quite proud of that fact; I was able to leave school and create an innovative and very successful radio station while a teenager. Given the quality of US education, I did not miss anything, either.

Huh?

You are a real whack job when something that is so crystal clear that a copy of it is posted on the web is seen by you to be a misrepresentation.

5669. Maximum grounding conductor lengths.

In the RFI/EMI world the maximum length of grounding conductors has been found to be 1/20 of a wavelength. Conductors longer then 1/20 of a wavelength become effective unintentional radiators. It is true that we consider a 1/4 wavelength to be the most effective and desirable length.
But significant radiation does occur from even cables as short as 1/20 WL.

In the typical installation even shorter conductors can become electrically longer due to the bends a normal conductor experiences. Very few, if any, real world grounding conductors run in a straight line. And the typical grounding conductor in a residence is anything but short and straight. Each bend adds inductance that increases the electrical length of a conductor.

Ignoring bends, for various frequencies, 1.20 of a wave length equates to:
100KHz 150M
500KHz □□ 30M
1MHz □ 15M
5MHz 0.□3M
10MHz 0.15M
15MHz □ 1.0M
20MHz □0.75M

For RFI with frequencies at 5MHz and higher it should be clear that it is very easy to exceed the magic "1/20□" rule.

This is why efforts to reduce Differential Mode noise must be applied as close to the noise source as possible.

Other thing to keep in mind that in the normal residence, by NEC, the ground and neutral are bonded at the meter base, but the house grounds are bonded to each other in the breaker box and may be bonded to each other at other points. This creates an wiring maze that defies any thorough analysis. Grounding conductors can form an unbelievably effective antenna! This was experienced during a test at a wired new home that was not connected to any power sources.
In the bedrooms furthest from the breaker box, attaching any of the power conductors to the antenna connector on a DX398 and battery powered R2000 proved to be a learning experience. A ground wire that is an effective antenna will certainly radiate RF noise effectively.

The house grounds were connected to what the NEC would recognize as a "meter base" even though the home will operate from a PV array with a propane powered back up genset. The exterior grounds are much better then what the NEC calls for.

I've been following this thread for a while, but had to jump in when someone said to get a speaker from a dead Drake! Now that hurts, because the only rigs at this QTH are Drakes, and there are no dead one! They all live... LOL

And yes, I bought my first receiver with a paper route income. It was an Hallicrafters SX-11 that cost me $15.00. Try to buy one of those now.

Any number of the SW portables have time-based "turn on" and can be used as an alarm clock. I have never had one that turned off by itself, though. I think there are enough users of these receivers that someone might recommend one that combines good reception with the features you want.

Universal has a wide range of portables and you might look at http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/portable.html or even give them a call. I travel with the Sony ICF-SW7600GR and it has two timers.

Actually, I wrote the item below. :)

And there's a lot of merit to your comments. They were 'real radios' and the were on par with some of the entry level, and better, Halli's.
QC was quite variable, however, and units from the same series often performed to different specifications. Couple that with the fact that GRE often made revisions during a production run, and you pretty much didn't know from one receiver to the next what you actually had. Even the schematics issued with the rig were marked as general reference and may not reflect the actual circuitry of the rig at hand.

But even so, for many hobbyists getting started, these rigs were pretty impressive. And they did, with some fiddling produce decent results. A lot of hams got their start with DX series radios, and learned some essential skills necessary to recover deep DX under adverse conditions. Skills that would produce amazing dividends with much better radios down the line.

I always wanted a DX-160 when they were new, but couldn't scrape together the bux. I bought one about 5 years ago, made one or two minor audio mods, and sold it after two years because it sat unused after 9 months or so.

For all its quirks and foibles it was a valuable learning tool of its day.

An entry level radio. Like a first car bought for $250. Something we all remember with fondness. But in reality...no great shakes.

For a clock radio to be useful on the shortwave bands it really should be able to point to a channel in memory because shortwave stations do not broadcast on the same frequency all day long.

The Sony 2010 and Eton E1 both can be set to turn on and off automatically using memory channels.

EXCEPT THAT Paid - Programming brings in a lot of money to the people paying for the programming. Religious organizatoins garner large sums from their listeners. And that's who the programming targets - their specific listeners. So, paid programming is an easy way for stations to make money, plus the people paying for the programming are reaching the audience they want because that's who listens to their program in the first place. BUT that means that only certain people will listen to a station at certian times. It doesn't build station loyalty or help the other advertisers in other time slots. It does, however, bring in revenue for the station, and for the paid programmers.

MORE IMPORTANTLY - WHERE I USED TO HEAR 27
LISTENABLE AM/MW RADIO STATIONS {PRE-IBOC]
HERE IN TWAIN HARTE, CA : NOW I CAN LISTEN TO NINE (9) WITH OUT HEARING SOME LEVEL OF IBOC
DIGITAL HASH THAT MAKES LISTENING TO THEM NOT ENJOYABLE. HERE IS A SIDE-BY-SIDE USING

RADI-OSOPHY HD-100 RADIO USING A 6 BY 18 FOOT SINGLE TURN (1) LOOP ANTENNA {48" LONG} WITH COAX CABLE FEED-IN-LINE.
CLEARLY "IF" IBOC WAS AT 4~8% I WOULD BE HEARING
SEVERAL AM/MW "HD" RADIO STATIONS THAT I ONLY GET A BLINKING BLUE LIGHT.

MY BOTTOM LINE - WITH IBOC IS TURN-IT-OFF -OR-TURN-IT-UP THE DIGITAL POWER LEVEL SO THAT IT CAN BE HEARD OUT TO AND BEYOND THE 10 MV/M CONTOUR.

- - - End of Rant - - -

FWIW - I still have to take the Radi-Osophy HD-100 Radio down to Oakland, CA and give it a try in the SF Bay Area.
To hear what "HD" Radio sounds like in a Major Metro Area within and Urban Environment -and- the Results of IBOC Digital Hash on any 'distant' AM/MW Radio Listening.

"The Blinking Blue Light Report" for 27 Sept 2007

Early Morning {5 AM} Turned on the Radi-Osophy HD-100 Radio and this is what I heard and did not hear :

KMJ 580 - Fresno, CA Good Audio and BBL ~100 Miles
KTNN 660 - Window Rock, AZ - Excellent Audio ~800 Miles

KDON 720 - Las Vegas, NV ~400 Miles
KKOH 780 - Reno, NV and BBL ~150 Miles
KGO 810 - SFBA and BBL ~120 Miles
KOA 850 - Denver, CO and BBL ~1000 Miles
KTRB 860 - SFBA and BBL ~120 Miles
KQKE 960 - SFBA and BBL ~120 Miles
KFWB 980 - Los Angeles, CA and BBL ~350 Miles
KOMO 1000 - Seattle, WA - Weak Audio with Bad IBOC Noise ~800 Miles
KNX 1070 - Los Angeles, CA and BBL ~350 Miles
KSOC 1080 - Santa Cruz, CA ~120 Miles
XEPRS 1090 - Tijuana, BN Excellent Audio ~750 Miles
KFAX 1100 - SFBA and BBL ~120 Miles
KSL 1160 - Salt Lake City and BBL ~600 Miles
KCTC 1320 - SACTO, CA Excellent Audio ~80 Miles
KJAY 1430 - SACTO, CA and BBL ~80 Miles
KVON 1440 - Napa, CA Excellent Audio and BBL ~120 Miles
KVML 1450 - {Local} Sonora, CA
1530 KFBK - SAC, CA and BBL ~80 Miles
KNZR 1560 - Bakersfield, CA and BBL ~200 Miles
XEKTT 1700 - Tijuana, BN Excellent Audio and ? BBL ? ~750 Miles

Clearly the IBOC Digital Signal ; or at least part of it ;
{I Get a Blinking Blue Light} is getting here from Great Distances :
Fresno, CA ~100 Miles
Reno, NV ~150 Miles
SF Bay Area ~120 Miles
Denver, CO ~1000 Miles
Los Angeles, CA ~350 Miles
Santa Cruz, CA ~120 Miles
Salt Lake City ~600 Miles
SACTO, CA ~80 Miles
Napa, CA ~120 Miles
Bakersfield, CA ~200 Miles
? Tijuana, BCN {Mexico} ~750 Miles

Sad Note - KOMO used to be a very nice Listen at Night and Early Mornings and now due to IBOC Digital Noise has Weak Audio buried in the Digital Hash.

? Note - I am getting a BBL fro XEKTT 1700 in Tijuana ?

SAD RESULTS - STILL NO IBOC SIGNAL LOCK :
I HAVE YET TO HEAR AN AM/MW "HD" RADIO BROADCAST.

Once Again I Ask Myself : What IBOC ?
All I See Is The Blinking Blue Light ! ~ RHF
In That Distant Land* Where IBOC Fears To Go :
Life Exists and Radio Listeners Live Beyond the 10mv/m Contour.

- And experiments like Air America have shown that there
- is not a deep talent pool of entertaining liberal talk hosts.

There is a Deep Cess-Pool of Non-Entertaining Liberal Talk Hosts [.]

The PBS and NPR TV-Radio Networks and Public Radio Stations put forward more Hours of Liberal Talk Radio {Taxpayer Paid Info-Mercials} then all the Commercial Radio Stations combined put forward the Conservative Talk Radio Shows.

A new ham asked me for help in finding out what was wiping 80M and 40M at his home. He is a ex Navy CW hound and while quite the skilled operator, by his own accounts, "a pretty bad technician".

So I showed up with my trust DX398, my 19uH pill bottle loop and W1HIS's "B-field" loop. He lives on a 15 acre spread on the Clark Estill county line, we away from noisy neighbors and high tension lines.

So I explained how I do an RF audit. Afterwards he suggested I post it to help others.

At my direction he had already made a rough drawing of his home, showing each AC outlet, switch and light. He also had a list of "everything" electronic in his home.

We started at the meter base, where I verified he had an "acceptable" NEC ground. Two 8' ground rods bonded to the meter base blah blah. Then I showed him the noise that came from his brand new Focus KWHr meter. Nasty within 3' but rapidly fell off to a none issue. Then we went to the telephone NID/ Demarcation box and I disconnected the jumper. Big drop in noise. In his case the DSL on the nearby phone line is serious RFI.

Just for grins we went through the rest of his home checking each and every device, and noting the relative RFI levels in his two bands of interest. His DVD player was very nasty. His outside PIR security lights were also very trashy. But the worst culprit, other then the DSL, was the smoke detector. It was an AC powered unit and when we disconnected it the noise dropped to very low levels. I told him I wasn't comfortable with it disconnected so we ran over to one of the box stores in Winchester and bought 2 smoke detectors. One AC and the other a battery operated unit. Good move because the new AC smoke detector was as noisy as the first. So he is living with the battery operated unit for the time being.

I had a couple of RFI filters designed to remove RF from phone lines, the first is a standard DSL filter to keep the DSL signals out of normal telephones.
The other was a 2 stage balanced 500uH with 1000pF across the line. 3 caps and 4 inductors. This completely cleaned up his noise problems. The telephone line is buried for about 200' and his antenna is well away from the telephone/AC line.

I share this only to get you guys thinking.
1)Diagram your home.
2)label each outlet and light switch.
I use numbers for outlets and letters for switches and light fixtures.
3)make a >COMPLETE< list of all the electronic/electric equipment in you home. Be sure to think about door bells, smoke/CO alarms, security systems. Be sure to look at every outlet. Some rechargeable tooth brush bases are nasty!

Note which outlets or breakers are GFI. They can be horrible noise sources.

Some of the latest breakers have arc detectors and will be required for all new sleeping areas in the 2007 NEC. Some of these are very, very bad. The combination arc detector/GFI have been about the worst single RFI source I can think of.

Note where all outside cables come in. Find the NID, meter base, and cable ground block.

With a battery operated radio that covers the frequencies of interest check every device. Both with it on and off. The cheapy DVD was much worse off then on.

When ever you bring a new device into your home be sure to check it from DC to light. Or 100KHz through 30MHz.

I have a chart that shows which outlets and switches are on what breaker.
Don't forget about such things as water heaters and heat tape. I have seen the thermostats fail in noisy ways. Often a capacitor across the contacts will stop the RFI.

We can't do very much to eliminate the RFI from our neighbors much less the world, but by taking a few hours we can often reduce the local RF noise floor to allow successful radio operations.

It is very useful to note the power each device draws and how they are connected so that if you decide to try filters or isolation transformers you will have an idea of how large a filter/transformer you will need. RFI filters get obscene in price as the current rating goes up. I am very lucky, every set of loads in our home draw less then 3 amps. By "set" I mean our home "theater", my wifes PC/ minitor printer/scanner and sewing machines. My radio room draws less then 2A at 12V with every receiver and accessory I own fired up. The only time my current demands get "unreasonable" are when I fire up the VHF or HF transceiver.

For us every watt we don't draw is 3.6BTU that we don't have to pump out with the Air Conditioner.

Speaking of air conditioners there is a new family of these coming on line.
They use variable speed compressors to maximize the efficiency. These can be extremely tough to quieten. They draw heavy slugs of current as a typical switch mode supply, larger then what you are used to, but in principal the same, and drive semiconductors with a triangle wave that has lots of notches in it. A very strong RFI source. The odd waveforms present some serious challenges to effective filtration. A friend has one and we are trying to quieten the beast down. On the plus side it cut his cooling bills by over 30%.
On the negative side radio operations are next to impossible. I suspect that after November of this year all ACs and heat pumps will use this technology.
I don't have an answer yet, but it is something to be aware of. It makes BPL look like a kissing party.

Still have my DX-160 with SP-150 speaker.

It is still fun to turn it on and listen to the BBC at night.

Probably will never get rid of it, sounds just like it did years ago, and is just a joy to listen too.

Just my 2 cents worth.

Ain't nostalgia great?

Funny how it is that statistically, the older drivers have far few accidents than the kids. Funny (actually, it's tragic) how we see FAR more teenage drivers being KILLED because they "lost control of their car at a high rate of speed". Odd how they pay LESS in insurance premiums than the 16-25 y/o age group BECAUSE THEY HAVE FAR FEWER ACCIDENTS!
It's the invincible youth that think they are immortal!

The "geriatric set" EARNED what they receive in benefits: it wasn't GIVEN to them!!!! They PAID into SSI and pension plans and IRAS and earned every penny they now receive.

So y'all keep on pluggin' away now, sonny, I heard that the fish are bitin'

I've read that the only differences between the 6800W (White) and 6800WA (Orange) versions were tighter filters, though I don't know if it's just the wide or both (better adjacent channel rejection but less fidelity), and a better preselector. Are these the only differences? Has anyone actually used both of them and can tell their own opinions on performance differences? Thanks!

My feelings exactly A.W.S.! At last some light amidst all of this fog, cobwebs and darkness. :-)

I wonder how these same Amerikkkans would feel if Bush was going to speak at a college in Iraq and the president of the university turned to Bush before introducing him and said something like this"

President Bush..we want you to truthfully answer some hard questions for our students:

First, why does your country which in fact is the only country in human history to actually drop two atomic bombs on civilians in Hiroshima and Nagasaki used Agent orange in Vietnam killing tens of thousands of American solider's and Vietnamese feel that it has the right to disarm nonwhite Nations an place them at your mercy?

Second, how can a country with such a violent hateful human rights past, seeing how you treat African Americans in Amerikkka, point fingers at other Nations and try to discredit them.

Third, Why did you attack Panama, Grenada, Somalia, countries in south America? Were they all terrorists too? Why don't you send your troops to Northern Ireland to subdue the White savages there who have been blowing up each other for over 20 years?

Fourth Mr. Bush why did you not release your financial records when Congress asked for them?

Fifth why were you afraid to let the Nation see you military record, and your college record, or lack thereof?

Sixth How could you repeal affirmative action at the university of Michigan, and then go lay a wreath on Martin Luther King's grave the next day saying that you admired him? Isn't that extremely hypocritical when the world knows you don't give a mouse's arse about civil rights for nonwhites.

Seventh, After you told the lie about Iraq having nuclear weapons, which they have every right to have, why did you then change horses in the middle of the stream and start braying out that SADDAM was a bad man who needed to be removed? Don't you think MOST of the sensible world believes that you are a hundred times worse based on what you have actually ordered to be done so far? Would it be OK if other leaders got together and figured out a way to remove you and your banditos?

Eighth, Do you think you rule from a position of strong mental health sir? Isn't it weird for someone to say they have the right to attack anyone at any time and kill millions of innocents because GOD told you to do so? In my psychology book Mr President that is called delusional thinking, and it is a very serious mental problem.

Nine Once you found out that Iraq and Afghanistan had nothing to do with 911, why have you persisted in lying on them and continuing to attack them instead of going after Saudi Arabia? Seventeen of the hijackers were from there, and the other four were Egyptian.
Why didn't you order that those countries be attacked?

Ten President Bush, why do you find it funny when you mess up the English language as you do? Don't you think it is of paramount importance that anyone who is leading the most powerful nation on the planet have an excellent grasp of their native language?

Speaking well is an indication of how normal your mind is Mr. President.

Well I could add many more things, but I think you get my drift here. Would Americans think that it was OK to introduce our president in such an insulting manner even when all of these things are known facts?
What is being said about Mahmoud is mostly speculation, and rumor that is being accepted as fact because White people are like Werewolves. They are thirsting for more innocent peoples blood now and someone will have to die to satisfy their devilish thirst for the blood of babies, children and pregnant women.

How would you Wheat folks appreciate that?

I wonder if the iboc signal is messing with the analog AGC, making the

M... Sushi,

I can understand that yours was a valid listening experience; and please accept that mine too was a valid listening experience : After all that is part the varied nature of radio wave propagation; and the fact that while we were both about 400 Miles from the Transmitter; we were also 120 Miles apart. {Two Different RF Environments}

I've also been told that the Orange version had better attenuation because the White version developed a reputation for overloading in strong signal areas.

While intended for audio and video production houses, it is a very good over view of the "whys" of NEC grounding.

<http://www.campuspa.com/downloads/grounding_tutorial.pdf>

The graph on page 28 is very interesting as it shows the noise on a "typical" ground conductor.
And the graph on page 31 shows the impedance of a 10' section of wire.

Please not the comments Mr. Whitlock makes are directed at the audio video world.
But his explanations are helpful in gaining understanding that the house mains, and the house NEC ground are NOT designed with RF in mind!

Mr. Whitlock is one of the true wizards in the high end audio world.
His Jensen transformer company markets the best audio isolation transformers available.

He is a titular head of state with no real power. To call him a Nobody in Columbus Ohio is broadcasting HD at night, with about 3 stations with it in the day. WOSU 820 WTVN 610 WCOL 1230 (or whatever they're calling themselves now).

Actually WCOL might be using it but nobody would be able to tell, at night. Nobody can hear it.

I noticed that KFBK 1530 had very bad noise bands at 1520 and 1540 for about the first three or four nights and then they disappeared. I hear 1520 loud and clear again.

Yeah, I'm puzzled at your question as well. If radio stations have just started turning on HD why would they turn it back off again?
They won't have meaningful audience statistics to base a decision on for several months.

Excellent information that is written in an understandable form. He busts several myths.

MYTH: Exotic Cables Stop Noise
Expensive cables, even if double or triple shielded, made of 100% unobtainium, and hand woven by virgins will have no significant effect on hum or buzz ......
Only the resistance of the grounded conductor can make a difference!

MYTH: Poor Shielding Causes Noise Common-impedance coupling causes 99% of noise problems in unbalanced interfaces
Trivial noise contributor in modern systems Audiophile cables from famous maker, costing $80 to $500 per 1-meter pair, have no shield at all - wires are simply woven together!

Shielding can be issue with old vacuum-tube equipment because of high Zo in drivers

If radio stations have just began using HD channels how would they know if anyone is listening. I'm not aware of a profit-oriented radio station that would begin broadcasting on a new channel only to abaodon it without having solid statistical evdicence to back up that decision.

Same argument applies to interference. A radio station would have to gather the data on signal interference before pulling a new broadcast channel. One complaint from one dxer on rec.radio.shortwave is not going to constitute a problem. I doubt that more than a few target-market listeners will notice any impact of HD radio on their daily listening activities.

Posting a certificate from an early acceptance type program, clearly visible as such, is hardly a lie. It's a fact, simple and clear. Saying I have a bunch of college credits which would earn a degree or maybe two were they transferrable (an issue of accreditation, not of completion) is not a lie, either. Just additional facts.

In a group filled with everything from white supremacy posts to political rants, I fail to see that there is a lot that is technically on the topic.
This might have to due more with SW being a "window on the world" than strict adherence to loggings and receiver spec posting.

There would be no audience statistics that showed whether night HD was good or bad, just as there are none for daytime operation.

There are no listener or audience statistics for radio stations? How in the world do radio stations determine market share, sell advertising, etc., then?

The article is not new news and in USA fashion they miss a lot of key points.

Touting a high GPA when you were only in college for a short time is deceptive, since the only GPA anyone cares about is the one you had upon graduation.

CHRIST RETURNS

I again, beg Humanity to speak in opposition to Amerika in the defense of our innocent forsaken dying lives. CBC producers know the bushmob did 911 but lie with propaganda to kill our families for the ungodly as thieving neocon enemies. They refuse to inform ourselves that Al-Qaida is General Mahmoud Ahmad, as according to the FBI. Or that video of iron flowing like water from the WTC towers exists indicating without doubt, the bushmob enemies did 911 as TRAITORS.

Today, there is nothing more i wish, than to hear bushite nazi savage thieves for the neocon die rightly, before the innocent they target for murder. All in an attempt to 'escape' those truly responsible for the crimes of 911 a bushite whore practices, as an enemy to Christ and America.

Evidence is required to convince ourselves on who is good or evil. Period. Don't like it? Too bad. We are on charged!!

Who cares about yourself if you won't listen as reason to? What can you lose when you have granted to be blindly stolen from?

Zionist nazi Israelis, do tell as LIARS, that Israel, the nation that openly thieves, tortures, and murders daily thoses THEY ADMIT are commpletely innocent, are enemies of every religious person denied access to honestly speak the facts as firmly established since the dawn of Man.

$4.50 for Every Pop Can?

Did you hear? A DOJ manager charges American tax payers $4.50 for every can drink he, and the rest of his cadre can swallow. Buying bulk, the pop cans likely truly cost 35 or so cents. So... who's pocketing the stolen loot? Cause, you know that would be FRAUD. CNN reported that your 'meatball' story would cause no demands for the returns of stolen funs, no bushite would lose it's high costing position, as no one would be tried for treason and gloriously put to death publicly for the defense of God and country. ..They were actually laughing..

This seems as good a reason as any to take back our TV world from the bushite neocon enemies of freedom through openly communicating. wadyahsay??!!? I want to address America, on how to return a reason for believing.

I AM AMERICA

Sattler ordered the murder of more than 200,000 innocent people in Fallujah, and they speak nothing but lies on how such demonic behaviors are godly as just ignored. Our Lives forsaken, as they hold their very own to die sacrificed for the unelected traitor neocon. I AM AMERICA.

America MUST demand war crime trials for the propaganda CNN broadcast "Anvil of God" regarding the demonic actions of Bravo company. They forgot to tell America importantly, nazi forces forbade the population from leaving, gunning originally for everyone between 15 to 55, but sided instead to murder infants and the elderly too, when beginning the Zarqawi campaign by bombing hospitals as first strike targets. As such, the bushite murdered many good doctors and nurses - so all to send bushite snipers on hospital near rooftops gunning for every seriously injured woman and child who tried to get help from the Humans. While driving down residential streets, grenading every home of humans being. Remember that when you hear these dishonorable bushite thieves die rightly for god and country.

[Sideline: It's been thought the reason why rescue efforts in New Orleans were provably sabotaged by Rove, was an attempt to make the blue state red.]

See?.. women and children, who the enemy bushite forbade to leave the city with their innocent families, who, as were all living in the entire city of mosques conveniently found labeled therefore by bushite, "Insurgents" (or did leave earlier, and had our innocent families reportedly indiscriminately murdered two miles or so down the road by the most evil war crime act of recorded history.)

Importantly, there was no evidence made awared of, that legitimately offered PUBLICLY, from the UN or the U.S. to indicate a refugee camp anywhere, but for maybe a small group photographed - then some belligerent bushite bogus pocus - all headed up by a blatant traitor to America named Sattler. Reminder: after the indiscriminate carnage, they couldn't find near anyone for weeks who would take money offered to any citizen freely who survived for their satanic benefactor. So insanely disturbing as ungodly evil doing, war criminal Sattler called a halt to giving out charitable considerations from Americans to the unseen surviving victims - all in an 'escape' attempt to make it look better for US, the paying audience. So, where did our stolen values go to then eh? (Sattler's pocket no doubt.)

http://www.esterrepublic.com/Archives/djamail9.html

/ / "With no medical supplies, people died from their wounds. Everyone in the street was a target for the Americans.

The US also deployed incendiary weapons, including white phosphorous. "Usually we keep the gloves on," Captain Erik Krivda said, but "for this operation, we took the gloves off". By the end of operations, the city lay in ruins. Falluja's compensation commissioner has reported that 36,000 of the city's 50,000 homes were destroyed, along with 60 schools and 65 mosques and shrines. \ \

So Remember: Bushite grunts told the world they wouldn't let anyone out of the city, because [enemy Sattler LIED] pro-bushite Zarqawi was there present, so the innocent families who believed they had nothing to fear from the liar disciples of the ungodly enemy of ALL HUMAN LIVES, remained in the tiny city to be indiscriminately 'protected' with more than nine two thousand pound bombs, or made dead instead by heinous pro-bush escaping war criminals who used white phosphorous on civilization. All to die our Humanity for the thieved loss of evidence to demand ourselves of some official freedom time to deal with our terrorized as suffering reality.

True Tyranny - to continue as an American refusing to publicly demand torture, theft, and murder as unexceptable when battlin' evil for your dying freedoms.. Evidence we must pursue on 911 to know really what the heavens Johnny 'The Law Man' is talking about still. Justice to the bushwhacker neocon soldier, a foreigner who apparently speaks no defense for innocent Americans dying sacrificed as conned for the ill stolen gains of the 911 trifecta. Justice to the lying enemies of freedom for America in Christ. Justice for YOU.

What Freedom do bushite war the innocent for to rape, pillage, and murder as blind neocon followers of the 'lawless' demon antichrist? Eh?

"Al-Qaida" = "General Mahmoud Ahmad"

CBC, CNN, FOXNEWS, the Zionists, purposefully work to LIE to the dying American Marine, that the ungodly bushite wars to escape the 911 perpetrators hold some hidden benefit, as the TREASONOUS neocon thieves freely rob from both undefended American and Iraqi citizens, The neoconner, Mr. Bush closed criminal investigations on 911 immediately after the event occurring, while Billions are stolen through 'ear marks' and TVed Americans have no care known to speak of.

Done with American tax paid for rapists, torturers, and terrorists like Aegis who dress up as al-Qaida to murder godly lovers of Justice. CNN, CBC, and FOXNEWS would rather kill the Marine, than teach them where to aim their weaponry of liberation.

CNN, CBC, and FOXNEWS speaks NOTHING to demand the execution of hiding as 'British' soldiers who on prized video tape, beat to death young barefoot children for erotic fun, nor on mercury vaccines not banned minus "The President" in name. BANNED if God were Loved by America, or that the man or woman on the street would financially support my rise by popular command. Would you leave me to know, I will be left without a home to rest, or food to feed my hunger? Would an American?, I ask all Peoples of Earth to witness the American's contempt for Our worthy lives. Sattler ordered the murder of more than 200,000 innocent people in Fallujah, and they speak nothing but lies on how such demonic behaviors are godly as just ignored. Our Lives forsaken, as they hold their very own to die sacrificed for the unelected neocon. I AM AMERICA.

Johnny America Speaks Out

"what's this freedom war against Life for again"?

Hannity is a perfect example of what a neocon is. It's a one way communications system. He tells us what we think, and he'll never takes our calls, they won't read our emails, and they'll continue to pretend WE don't exist. AND... when WE die, they'll be richer for it. AND you'll be dead, your innocent brother will be dead, your innocent child will be dead. No evidence against an accused is US being truly abused. George Walker Bush is Guilty for 911, while every irrational bushite is a traitor to the American Family.

ABCNEWS.com : FBI Called off Terror Investigations

THERE ARE certain principles that we would all agree to publicly speaking. There are criminals who don't like these ideas, but they ain't going to speak out against us. Example
'I don't want to be held accountable to the American public, cause I want to steal that 16 billion dollars for myself.
That's my public opinion.' What are we going to do but defend ourselves of deathly lawless tyranny, eventually. Or, you won't by DECIDING not to decide. Support our rise as the top cop of Humanity, coming down for diplomatic talks to engage the flagrant wanton stupidity of the bushite grunters. All on hopes you'll consider also, these Kingly texts worth a couple hedge funder salaries, a sixty cent barrel of oil marked up to 74 dollars, or a thousandth of the money America would save in

UN's Admission: Lebanon Was Right All Along

/ / Last month its cartographers quietly admitted that Lebanon is right in claiming sovereignty over a small fertile area known as the Shebaa Farms, still occupied by Israel. Israel argues that the territory is Syrian and will be returned in future peace talks with Damascus, even though Syria backs

Lebanon's position. The UN's admission has been mostly ignored by the international media. \ \

Nazi zionists gave US Jews a bad rap again I see. They're despicable criminal savages the neocon.. who steal the rights and privileges of US peopled folks, all to fall victimized with their self confessed contempt for love and justice. Condi's crew dropped seven million land mines to murder ourselves for generations, and, shouldn't she and the neocons responsible be put to death for such conducts?? If not then, when? discuss.. They openly target innocent human beings indiscriminately without apology, but excuses that don't hold water. Not that corporate news professionals are even pouring! It's most definitely the re-occurring true story of a censored mankind with You as it's innocent victim. For, what human would support victimizing others for the tyranny of blind terror? Only bushite amerika would fall silent under such self contempt for our constitutions.

/ / [..]Israeli "Defense" Force (IDF) has announced that it will discontinue its practice of "capturing" populated Palestinian villages during military training exercises. The IDF states it will "reexamine their policy" of conducting such raids on uninformed, panic-stricken Palestinian villages. \ \

Tell me, is this the godly people the neocon boast of for defense in? Or, just again examples of standing terrorism against life ourselves - committed by the censored as will giving, sacrificing American payer? Justice is Freedom.

Do you care to buy the bushite lies, when they commit openly the very same terrorist acts they say we should all be outraged against? Somalia is a case to point. They murder helpless people as bushite, then say they'll remain dying to thieve further as enemies to Humans being. It doesn't fool me, but perhaps it does you. A neocon soldier murders innocent Iraqis, while selling you they are all there risking their lives to bring freedom. So, they die. For lies. Die. Again, KNOWN Aegis goons openly commit crimes against Iraq done officially to get killed! the supposed to be Patriot Marine. P2OG. Soldiers under bushite command would rather die cowardly, than to honorably demand the bushmob's arrest for public trials as defeating ungodly fascist war criminals.

Why suffer otherwise this way under the tyrannies of naked neocon plunder to deny our lives for measured justice I ask YOU again, please believe: truth will set us free.

Al-Qaida = General Mahmoud Ahmad = ungodly bushite liars

bushite talk about random killing of godly persons http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OHvtIL_TRGE

"You can basically kill anyone you want"

/ / Just a "few bad apples"? I don't think so, this is much more widespread from what those soldiers were saying, and SANCTIONED. \ \

Look, a bushite would kill an American child too. When or will Americans become American? Death to the bushite, death to the enemies of Man. Again, national bushite broadcaster, George Norry stated he'd go ballistic against any American soldier who refused to murder for the neocon as traitors, and "America" STILL refuses to speak in their own defense for dying. Death to the bushite, death to the enemies of Freedom for America.

/ / "as the bullets began to fly, the blood sprayed from heard the cheers of godless bushite dumfuk traitors obscening to God and Man as the unholy enemy.] \ \

Look, listen to soldiers who sing about the joys of murdering innocent young girls, see their faces in the videos celebrating the murder of girls LOVED by GOD and ME, and question: Why won't you as an American assist Christ in the glorious hunt. Nothing better in this world than to bill a murderous bushite who claims it's lawless to this suffering Universe, ruled criminally by the demon antichrist enemy of ALL HUMAN LIVES. All religions want US to defend GOD - please help me take on all challengers.

I'm a Good Man
"Al-Qaida" = "General Mahmoud Ahmad"

Why will you not as a member of Humanity, make the call to the Coast to Coast radio network of demon evil nazi savages who deny your legitimate concern be addressed freely?
Hate God and Love do you? Couldn't care less could you for the giving lives of ignorant Americans as an American?

George Norry isn't as stupid as he wishes you believe him to be, when he supports lawless carnage against the innocent, to help escape those truly responsible for 911.

26,000 total Tickets sold - 14,302 votes tabulated to go to a Straw Poll event, and yet we are to believe that 12,000 of those people couldnt even care less about the voting part? Just what were they there for? I don't buy it. This is not believable. An Investigation is needed here. \ \

I said that years ago, but the bushmob isn't listening, because, hey, happy George Norry don't care, and CBC, CNN, and FOXNEWS isn't taking our calls either man.

American soldier: Your enemy is TRULY LIAR happy George Norry.

Pro-mass murderer war criminal Kristol once again, speaking freely to Jon Stewart unchallenged internationally on Our TVs
as "Two Jews" stated..

"We don't believe in original sin."

Colbert half an hour later, "Are you calling Jesus a liar?"

Now, that's funny..

See? Jon Stewart isn't Jewish, for he's not black, and he speaks no words in defense of the innocent robbed and murdered in his "Jewish" name. A Zionist! He wants to sound our public voice silent where a Hitler or Kristol marches innocent others into gas chambers by calling ourselves terrorists without a thread of evidence to thieve from as unworthy. Few know, Hitler was a staunch Zionist too. The excuse would be,
but G-D is worse.. because, as the "Two [atheist] Jews", they can commit no sin against Christ by trumpeting demon evil lies as if, we have no stronger indivisible arguments present in OUR defense ever for Just causes. AND, he's near the best our American national TV media has to offer!

I believe, Jon Stewart suffers from the ignorance of Celebrity more so, than a genuine hatred for Humanity.. as that is the fault of most TVed Americans.
Nothing more greater than getting on the boob tube, to really make your mark on this fleeting world as they sell their life

away for nothing but the privilege to be recognized at a gala swarray.. fed on the victimized innocent of Humanity left robbed as worthless their grand stage. His show is often quite bright however, and leastly, reminds people, that CNN, CBC, and FOXNEWS isn't the be all and end all of respect for US caring viewers.

but looksee.. EVIL is real though -

THINK of how Truly evil a person would be to lie for CNN on this issue.. a "Jew"? would do this?..
A "Jew"?

/ / The inflammatory words MEMRI blasted the US media with were when the young caller "Sanable" was supposed to have said "we will annihilate the Jews" were not even mentioned by the caller or by anyone else in that clip. \ \

SEE! A ZIONIST SAID, "we will annihilate the Jews"

http://www.frontpagemag.com/Articles/ReadArticle.asp?ID=25994

/ / When hundreds of millions are calling for the extermination of the Jews of Israel this is more than a lie; it is a blood libel. \ \ This is like satanic neo-nazi EVIL no?

No? eh... No? eh?eh?eh? ... no? huh? heh. No?. huh..

See? Zionists are nazi betrayers to GOD ALMIGHTLY, for they believe we do not have any power great being Loving for others. You WILL see how GREAT we destroy the bushite, then you'll know what joy love for god as innocence is. And then You'll know for sure, how WE truly are as Just and Free.
And, kinda scary Being all godly and such..

You, George Norry are a demon because you purposefully broadcast to my America the need for neoconned soldiers to die for the lawless demon antichrist, knowing full well, you work 'happy' to escape the 911 perpetrators of American Wrath, like General Ahmad, with your truly evil demonism about Life, and betrayal to freedom for US humans.. Elected Governments All Over The World

British MP Galloway and Richard Perle on TV together!!
http://youtube.com/watch?v=nu4GBnxi3wc

Galloway "These are the people who have overthrown elected governments all over the world. and he [Richard Perle] comes on your program to prattle about democracy. These people don't want democracy, they want slave governments. If it's a slave dictatorship - that's fine. If it's a slave elected government - that's also fine. The only thing that matters is that the government is a slave government. That is why they will never invade Egypt. They will never invade Saudi Arabia.
They only invade countries, or threaten to invade countries,
who stand against them and who refuse to be slaves to them.
That is why they hated Iraq, that's why they hate Iran. That is why they hate Syria. Of all the faults of all the three regimes in these three countries - they were never slaves to the United States, and that's why they were attacked. [...^]
In Iran, 17 million people voted for the president,
Ahmadinejad, and 10 million voted for his opponent Rafsanjani.
Those 27 million are determined to exercise their right to nuclear power. The response of Bush and Perle is to threaten them with invasion. These are the people who murdered Salvador Allende, the elected president of Chile. These are the people who have overthrown elected governments all over the world."

911 Leaders Saying They Are Jesus
http://rss.nfowars.net/20070802_Thu_Alex.mp3

Jason Bermas "I just want to let people know, that if this is a hit piece that involves, you know, saying that we're all blaming the Jews, or the Zionists, or something ridiculous, where we go after an ethnic group, [Jason Bermas suggests "Jews" = "Zionists"?] 'we' can not be associated with ANTI-SEMITISM, space beams, utter kookery.

Alex Jones "Or Jesus! they have 911 leaders saying they are Jesus now. They have people saying it's space beams from Pluto. And folks, I've tracked these people, they all were formally in intelligence, or connected to the Bushes, the space beam thing came from a almost cabinet member level Bush member, and folks this is a setup to poison our movement."

I've given my phone number several times to Alex Jones, of which he's not as of yet, invited me on as official guest, for fears he can find no arguments against US I presume. 911 financier Ahmad = al Qaida, and we have molten iron on video flowing like water. Demon Bush Jr. gave US zero, while closing criminal investigations immediately after the terrorist offense of no questions!, no questions! Case closed. But no, the American media rarely if never mention these facts, while insisting Bush's deathly war criminalling is as only a puppet, look away! look away!, leaving without challenge on the, teen like naivety of wearechange.org's consistence that "we", who demand justice for 911, who might also hold the opinion that zionist behavior does not blindly equal being Jewish, should not be allowed to speak Justly for our public challenge, because bushite Amerika has no defense for censorship against ANY of our judicial wanting, as documented positions on behalf of the suffering to death victimized public. Why? Because we are Just. Well, I try to be anyway. (I've spoken as written for YEARS, with NO ONE WORLD WIDE countering in the public realm, but for the strangely odd insult. Bushite do exist, don't get god wrong, but dumb evil bushite brood in darkness with censorship like all zionists do, selling to be 'godly' honorable men, when in truth, they'd murder anyone of US for a stolen nickel given to a neocon. I, as open line talk radio producer, win every time, always, forever, never fail. [er.. yet..] Why? Because I treat YOU fairly. America should do the same. We are all in this together. Zionists like robbing then killing defenseless innocent Christians, and Jews, while just lying that they don't without scened factual TV perception. Demon 911 WITCH, zionist Condi 'okayed' the dropping of more than SEVEN MILLION land-mines on Lebanon, purposefully done to indiscriminately murder ourselves for generations. Jason might foolishly call you an "anti-Semite" in fear for speaking such not understood truths. And importantly, not because they can publicly disagree so in open debate, so sides to not allow US to rise in acknowledgement to bring about Justice as demanded, for ALL as ANY. (Gee, who's the neocon now eh? (we're all sinners.))

If Americans really want 911 Justice:

Help US out by putting the video of molten iron flowing like water out there in the minds of any who have doubts, tell them hypno mugger Bush, gave US zero to substantiate his public falsehoods, and tell US about Ahmad as more than a passing fact that means little of nothing, then, WE, The People, will believe this has more to do with Justice for Humanity, than the American suffering movie goer ego being, "leading the free world", by voicing no public concerns on the criminality of the bushmob shysters. Left happying in the George Norry, as a TRAITOR to a dying America not hearing. An enemy of Liberty to the, tried to be free soldier, who is led TO DIE still un-wittingly by lie for the misfortuned neocon bounty of global tyranny through coast to coast story lining. Look, the peenackers will tell you freakishly, that they work to lie to us all, to take advantage of a plain to view weakness. I swear. The neocon wants to con your kid to die for a war lied into with as our stolen goods. We lose as crime victims, while they win free accountability because, (well... I'll just let you finish that one liner sucker punch..)

Ron Paul Loves Ron Paul!
http://youtube.com/watch?v=eAvt7BdvJiM

"If you happen to be working for a big company, or the government, you get health benefits dirt cheap.[?] But if your trying to make it on your own, and you don't have insurance, you might be charged two or three time more than the government will pay!"

Almost. PBS showed a man who fell from a ladder, broke a rib, and was bankrupt from his near $250,000+ bill for, for private "free market" health care. Money demanded that doesn't go to the doctors, nurses, or "public" hospitals. So what is Ron Paul saying about Ron Paul? I'd wager, he doesn't know himself, and fears like FOXNEWS from open debate of those who try to teach US to walk through his own argument, (or follow the money (al-Qaida=Ahmad)) and find the fault of all proud blind Libertarians. Look, don't you want the best service possible for the dollars expended? Why give your BASIC health care treatment dollars to a do nothing shareholder, or hedge fund CEOer for procedures, who's success is not made better by needlessly increasing the costs for nothing but selfish sicko greed by bribe payers. Again, rarely are those that "earn" billions in public health care, care givers, but takers. Someone ask Dr. Ron Paul, or Ross Perot, why those with leverage, are able to negotiate better deals through intelligent design, leaving others as single payers, (poor unrepresented pension people,) to flip their expenses? Do we want to publicly sanction screwing over the poor with ignorance, to feed the pay no taxes either, talentless as lowly, highest ranking rich? I suppose if it means radiation treatments.. anti-psychotics or, the play time of genetically altered vaccine strains of true quackery, as has to be done trustingly religious on someone for our money. Money lost as investment on privilege in the market equation of lowering the human capital available to maximize the de-profiting of our shares for nothing but money grubbers. Again, Americans pay TWICE as much as Canadians per-capita, where for those dollars Canadians get full coverage, while Americans are then expected to go out and buy insurance now. TWICE. (Did you know that DO NOTHING hedge fund managers can "earn" as much as 1.7 billion per year in salaries by nickel and dooming everything? And, it's only an elite small few who are 'lawed' to do so? Now, who would want that in a free to be me democracy?)

traffic light for commies, traffic light for commies

A dying waged - by the painfully wealthy status-quo ignoramuses "this is the first step to socialized medicine!!" ahhh!!! caring doctors with calculators are connecting for better prices to improve care.. We'll take less and they'll be free to think.. FOR THEMSELVES! AHHH!!! bare ass and run for cover!! embarrass for. a caring Doctor with math skills and Law is a comin' round, play smart stupid. "What do we do again"?, play smart stupid. . (`_`)

To fix this we must decide what this issue that encompasses the "Health Care Industry", is passing ourselves away off as. Politicians who promote pushing the power of pill popping to purchase your placated peace of mind is perturbed.,

Do Republicans mean to bring health care suffering out of control with no market values, because truly they have little of no skills when it comes to fixing their own buffoonery? Hmm... unless they count to hide the bean all together, fixing the game intentionally to have US lose by remote controlling stupidity! 300 channels, and nobody's taking our call from the space cased file of, "what's this freedom war against Life for again"? Look, is mercury as a medicine good or bad do you think?, let's ask someone for Christ's sake. Or for Deb, Henry, Bill, Beth, Mark, Carol or Tony. Johnny Wizard, our everyday normal magic man of folklore, opens up the stage to ask all the people together, "Are we Man or machine to take this all lying down quietly"? We need to talk about what a King like me, is doing in a place like this, under appreciated, and left alone without my home, dying for a break in radio programming, as President of the company that started the sands running, Shareware Earth Co., a god-like production of miracle and wonder!! You just participate, and you won't even believe how good we could have it, Rejoice, for Johnny Jesus has come down for diplomatic talks. Give away! Give away!

Again, CNN, CBC, and FOXNEWS, (who advertise their listening) suggest G.W. Bush and Co. have publicly acted nothing warranting immediate arrest, or have openly supported the great Kucinich's plan for Impeachment, and consequently, are leveraging America into this mess 'because' we were portrayed as sold to the U.N. for freedom as Iraqi's Grand Strategy. BOGUS! Nothing about the PLANNING of killing people indiscriminately for financial criminal gains as bonafide terrorists, for we had unrestricted access prior to dropping bombs for mangy LIAR neocons. ORHA. I have yet heard FOXNEWS complain in pains of liar BUSH personally being the al-Qaida cause responsible, (like Alex Jones sells foolishly falsely also) More than a million INNOCENT people have been murdered directly by the criminal action of the broken Bush Rule, UN-CONSTITUTIONAL! Don't they know of what You speak? Now???

Make it so,

President and CEO of Shareware Earth Co.
King Johnny Wizard

Christ is Person ! ! !

Justice to the bushite, Justice to the enemies of America, so called out the Son to God as King of men:

BELIEVE!

Like, so in walks this, out of work time Lord who thinks to converse to the masses about the most basic of reasons to save the lives of innocent others, leaving him convinced, he really needed an audience for this fable to rise as profitable venture. So, it was followed to make it out there in this real world, is to care for Justice measured. All done so to bring greater hope for a better future as all would follow, boy, were they surprised!

Johnny Wizard has arrived..

Spare me some money won't you please for this art of wonderous tragedy?, Jeeze..

P.S. I'm still hoping that Coast to Coast will bill me godman co-host, all to openly address these freedom for all operations, with Justice ruling our way over the irrational tyrannies practiced by others happily blinded. Evidence is required to convince ourselves on who is good or evil. Period. Don't like it? Too bad. We are on charged!!

Intelcenter.com = alqaida videos you can get nowhere else!

It is important to also realize, this intecenter terror bringer does nothing to sell the arrest of the actual perpetrators of 911 by supporting our Policed requirement to form actual evidenced conclusions in our the land of the make believe. Now, who personally are these pro-bushite anti-American terror scripters, and what is it going to take to find an informed citizenry out in these here parts, to make the proper conclusions by phone calling for furthering our infos around to channels of command of the big ringers in the sky. I'm sure we's a be furious over these facts of high treason in America if we were allowed to freely say as much on our radios and TV networks. Al-Qaida = General Mahmoud Ahmad

That's what I'm talking about.

BUSHITE AMERKA CLAIMS THIS DOESN'T WARRANT THE DEATH SENTENCE?

Again, evil bushite THIEVES claim they are justified when indiscriminately bombing populated cities to MURDER US People.

General Johnny would teach MY soldiers to immediately arrest to kill for such criminality. In fact, I'd likely even throw in some bonus cash, an a Freedom medal from all lovers of Liberty. Did you know, many bushite sing a song about killing innocent young girls for pleasure? Did you know that also, an "American" radio host likes playing that same song as recorded on "American" airwaves? Fight back for God, or die from self contempt my friends, fight back for life and love.

Again, evil bushite THIEVES claim they are justified when indiscriminately bombing populated cities to MURDER US People. All to help 'escape' the neocon ENEMIES of America - they also support "officially" destroying Our public infrastructure, thieving humanitarian aid, while incarcerating innocent people to collectively be punished by the TRULY Satanic enemies of GOD. Ten "CIA" bushite enemies have been found to have kidnapped near one thousand innocent Americans to be tortured to death, in tyrannical nations friendly under American funding by Bush unquestioningly. Fight back for your neighbor, fight back for America, fight back for YOURSELF. Or, don't.

Murdering bushite gang rapists try escaping true accountability

/ / Why did the Army, within three hours, return to tell neighbors that this was the work of insurgents apparently without any investigation? \ \

See? in Johnny's world, that "the Army" person would have been the FIRST questioned, then likely arrested. But look, it hasn't even been acknowledged as evil doing in progress. (Every time you read, "The Army says..", become aware.)

It should be noted, ungodly bushite enemy commanders call every car bomb in Iraq, al-Qaida, without even pretending to do freedom operations for YOUR protections, as just another dead body in the rubble. (Likely caused by Aegis for cash profit.) So then, look my friends, Amerka refuses to demand justice to save the lives of their very own sons and daughters. And when, WE, Humanity, beg them to answer our calls for accountability, they refuse but for to LIE, stating publicly, "God" would grant robbing from innocent others, to enrich their great unholy tyrannical demon liar. They know easily that the bushmob did 911, and they like it. No, they crave it. The chance of murdering their own "loves" to enslave the human race for the antichrist, sounds great, just as long as they can get themselves in on the take.

/ / Idiot General Says Dead U.S. Troops Best Reason To Keep War Going And Kill More U.S. Troops

[Option B: More Dead U.S. Generals And Fewer Dead U.S.
Troops ?] \ \

If the sacrifice of soldiers lives is going to mean anything, it going to mean how long it took, Americans to care for themselves as really worth something. When, or if that day should come, it will be the day where Iraqis victims are seen, as just you or me. Today, there is nothing more i wish, than to hear bushite nazi savage thieves for the neocon die rightly, before the innocent they target for murder. All in an attempt to 'escape' those truly responsible for the crimes of 911 a bushite whore practices, as an enemy to Christ and America.

Just look at that my friends of Earth just look at that.
Americans speak only contempt for the value of human life.
Every day, INNOCENT Iraqis die by the criminal actions of the demonic neocon enemy forces of EVIL, and our deaths as the god loving mean nothing. A small few die in a bridge ACCIDENT, and every corporate channel devotes the entire day's news as
it. Allawi confesses to killing children for "CIA" money, and there, as with the soldiers who braggingly, beat innocent
children to death for sexual pleasure, bomb people indiscriminately, or steal all the humanitarian aid, don't command your slightest concern as impartial paying for it TV viewers. They say, US people who aren't "Americans", do not deserve due process, the freedoms they claim to own exclusively, of which WE, are granted nothing of. See?, by not using evidence to from your guilty verdicts, how can it be therefore possible, to know, you've arrested, tried, then executed a mass murdering NEOCON war criminal? I don't think Americans could possibly be more disrespectful to God and country, Johnny and Justice right now, do You?

http://existentialistcowboy.blogspot.com/2007/06/911-culprits-why-towers-really-fell.html

/ / We know that a crime was committed on 911. George W.

The Ground Truth
http://www.informationclearinghouse.info/article15319.htm

The part where pro-bush "American" soldiers drive over children to kill them for fun, all because they say our Humanity let's those responsible escape retribution for being Satanically evil as enemies to Christ, left me angered beyond words. While CNN, CBC, and FOXNEWS couldn't care less for those children, but will tell us, these 9 accident victims must rule, so far, two full days of wall to wall coverage. "Pro-Western" Allawi blowing up school buses for "CIA" money? Who cares? Really who cares in TV America for defending OUR children's lives I'm saying? Get me in the news my brothers and sisters, and I'll make the best of it. Just do it. Fear not for my life loves, fear for your life left to silently die in contempt for Humans being.

Thanx much.

Your Constitution is laying undefended, a National act that can not be done by any other terrorist group but those who claim your freedom rights denied by bushite command. Not treasonous? What is the demon TRAITOR to HUMANITY in America saying about the reasons he embeds an Iraqi under 50 odd divergent NEOCON labels? Wouldnt most Al-Qaida take great joy in killing a bushite nazi grunt like any real Family man would also? These LIAR dumfuk grunts who cheer "whore yeah", routinely, can

expert, expect such ungodly antichrist forces to delineate
Al-Qaida from the local communities they PROVABLY
indiscriminately bomb as Satanic?

Kristol and Kagan: Put Everything Behind Escalation So We Can Bomb Iran and Syria

Kristol and Kagan MUST be put to death for treason against America, treason against Life, treason against GOD. They both

peoples indiscriminately they call, "Al-Qaida", all to rob further monies from an undefended America. It is easily exclusively, US, The People, guilty of nothing but our shared love of GOD. Remember forever: there was NO JUSIFIED REASON for bombing PEACEFUL Samara, NONE! that bombers confess was done as ordered by Allawi INDISCRIMINATELY, all for getting killed Marines sent in later for more stolen cash from America. P2OG. [hundreds of bushited Marines died rightly almost immediately - (wow eh?)] A Satanic action, Kistol and Kagan, both blame without thought to question on "Al-Qaida".

Allawi, the truly insane mad man, confesses to having ordered the murder of doctors and nurses that treated wounded god loving women and children from Fallujah. It was these DOCUMENTED acts that had him thrown out of 'the CBC, CNN, and FOXNEWS TV expert scene as workable', all for fears that US humans might actually wake the fuk up on WHO is Our True Enemies here. All three, pro-private-bank zionist news stations are well aware that the bushmob did 911, but lie to YOU as forsakenly dying for their growing riches and world wide broadcast fame.

ABCNEWS.com : FBI Called off Terror Investigations

A question Johnny Wizard has for America: Tell me, is this not a treasonous act - for Bush to close criminal investigations, immediately after the terrorist crimes
of 911? Shouldn't the demon enemy be put to arrest
for that godless act alone in this forsaken dying world?
A world left instead suffering further the tyrannies
of the war criminal ENEMY of all Human Life?

A refresher: the neocon will tell you openly, they live to lie to the Public for cheating and stealing by murder of US as proxied, innocent peoples purposefully enslaved by a made ignorantly entranced TV audience that is repeatedly reminded,
we have no power worth respecting.

CNN, CBC, and FOXNEWS aren't taking are calls presently,
but just lie and tell US they do. Look to see, almost all political internet traffic condemns Bush straight to hell
well he rightly belongs, but the polls still say no - WE, seeking for Just cause, are the minority.. just roll over

and loving.

the joint chiefs of staff assisting General Ahmad, in

today, responsible for 'secretly' ordering these indiscriminate terror attack bombings against YOUR

[The freely self confessed child murderers of the IDF, tell US as demon liars, they're "Jews". Anyone in Israel KNOWS this factually to be so. For, the zionist forbid 'by law', to allow military service from anyone in Israel who disagree that God would will the thieving and murder of the completely innocent in GOD accepting without question. Now why would YOU want that?]

The nazi IDF does what Canada's dope pusher O'Conner suggests we accept. Demon enemy bushite in Afghanistan murder children without real understanding 'by accident', [no evidence is shown to ANYONE, just treasonous demon evil bushite necon spewing, "red handed"] lies after lies, while, the Taliban, we are told, are so much worse, because they would murder "ANYONE." Make sense? No. Remember: (The bush regime has been found funding Al-Qaida in Iran to commit terrorist acts against COWARDLY soldiers without free minds to speak in their own defenses.)

AMERICA HATES BUSHITE

Nationally broadcasted every day across America, Mr. George Norry publicly supports the murder of innocent Arab children, and I'm beginning to really hate a silent dying America for it. Speak to defend the innocent in this world American, or die yourself from self contempt.

Bushites war LIFE itself. So then pleads I again the Son to God, as Man to Men: war to kill the enemy bushite nazi savage thieves, for real Freedom is waged truly by Just causes. The mute, pro-censorship/tyranny THIEVING bushite savaged nation, has NO EXCUSE for the crimes they have committed in our dying names. I demand our voices heard internationally for Justice as Freedom is Godly.

To, with a Love in your Heart for GOD, kill such contempt for Human life, is to serve American freedom to the last bushite neocon breathing. Death to the neocon soldier, death to the enemies of Man.

/ / "They can try to have their votes of no confidence," the president said, "but it's not going to determine - make the determination - who serves in my government."

MY government? Now that's entitlement. And you thought George Bush didn't have a vision for America \ \

Hitler, the mad man, wasn't as insane as our demon enemy George Bush Jr. is.

/ / The [BUSHITE ENEMY] US has said it would refuse any request by Italy to extradite the accused [satanic bushite torturers of completely INNOCENT PEOPLE]. \ \

Christ, The Son of Man, begs the godly men of Earth, to judicially bill on sight, any neocon soldier who supports the carnage waged in Afghanistan as cop killing dope pushers. They shoot innocent women and children dead in the streets for humor, and bushite pirates at CBC and CNN, state bushite in Afghanistan are doing a good thing helping the bushmob escape the crimes of 911 by warring for Muslim fundamentalism, persecuting INNOCENT women and Christians, while for entertainment, bomb innocent families running for their lives from a Holy Church. Soulless child killing soldiers who CBC execs would tell are our DEMONIC heroes. Lawless dope pushing cop killers have got to go down dead screaming, instead of the innocent - YOU and me they target for MURDER. Death to the dishonorable bushite THIEVES, death to the enemy neocon LIARS of GOD and man.

We can really be something greater, while a murderous bushite thief, a LIAR, can hardly read or write Liberty without flinching from self contempt.

Kill a bushite LIAR, why don't you my brothers and sisters of the faith in something greater than bushite godless tyranny?

Brig. General David Fraser - former nazi commander of NATO who 'okayed' the bombing of defenseless innocent Afghan women and children for the Satanic enemies of Man, stated on CBC, he liked killing police officers, along with innocent women and children, (deliberately targeted for the pleasures of the demon antichrist) because, Afghanistan's children hope to learn. See? The bushite 'will' murder all our children and teachers on hope that we will never learn the Taliban, led by "Omar the Just", were loyal to Christ as REAL American Freedom, when publicly demanding evidence to form your conclusions. Thus is why the ENEMY to LIFE neocon state on YOUR TV and radio, WE must never be allowed to speak openly with the Taliban regarding the FACTS. Because if we did, neocon pension thievers would be hunted down in the streets for public trial, and then gloriously put to death by Christian values committed to TRUE freedom from lawless godless zionist LIAR tyrannies against Mankind - YOU included.

George Norry and Art Bell are the most evil of bushite, who as betrayers of the Human race, deny soldiers to know: General Ahmad funded Atta. They will both support the murder of Your American Son or Daughter for further zionist evils, before allowing true open line communications, to defend ourselves from the lawless demon enemies of Man. Do something about it, or don't. Let TRUTH set US free.

Instead of making an easy phone call today for your dying brothers and sisters, die as Satanic bad guy enemies of Life on Earth, sacrificed in cowardice to the real demon antichrist, and see if we, the true, strong, and free, care. The Son of Man SCREAMS before coming home to GOD'S America: We are coming to destroy Satanically lawless bushite enemies, all for the love of God, we shall succeed my friends, we shall succeed. I will not willingly live in a forsaken world with LIAR zionist war criminals conning US to believe, God is not Great, True, Strong and Just.

Die bushite die!

God is Great

Again, George W. bush did 911 with General Ahmad, but CBC
zionists, actual treasonous LIARS, actually smile to dying

Now, it's true, America's Alex Jones states Kucinich wants to take away all your guns, and is a communist, but, Alex as sometimes, is terrified of those who seek the requirements to defend freedom directly, as more specific. (Example: NWO isn't the name of the specific guy who financed 911 to murder America.) So, as a consequence, he gets near ridiculous with labels applicable to generalizations only dummies could believe blindly. With Kucinich campaigning on ACCOUNTABILITY, Alex Jones looks quite foolish. But, he's still trying. Thank god for that. Thank god for that. Talk radio in America should take open line calls on our ideas about how to actually plan to defeat these, found factually to be, traitors to God and Country.

They Couldn't Care Less

The 82 Airborne, in assisting in defending the world wide

Torture is a crime against God and Humanity. So, likewise,

Don't buy their demon lies by blind blanket false assertions,

THIEVING bushite savaged nation, has NO EXCUSE for the crimes they have committed in our dying names. I demand our voices

True, Americans are generally, extremely cowardly as Bush's freely giving PAYERS, led for more ungodly sacrifices in fascistic silence, but this continuing charade of incompetence gathering against our entire Humanity, is going way beyond acceptable to everyone concerning. Johnny Wizard conceivers and otherwise non-believers state together:

The Iraq war against Christ has no true justifiable cause.

The Zionist AIR FORCE bomb people indiscriminately as Satanic
The bushmob stole all the Development Funds for Iraq

What ever happened to butterfly kisses after evening prayers?

Are you telling me, an American Father, wouldn't gloriously kill this lawless bushite enemy and his demonic ilk, for our love of girls everywhere? The Pentagon's Power to Jail Americans Indefinitely
http://www.jonesreport.com/articles/270307_pentagon_power_jail.html

Look, demon enemies of Christ torture innocent people for fun, paid for by the silent American tax payer. Americans refuses to bother making a simple phone call to Coast to Coast to raise some concern. THEY don't. They refuse to hunt bushite down in their streets for death to defend the innocent held indefinitely against GOD'S will. Death to the bushite, death to Johnny's godless, lawless, fascist enemies of FREEDOM.

Look, CNN, CBC, and FOx News know the bushmob did 911, but will smile while watching your son or daughter sent out to die
CONNED by their demonic hatred for US freely communicated.
How do I know this? I made the effort of making the phone calls.

pleasure of the president

US Attorneys don't serve "the pleasure of the president", they serve freedom lovers dedicated to defending America from willful criminality. But, americans are too stupidly weak to demand Coast to Coast hosts allow open communications on America's highest of concerns. Bushite america would rather, in silence, thieve from God as our Humanity, than serve the protections of Justice as ourselves.

/ / According to the Islamic understanding of power, the Mujahideen don't compete for the positions in the leadership. \ \

"Those who negotiate in the name of the Taliban will be killed," he [the bushite nazi dumfuk 'Taliban' 2nd in command] said. He did not elaborate.

Hmmm. Allah is all, and negotiating for freedom from naked bushite tyranny is won EASILY through communicating understanding. The tribal strategy of Afghan fighters, where Allah is Oonerroh, seems to be not the only thing missing from the statements of this "Taliban" RELIGIOUS FUNDEMENTALIST top top top leader. Only "second" to Omar the Just. (Apparently an individual this current bushite incantation of "Dadullah" is totally un-familiar of.) Omar, the Just, whom Dadullah claims he receives his Top Secret nobody can see'im orders. In other winds: Bill a bushite for God and America, an all day long you'll have good faith in a world freeing ourselves of godless dumfuk tyranny implemented by the horribly foolish, as deeply ignorant of Allah, bushite demon liars for the traitor neocon. TRAITORS!

"Those who negotiate in the name of the Taliban will be killed," he [the bushite nazi dumfuk 'Taliban' 2nd in command] said. He did not elaborate.

Allah is all, and negotiating for freedom from naked bushite tyranny is won EASILY through communicating understanding. Omar the Just knew this to say so, as do I. And this is why corporate news professionals forbid me to speak openly without nazi censorship, ON OUR AIR-WAVES, because I am honorable, right, and true as believable. While America's fun guy, zionist George Norry, states to support PUBLICLY, the ungodly murder of innocent Arabic children for nothing but his personal contempt of YOUR DYING LIFE, while further wanting to invite thoughtlessly nuking places on Earth all for his secret hatred of US freely commutating. Typical bushite. Ending with to tell US again 'convincingly', that bin Laden did do 911 as a terror-ist bad guy in G's World!!?! How so? EH? How so? he don't care man, he don't care. He and his family have millions of dollars to sell you out, so why care for your struggle to survive in bushville soldiering?

Alex Jones and me aren't on the best of speaking terms, but I will state, a desire to address every same challenge he has adroitly addressed as publicly lacking. And when I am addressed 'officially', I will campaign to put US in the space to realize, we are the government, we are the people. We don't need to run to the hills and encamp ourselves away to defend ourselves to the max from the man, we are the man. I'm telling yeh, I know this to be so as the sea is we magically. Equal rights for all in God's name is self evident. Self evident to ME anyway... but well.. who am i?, right - I'll tell you as I have for more than a decade as a living fiction forsaken for lack of anybody anywhere understanding in totality what I am here on Earth as true Son to Man - a 'understandable' timeless stand in for G to gain recognition through as honest broker. [I've been everywhere around forever, and.. blahblah.. I know people really don't care to know of ancient wisdoms, truths that guide the order to the Universe, cause often they think I'm beyond their comprehension as a 'better than', when all power is in equal respect for others as our hurting brothers and sisters suffering with tyranny by our collective willful ignorance on Justice.[God's bestest is Just for every reason being thus]] I am one serious genius by no accident in words you have as much right to contend for yourself being, if you'd only believe we have some good ideas here to really defend ourselves with.

Please my American friend, help US speak out freely Coast to Coast. So we together can start, on demanding Justice for all, as innocence in serious jeopardy. Dadullah is most likely an individual who holds at least some control over official military functions of NATO in the region. So, we're going to seed loyalties of the rare Patriots in the force to recognize our need to isolate who supports, not talking FREELY for peace easily in Afghanistan without question. No evidence was brought against Laden, therefore, the Taliban were True Patriots, and bushite traitors are pure racist nazi filth ridden, toxic, as being cowardly dishonorable as despicably evil, enemies to us all. Put US in Command.

Question the bushite, question to anyone who mumbles disagreement in the godly fact, that WE, as Humanity, will spend the better part of this next generation, hunting every last war profiteering nazi war criminal down for our real Freedom from their, so errorred "endless" tyranny of big money terror. Lawlessness with be outlawed, and ANY corporate american who mumbles otherwise, as an enemy totalitarianist, the clear ungodly, (as should be criminal,) will be put to challenge by their very own children, or parents, or bleeding dead brothers. Hannity must be tried for death as lying that the holocaust never happened from Iran. DEATH to the demon liar nazi fu-ker I say, DEATH to the demon liar nazi fu-ker.

Who IS running this bushite nazi liar show, where they, our elite corporate media masters, kill our stupid kids with their flagrant naked monster lies, while refusing all calls for clarity, Johnny America really wants to know. Like immediately. Help us out here some man, don't be evil.

/ / "Those who negotiate in the name of the Taliban will be killed," he said. He did not elaborate. \ \ He's either with the proven cowards of JTF2, or the two or three "CIA" guys secretly hunting bin Laden in caves out there with tens of billions of dollars. SPENT EACH YEAR 'unknowingly'. (No reason why, but, they just can't tell You, as the paying for it really while DYING) Put US in Command.

/ / The Mujahideen aren't students of power and don't compete for power like others do. We are students of truth and work for establishing this truth and for this cause we sacrifice our power \ \

I would offer rewards for more soldiers to come forward. Why? because there truly is, no honor among thieves. Every bushite soldier in Iraq for the liar neocon is minimum, a purposeless dumfuked cowardly thief. See? if you offer a reward, and they don't take it, their 'fellow' bushite, kill'em for it, right? why take the risk it'll cash in over your worthless life? For, who can trust a lying bushite nazi savage? certainly not a lying bushite nazi savage. In other words: speak against committing war criminal acts of lawless aggression in Iraq for Bush, as CLEARLY un-American, and I'll try to forgive you as human. Or, I guess you'll kill yourselves in mutually muted total contempt for this universal life as actually worth something.

When you see and hear on video, sexually dysfunctional, as sadistically satanic grunt puke pro-bush soldiers moaning, while deliberately killing innocent defenseless Family People running for our dying lives from a holy church, or as just simply anyone standing near the side of the road, then, my friend, you'll begin to understand what evil actually is. And, what needs to be done to seriously save ourselves. Seriously. Justice must be won sooner than later.

Five Star American General Johnny Wizard will train American Soldiers to recognize such demonic behaviors in combat as worthy of immediate frag to defend the lives of truly fellow honorable soldiers. Soldiers ACTually, committed to freedom from godless satanic dumfuk tyranny of the antichrist demon, Mr. evil personified, the UN-ELECTED 911 TERRORIST, George Walker Bush and CO..

YOU

"If the absence of violence is victory, no one will ever win."
http://cleveland.indymedia.org/news/2007/03/24652.php

I know, it's seems odd that I am, at the same time, offering answers to any question on the science of God as is pertains to Justice measured, but this is just who I am to be conscious man. So, if we can get over the shock of me being so especially normal, maybe we can then realize, I have some simple good old ideas that transcend through time by rational understanding communicable between any two people. I am not a
"miracle worker" to all those I advise to not eat Aspartame
because it's a poison that also makes your body crave
un-needed carbs, that will likely convert to more unless fat.
So, it slowly kills you, while making you fatter than you need be along the dead end journey faithing in "the system". So, why do some do it religiously? Who cares (for now) but to say, our governments are failing US miserably. I spoke personally with one of the head scientists in Canada at "Health Food and Safety", and he told me the scientific analysis done by reputable scientists I found freely available repeatedly on the internet years ago, was completely true.
(It breaks down to formaldehyde, and methanol (a slow lethal poison), among other shockers. Poison. P-o-i-s-o-n-s in our food stuffs. Poisons.) However, he could take no action to defend Canadians "officially" because we, Canadians, have our corporate interest news departments completely refusing to defend ourselves from corporate exploitation anywhere, and as natural consequence, we, as the dying world, would together unrepresented, probably lose a law suit from mutant Monsanto through the self inflicted bounds of OUR censored WTO program. - instituted through the top secretly mastered puppet people persons of the 'unseen' NWO I guess.

I'm telling you, we need me as King.

Look: Aegis's workforce, for American PAYING profit, has been publicly disclosed through CNN to be shooting people in Iraq indiscriminately for your money, and when the Pentagon was contacted by Nick Roberts about what would be done, they responded, nothing would be done by Johnny's America but to increase the multi-hundred-million dollar contract with demon enemy Tim Spicer to continue. Now... why you ask? Because the neocon liars, steal money by lying to cowardly American kids about what they mindlessly, without thought, give their souls for. Tim Spicer openly hires South African goons to commit hardships for American GIs to die without end for, in lawless tyranny. Peace sells less money for the neocon war profiteers to murder the innocent American as. (Iraqis, along with the rest of Humanity's Men, WILL eventually learn this truth, or life for you will end.) As an Arab hating bushite, (like what you'd find as a publicly proud practiced hatred for all Humanity, by an Amerkan dumfuk soldier in Google's alt.religion.islam), they say nothing for Freedom by Justice, but root themselves to Spicer's monsters who like killing black guys, as world renown mass murdering racist nazi filth. That's why zionist Israel loves them so much.

Look: corporate magic TV people couldn't care less for US if they tried. Ahmad funded Atta. bin Laden claimed he played no part in 911. And video of iron running like water moments before the first tower fell is freely available for download all over the place. CBC, CNN, FOXnews et al. know the Bushmob did 911 in other words. I've spoken to most of those 'in control', and I'm telling you, they're losers, and they know it. Remember: they'll censor my voice to send YOUR child to die for no better good, or reason understood, while entertaining. Weekend TV in North America totally sucks. Now, why do YOU think that is brother? The more powerless they make US, the more money the neocon zionists can murder Humanity for, thinking they might just get away from this if we continue to take no action in defense of anyone as God would will. Let me be Your servant King, by backing me up some here. We need some dollars to eat, and I need it now before we starve to deaths.

Look: Barbra Bodine did the Cole bombing. [the Cole whose crew has been completely overhauled. Where are the many who served there NOW

eh?]

Look: America has kidnapped countless thousands without evidence to be held against OUR will indefinitely. [Like the NOT Jewish Israel]

Look: innocent people are being tortured to death by those who hide OPENLY in America's uniform. [let US hunt them down for GOD, despite what demon lies they argue give them as Satanic to avoid "The Law".]

Look: the bushmob war profiteers STOLE the Iraqi Development fund

Look: the more than 10,000 security contractors for Bush are officially deemed lawlessly unaccountable to anyone - THINK ABOUT IT

Look: Negroponte PERSONALLY stole the Iraqi emergency water provision money

Look: Sattler OPENLY committed the worst war crimes of all Humanity's history

Support my cause, which is your cause.

Senior Military analyst, Rob Riggle "In the field John, the soldiers are out there, every day, risking their lives, for a common Ideal: that none of the President's decisions be questioned."

This is more true than a bushite would admit before murdering a honorable father to rape his young child, like Lcpl Boudreaux freely confesses. Boudreaux will tell you, openly, you have to murder the Arab father of the Arab child your planning to rape, because if you don't, that Father will spend the rest of this life, hunting you down in the streets to rip you limb from limb for it.

Let US, me and the few, proud, and the brave, bring that Father's intent to bare on lancing Boudreaux, and any other who would sing in it's ungodly defense.

Support Johnny Wizard's personal challenge against thieving LIAR traitor Hannity, and his corporate nazi bush whores who lore our stolen values by how much they can deny US privilege. Coast to Coast radio hosts need to be publicly challenged for debate they deny US knowing of together naturally speaking. Great example of our Problem: CBC National Radio, in Canada. When a caller phones during the very rare moments we're taking public words, have a pre-broadcast rig-a-ma-role question session, you'll have with not only the OFF-AIR screener, where he'll probe you for controversy, but after the first process of noting in book form your disclosed intel, will notify you that; IF your independent thought is granted by the "Producer" (- who reviews everyone - rules are rules -) Our national station will phone you back this afternoon, so stay tooned, to line you up with your baking gingerbread creds. They never ever dido! The more Brilliant you are, (like the highly charged as extremely charismatically charming, wild man ruler, Johnny America - the media phenomenoner) the higher probability they'll find POSSIBLE concern, on their do nothing for your taxed attitudes..!. Why take chances someone might show a greater living responsibility to a real suffering God

Let's do this.

"It is not George Bush, it is not the Neocons"

"," = swinging pocket watch

Don't let these neocon zionist bastards doe this to US.

Any Commander that doesn't support the arrest of those responsible for 911 and the subseqent neocon war crimes of Iraq, is a traitor to God and Country.

How much much God take as taken, before you people get on over this criminally empowered war monger Congress of an unelected lawless dictator demon, and call them out on the turning talk commercial radios, all to finally truly defend ourselves with a good media plan for results.

Make the call, be a man.

Sir Ken, head of the Crown Prosecution Service

"The fight against terrorism on the streets of [..] is not a war. It is the prevention of crime, the enforcement of our laws and the winning of justice for those damaged by their infringement."

You got that right. So, join US in demanding the quick trials, and public executions of known bushite enemies who murdered Americans on 911 with general Ahmad, and who with Peter Powers, murdered the innocent in Britain for more stolen goods against God. And anyone in the air force as bushite bombers should be a great joy for US all to hunt for prosecuting too. The bushite dumfuk is an enemy to our lives, with it's blatant naked contempt for the innocent, who like the demon liar THEIVES at CJOB, George Norry, or Hannity, will forbid ANY human defenses of the lawless dictate of the IRRATIONAL tyrannical demon antichrist, all so to victimize more of You as the censored forsaken.

REPENT. [from the Greek, meaning to think.]

The TRUE Son of Man Johnny Wizard Exists Born to this Eternal World to end permanently demonic bushite enemies of Creation. Help Life out by destroying cowardly America's greatest threat to the Species, the greatest threat against Humanity's Freedom to be Loved by God. Corporate nazi zionist bushlores at CBC, CNN, and criminal thieving from the desperately poor in Winnipeg CJOBers forbid open communications, and I can't 'take over', because then I'd be defeating my own, power to the Peoples argument. So, it really is up to YOU, yes you there... reader. Who.. really..? YOU, here, now. Life begs, takes a stand for your fellow man, and demand our voices heard for the defense of the entire human race. And be quick about it. Repuglicons don't want freedom from endless war where they kill your forsaken kids, for we all know, bushites would be publicly tried, then spend the rest of their treasonous lives behind bars broke, or dead from lethal injections made popular in America. Again, officer Bowman is responsible for letting 'escape' those from Fort Detrick, who attempted to murder the American Congressmen who thought going into lawless tyranny, !makes no sense! Where is corporate America on our issues when OUR free speech is ruled by the irrational evil minds of Limbaugh, Bell, and Norry?!?!! Back to Bowman: Bowman, also is responsible for sabotaging the Moussaoui warrant. And, how much you wanna bet, he's probably the same bushite who found Atta's passport, and likely had all 19 names of the high-jackers to give CNN, CBC, and FoxNews just like the neocon's "bin Laden" would have too. Take the publicly prancing bushite enemy out for questions by yourself, if he doesn't plead his defense publicly on Coast to Coast by tomorrow. Remember, there ain't an "Intelligence" group worth their salt on the face of our Earth, that doesn't know exactly what I'm doing here honorably for a real Justice made through careful thought. So, support Johnny Wizard speaking for public challenges internationally, and with the 23 plus co-operating for life 'Intel' agencies, along with, anyone else who can join in on the call. as a growing number of Patriot Soldiers, who trust yourself to see, this wanting of Justice isn't complicated. A person accused of a terrorist event without any evidence, has our accuser a bushite, who should be watched carefully until verifiable conclusions are done by the understanding of fact. Not faith. With George W. Bush making real decisions in faith, expecting us to believe as corporately broadcasted unabashedly unbiased, that he is not a deliberate incompetent monster war criminal of unfathomable evil?, who is just too 'stupid' to understand why we are innocent until proven otherwise?, is really something we all need to scream about to save our dying lives.

"[..] just like the neocon's "bin Laden" would have too."

However, the real Laden, on video taped confession, claimed he played no part whatsoever in 911, then later, offered himself for arrest, confident he would be acquitted. Not corporately newsworthy though, so, few even know why their American child was later died in the terrorists act of corporate contempt for US living Freedom with something greater as real Justice wills

Again, my friends, Art Bell and George Norry have thousands of bushite dumfuk in America that will phone them to tell US how greatly they are to have no care for dying freedoms in America. While when the humans call, Art Bell for example, between breaks, when privately screening his calls, just hangs up on anyone he fears might articulate things like Ahmad funded 911's Atta, according to the FBI, in defense of America. They know no one is listening - they just want to jam adjacent-channel competitors off the dial and hope they will cave to HD Radio.

In 1967, the BBC Light Program divided into Radio One (primarily rock) and Radio 2. Obviously, Radio 1 is a child of pirate radio, perhaps, to some extent, in the same sense that George Washington is the father of Kingston, Ontario, Canada.

Anyway, look for 40th anniversary specials on Radio 1 and Radio 2, especially Sunday GMT+1 morning.

Both stations are streamed and most of the programs have Real Audio on demand.

CHRIST RETURNS

I again, beg Humanity to speak in opposition to Amerika in the defense of our innocent forsaken dying lives. CBC producers know the bushmob did 911 but lie with propaganda to kill our families for the ungodly as thieving neocon enemies. They refuse to inform ourselves that Al-Qaida is General Mahmoud Ahmad, as according to the FBI. Or that video of iron flowing like water from the WTC towers exists indicating without doubt, the bushmob enemies did 911 as TRAITORS.

Today, there is nothing more i wish, than to hear bushite nazi savage thieves for the neocon die rightly, before the innocent they target for murder. All in an attempt to 'escape' those truly responsible for the crimes of 911 a bushite whore practices, as an enemy to Christ and America.

Evidence is required to convince ourselves on who is good or evil. Period. Don't like it? Too bad. We are on charged!!

Who cares about yourself if you won't listen as reason to? What can you lose when you have granted to be blindly stolen from?

Zionist nazi Israelis, do tell as LIARS, that Israel, the nation that openly thieves, tortures, and murders daily thoses THEY ADMIT are commpletely innocent, are enemies of every religious person denied access to honestly speak the facts as firmly established since the dawn of Man.

Did you hear? A DOJ manager charges American tax payers $4.50 for every can drink he, and the rest of his cadre can swallow. Buying bulk, the pop cans likely truly cost 35 or so cents. So... who's pocketing the stolen loot? Cause, you know that would be FRAUD. CNN reported that your 'meatball' story would cause no demands for the returns of stolen funs, no bushite would lose it's high costing position, as no one would be tried for treason and gloriously put to death publicly for the defense of God and country. ..They were actually laughing..

I AM AMERICA

Sattler ordered the murder of more than 200,000 innocent people in Fallujah, and they speak nothing but lies on how such demonic behaviors are godly as just ignored. Our Lives forsaken, as they hold their very own to die sacrificed for the unelected traitor neocon. I AM AMERICA.

America MUST demand war crime trials for the propaganda CNN broadcast "Anvil of God" regarding the demonic actions of Bravo company. They forgot to tell America importantly, nazi forces forbade the population from leaving, gunning originally for everyone between 15 to 55, but sided instead to murder infants and the elderly too, when beginning the Zarqawi campaign by bombing hospitals as first strike targets. As such, the bushite murdered many good doctors and nurses - so all to send bushite snipers on hospital near rooftops gunning for every seriously injured woman and child who tried to get help from the Humans. While driving down residential streets, grenading every home of humans being. Remember that when you hear these dishonorable bushite thieves die rightly for god and country.

See?.. women and children, who the enemy bushite forbade to leave the city with their innocent families, who, as were all living in the entire city of mosques conveniently found labeled therefore by bushite, "Insurgents" (or did leave earlier, and had our innocent families reportedly indiscriminately murdered two miles or so down the road by the most evil war crime act of recorded history.)

Importantly, there was no evidence made awared of, that legitimately offered PUBLICLY, from the UN or the U.S. to indicate a refugee camp anywhere, but for maybe a small group photographed - then some belligerent bushite bogus pocus - all headed up by a blatant traitor to America named Sattler. Reminder: after the indiscriminate carnage, they couldn't find near anyone for weeks who would take money offered to any citizen freely who survived for their satanic benefactor. So insanely disturbing as ungodly evil doing, war criminal Sattler called a halt to giving out charitable considerations from Americans to the unseen surviving victims - all in an 'escape' attempt to make it look better for US, the paying audience. So, where did our stolen values go to then eh? (Sattler's pocket no doubt.)

/ / "With no medical supplies, people died from their wounds. Everyone in the street was a target for the Americans.

The US also deployed incendiary weapons, including white phosphorous. "Usually we keep the gloves on," Captain Erik Krivda said, but "for this operation, we took the gloves off". By the end of operations, the city lay in ruins. Falluja's compensation commissioner has reported that 36,000 of the city's 50,000 homes were destroyed, along with 60 schools and 65 mosques and shrines. \ \

So Remember: Bushite grunts told the world they wouldn't let anyone out of the city, because [enemy Sattler LIED] pro-bushite Zarqawi was there present, so the innocent families who believed they had nothing to fear from the liar disciples of the ungodly enemy of ALL HUMAN LIVES, remained in the tiny city to be indiscriminately 'protected' with more than nine two thousand pound bombs, or made dead instead by heinous pro-bush escaping war criminals who used white phosphorous on civilization. All to die our Humanity for the thieved loss of evidence to demand ourselves of some official freedom time to deal with our terrorized as suffering reality.

True Tyranny - to continue as an American refusing to publicly demand torture, theft, and murder as unexceptable when battlin' evil for your dying freedoms.. Evidence we must pursue on 911 to know really what the heavens Johnny 'The Law Man' is talking about still. Justice to the bushwhacker neocon soldier, a foreigner who apparently speaks no defense for innocent Americans dying sacrificed as conned for the ill stolen gains of the 911 trifecta. Justice to the lying enemies of freedom for America in Christ. Justice for YOU.

Tatum, who freely confesses he's a proud child killer without

The TRAITOR prosecutor has ridiculously stated to our world -

/ / Lt. Col. Paul J. Ware wrote in a 29-page report that there is insufficient evidence to show that Lance Cpl.
Stephen B. Tatum did anything other than follow Marine Corps rules when he killed [for no reason, innocent] women and children \ \

TATUM ADMITS he enjoyed slaughtering the defenseless families deliberately!! In fact, he wrote a card to a dead marine's family, testifying that he murdered the innocent young girls for the tyrannies of the antichrist. Evidence that TRAITOR Paul Ware and Mattis hides from the Christian American Family.
Will YOU, as an American man, allow these two bush bitch nazi punks to survive as furthering the commitment of more war crimes against the INNOCENT? as a zionist neocon's "Hero"?
Will You defend our girls? Peoples of Earth! Help Me save our children.. please.. please..please

TRAITOR Paul Ware "Tatum shot and killed people in houses 1 and 2, but the reason he did so was because of his training and the circumstances he was placed in, not to exact revenge and commit murder."

TATUM STATED DIRECTLY IT WAS TO EXACT REVENGE AND COMMIT MURDER!! HE WROTE SO TO THE FAMILY OF THE MARINE WHO DIED! A FAMILY WHO WOULD MOST CERTAINLY SUPPORT TATUM'S EXECUTION AS DEMONIC TRAITOR TO FREEDOM IN AMERICA!! ASK THEM!!

Prosecutor Lt. Col. Paul Atterbury "Lance Corporal Tatum were not legitimate targets, then entered a second home and participated in the murder of [more innocent] women and children,"

/ / One of the Marines charged with murdering civilians in Haditha,

What Freedom do bushite war the innocent for to rape, pillage, and murder as blind neocon followers of the 'lawless' demon antichrist? Eh?

"Al-Qaida" = "General Mahmoud Ahmad"

CBC, CNN, FOXNEWS, the Zionists, purposefully work to LIE to the dying American Marine, that the ungodly bushite wars to escape the 911 perpetrators hold some hidden benefit, as the TREASONOUS neocon thieves freely rob from both undefended American and Iraqi citizens, The neoconner, Mr. Bush closed criminal investigations on 911 immediately after the event occurring, while Billions are stolen through 'ear marks' and TVed Americans have no care known to speak of.

Done with American tax paid for rapists, torturers, and terrorists like Aegis who dress up as al-Qaida to murder godly lovers of Justice. CNN, CBC, and FOXNEWS would rather kill the Marine, than teach them where to aim their weaponry of liberation.

CNN, CBC, and FOXNEWS speaks NOTHING to demand the execution of hiding as 'British' soldiers who on prized video tape, beat to death young barefoot children for erotic fun, nor on mercury vaccines not banned minus "The President" in name. BANNED if God were Loved by America, or that the man or woman on the street would financially support my rise by popular command. Would you leave me to know, I will be left without a home to rest, or food to feed my hunger? Would an American?, I ask all Peoples of Earth to witness the American's contempt for Our worthy lives. Sattler ordered the murder of more than 200,000 innocent people in Fallujah, and they speak nothing but lies on how such demonic behaviors are godly as just ignored. Our Lives forsaken, as they hold their very own to die sacrificed for the unelected neocon. I AM AMERICA.

Johnny America Speaks Out

"what's this freedom war against Life for again"?

Hannity is a perfect example of what a neocon is. It's a one way communications system. He tells us what we think, and he'll never takes our calls, they won't read our emails, and they'll continue to pretend WE don't exist. AND... when WE die, they'll be richer for it. AND you'll be dead, your innocent brother will be dead, your innocent child will be dead. No evidence against an accused is US being truly abused. George Walker Bush is Guilty for 911, while every irrational bushite is a traitor to the American Family.

ABCNEWS.com : FBI Called off Terror Investigations

THERE ARE certain principles that we would all agree to publicly speaking. There are criminals who don't like these ideas, but they ain't going to speak out against us. Example
'I don't want to be held accountable to the American public,
cause I want to steal that 16 billion dollars for myself.
That's my public opinion.' What are we going to do but defend ourselves of deathly lawless tyranny, eventually. Or, you won't by DECIDING not to decide. Support our rise as the top cop of Humanity, coming down for diplomatic talks to engage the flagrant wanton stupidity of the bushite grunters. All on hopes you'll consider also, these Kingly texts worth a couple hedge funder salaries, a sixty cent barrel of oil marked up to 74 dollars, or a thousandth of the money America would save in a year, if you adopted Canadian Health care systems overnight for yourself to immediately provide all People the respect for life we deserve. Or don't, and needlessly continue to pay twice as much, while dying broke as self made losers without a cause worth preserving. A free market open to waste for profit

UN's Admission: Lebanon Was Right All Along
http://www.globalresearch.ca/index.php?context=viewArticle&code=COO20070816&articleId=6568

/ / Last month its cartographers quietly admitted that Lebanon
is right in claiming sovereignty over a small fertile area known as the Shebaa Farms, still occupied by Israel. Israel argues that the territory is Syrian and will be returned in future peace talks with Damascus, even though Syria backs

Lebanon's position. The UN's admission has been mostly ignored by the international media. \ \

Nazi zionists gave US Jews a bad rap again I see. They're despicable criminal savages the neocon.. who steal the rights and privileges of US peopled folks, all to fall victimized with their self confessed contempt for love and justice. Condi's crew dropped seven million land mines to murder ourselves for generations, and, shouldn't she and the neocons responsible be put to death for such conducts?? If not then, when? discuss.. They openly target innocent human beings indiscriminately without apology, but excuses that don't hold water. Not that corporate news professionals are even pouring! It's most definitely the re-occurring true story of a censored mankind with You as it's innocent victim. For, what human would support victimizing others for the tyranny of blind terror? Only bushite amerika would fall silent under such self contempt for our constitutions.

/ / [..]Israeli "Defense" Force (IDF) has announced that it will discontinue its practice of "capturing" populated Palestinian villages during military training exercises. The IDF states it will "reexamine their policy" of conducting such raids on uninformed, panic-stricken Palestinian villages. \ \

Tell me, is this the godly people the neocon boast of for defense in? Or, just again examples of standing terrorism against life ourselves - committed by the censored as will giving, sacrificing American payer? Justice is Freedom.

Do you care to buy the bushite lies, when they commit openly the very same terrorist acts they say we should all be outraged against? Somalia is a case to point. They murder helpless people as bushite, then say they'll remain dying to thieve further as enemies to Humans being. It doesn't fool me, but perhaps it does you. A neocon soldier murders innocent Iraqis, while selling you they are all there risking their lives to bring freedom. So, they die. For lies. Die. Again, KNOWN Aegis goons openly commit crimes against Iraq done officially to get killed! the supposed to be Patriot Marine. P2OG. Soldiers under bushite command would rather die cowardly, than to honorably demand the bushmob's arrest for public trials as defeating ungodly fascist war criminals.

Why suffer otherwise this way under the tyrannies of naked neocon plunder to deny our lives for measured justice I ask YOU again, please believe: truth will set us free.

Al-Qaida = General Mahmoud Ahmad = ungodly bushite liars

I can't understand why you can't help get this party up as starting by supporting our rise to highest acclaim with my rights making might. Who is who here, a freeing peoples I

Pro-mass murderer war criminal Kristol once again, speaking
freely to Jon Stewart unchallenged internationally on Our TVs
as "Two Jews" stated..

"We don't believe in original sin."

Colbert half an hour later, "Are you calling Jesus a liar?"

Now, that's funny..

See? Jon Stewart isn't Jewish, for he's not black, and he speaks no words in defense of the innocent robbed and murdered
in his "Jewish" name. A Zionist! He wants to sound our public voice silent where a Hitler or Kristol marches innocent
others into gas chambers by calling ourselves terrorists
without a thread of evidence to thieve from as unworthy. Few know, Hitler was a staunch Zionist too. The excuse would be,
but G-D is worse.. because, as the "Two [atheist] Jews", they can commit no sin against Christ by trumpeting demon evil lies
as if, we have no stronger indivisible arguments present in OUR defense ever for Just causes. AND, he's near the best our American national TV media has to offer!

I believe, Jon Stewart suffers from
the ignorance of Celebrity more so, than a genuine hatred for Humanity.. as that is the fault of most TVed Americans.
Nothing more greater than getting on the boob tube, to really
make your mark on this fleeting world as they sell their life

away for nothing but the privilege to be recognized at a gala swarray.. fed on the victimized innocent of Humanity left robbed as worthless their grand stage. His show is often quite bright however, and leastly, reminds people, that CNN, CBC, and FOXNEWS isn't the be all and end all of respect for US caring viewers.

but looksee.. EVIL is real though -

THINK of how Truly evil a person would be to lie for CNN on this issue.. a "Jew"? would do this?..
A "Jew"?

/ / The inflammatory words MEMRI blasted the US media with were when the young caller "Sanable" was supposed to have said "we will annihilate the Jews" were not even mentioned by the caller or by anyone else in that clip. \ \

SEE! A ZIONIST SAID, "we will annihilate the Jews"

http://www.frontpagemag.com/Articles/ReadArticle.asp?ID=25994

/ / When hundreds of millions are calling for the extermination of the Jews of Israel this is more than a lie; it is a blood libel. \ \ This is like satanic neo-nazi EVIL no?

No? eh... No? eh?eh?eh? ... no? huh? heh. No?. huh..

See? Zionists are nazi betrayers to GOD ALMIGHTLY, for they believe we do not have any power great being Loving for others. You WILL see how GREAT we destroy the bushite, then you'll know what joy love for god as innocence is. And then You'll know for sure, how WE truly are as Just and Free.
And, kinda scary Being all godly and such..

Demon evil enemy neocon George Norry is a naked traitor to History:

"..Show me proof that there are real demons"

You, George Norry are a demon because you purposefully broadcast to my America the need for neoconned soldiers to die for the lawless demon antichrist, knowing full well, you work 'happy' to escape the 911 perpetrators of American Wrath, like General Ahmad, with your truly evil demonism about Life, and betrayal to freedom for US humans.. George Norry is 'the evil spirits' he says you can never find. Evidence.

Elected Governments All Over The World

British MP Galloway and Richard Perle on TV together!!
http://youtube.com/watch?v=nu4GBnxi3wc

Galloway "These are the people who have overthrown elected governments all over the world. and he [Richard Perle] comes on your program to prattle about democracy. These people don't want democracy, they want slave governments. If it's a slave dictatorship - that's fine. If it's a slave elected government - that's also fine. The only thing that matters is that the government is a slave government. That is why they will never invade Egypt. They will never invade Saudi Arabia.
They only invade countries, or threaten to invade countries,
who stand against them and who refuse to be slaves to them.
That is why they hated Iraq, that's why they hate Iran. That is why they hate Syria. Of all the faults of all the three regimes in these three countries - they were never slaves to the United States, and that's why they were attacked. [...^]
In Iran, 17 million people voted for the president,
Ahmadinejad, and 10 million voted for his opponent Rafsanjani.
Those 27 million are determined to exercise their right to nuclear power. The response of Bush and Perle is to threaten them with invasion. These are the people who murdered Salvador Allende, the elected president of Chile. These are the people who have overthrown elected governments all over the world."

It's too bad we don't have like organizations world wide, committed to gathering important info to serve the interests of the public body. 911 Leaders Saying They Are Jesus
http://rss.nfowars.net/20070802_Thu_Alex.mp3

Jason Bermas "I just want to let people know, that if this is a hit piece that involves, you know, saying that we're all blaming the Jews, or the Zionists, or something ridiculous, where we go after an ethnic group, [Jason Bermas suggests "Jews" = "Zionists"?] 'we' can not be associated with ANTI-SEMITISM, space beams, utter kookery.

Alex Jones "Or Jesus! they have 911 leaders saying they are Jesus now. They have people saying it's space beams from Pluto. And folks, I've tracked these people, they all were formally in intelligence, or connected to the Bushes, the space beam thing came from a almost cabinet member level Bush member, and folks this is a setup to poison our movement."

Now??

I've given my phone number several times to Alex Jones, of which he's not as of yet, invited me on as official guest, for fears he can find no arguments against US I presume. 911 financier Ahmad = al Qaida, and we have molten iron on video flowing like water. Demon Bush Jr. gave US zero, while closing criminal investigations immediately after the terrorist offense of no questions!, no questions! Case closed. But no, the American media rarely if never mention these facts, while insisting Bush's deathly war criminalling is as only a puppet, look away! look away!, leaving without challenge on the, teen like naivety of wearechange.org's consistence that "we", who demand justice for 911, who might also hold the opinion that zionist behavior does not blindly equal being Jewish, should not be allowed to speak Justly for our public challenge, because bushite Amerika has no defense for censorship against ANY of our judicial wanting, as documented positions on behalf of the suffering to death victimized public. Why? Because we are Just. Well, I try to be anyway. (I've spoken as written for YEARS, with NO ONE WORLD WIDE countering in the public realm, but for the strangely odd insult. Bushite do exist, don't get god wrong, but dumb evil bushite brood in darkness with censorship like all zionists do, selling to be 'godly' honorable men, when in truth, they'd murder anyone of US for a stolen nickel given to a neocon. I, as open line talk radio producer, win every time, always, forever, never fail. [er.. yet..] Why? Because I treat YOU fairly. America should do the same. We are all in this together. Zionists like robbing then killing defenseless innocent Christians, and Jews, while just lying that they don't without scened factual TV perception. Demon 911 WITCH, zionist Condi 'okayed' the dropping of more than SEVEN MILLION land-mines on Lebanon, purposefully done to indiscriminately murder ourselves for generations. Jason might foolishly call you an "anti-Semite" in fear for speaking such not understood truths. And importantly, not because they can publicly disagree so in open debate, so sides to not allow US to rise in acknowledgement to bring about Justice as demanded, for ALL as ANY. (Gee, who's the neocon now eh? (we're all sinners.))

If Americans really want 911 Justice:

Help US out by putting the video of molten iron flowing like water out there in the minds of any who have doubts, tell them hypno mugger Bush, gave US zero to substantiate his public falsehoods, and tell US about Ahmad as more than a passing fact that means little of nothing, then, WE, The People, will believe this has more to do with Justice for Humanity, than the American suffering movie goer ego being, "leading the free world", by voicing no public concerns on the criminality of the bushmob shysters. Left happying in the George Norry, as a TRAITOR to a dying America not hearing. An enemy of Liberty to the, tried to be free soldier, who is led TO DIE still un-wittingly by lie for the misfortuned neocon bounty of global tyranny through coast to coast story lining. Look, the peenackers will tell you freakishly, that they work to lie to us all, to take advantage of a plain to view weakness. I swear. The neocon wants to con your kid to die for a war lied into with as our stolen goods. We lose as crime victims, while they win free accountability because, (well... I'll just let you finish that one liner sucker punch..)

Ron Paul Loves Ron Paul!
http://youtube.com/watch?v=eAvt7BdvJiM

"If you happen to be working for a big company, or the government, you get health benefits dirt cheap.[?] But if your trying to make it on your own, and you don't have insurance, you might be charged two or three time more than the government will pay!"

Almost. PBS showed a man who fell from a ladder, broke a rib, and was bankrupt from his near $250,000+ bill for, for private "free market" health care. Money demanded that doesn't go to the doctors, nurses, or "public" hospitals. So what is Ron Paul saying about Ron Paul? I'd wager, he doesn't know himself, and fears like FOXNEWS from open debate of those who try to teach US to walk through his own argument, (or follow the money (al-Qaida=Ahmad)) and find the fault of all proud blind Libertarians. Look, don't you want the best service possible for the dollars expended? Why give your BASIC health care treatment dollars to a do nothing shareholder, or hedge fund CEOer for procedures, who's success is not made better by needlessly increasing the costs for nothing but selfish sicko greed by bribe payers. Again, rarely are those that "earn" billions in public health care, care givers, but takers. Someone ask Dr. Ron Paul, or Ross Perot, why those with leverage, are able to negotiate better deals through intelligent design, leaving others as single payers, (poor unrepresented pension people,) to flip their expenses? Do we want to publicly sanction screwing over the poor with ignorance, to feed the pay no taxes either, talentless as lowly, highest ranking rich? I suppose if it means radiation treatments.. anti-psychotics or, the play time of genetically altered vaccine strains of true quackery, as has to be done trustingly religious on someone for our money. Money lost as investment on privilege in the market equation of lowering the human capital available to maximize the de-profiting of our shares for nothing but money grubbers. Again, Americans pay TWICE as much as Canadians per-capita, where for those dollars Canadians get full coverage, while Americans are then expected to go out and buy insurance now. TWICE. (Did you know that DO NOTHING hedge fund managers can "earn" as much as 1.7 billion per year in salaries by nickel and dooming everything? And, it's only an elite small few who are 'lawed' to do so? Now, who would want that in a free to be me democracy?)

A dying waged - by the painfully wealthy status-quo ignoramuses "this is the first step to socialized medicine!!" ahhh!!! caring doctors with calculators are connecting for better prices to improve care.. We'll take less and they'll be free to think.. FOR THEMSELVES! AHHH!!! bare ass and run for cover!! embarrass for. a caring Doctor with math skills and Law is a comin' round, play smart stupid. "What do we do again"?, play smart stupid. . (`_`)

To fix this we must decide what this issue that encompasses the "Health Care Industry", is passing ourselves away off as. Politicians who promote pushing the power of pill popping to purchase your placated peace of mind is perturbed.,

Do Republicans mean to bring health care suffering out of control with no market values, because truly they have little of no skills when it comes to fixing their own buffoonery? Hmm... unless they count to hide the bean all together, fixing the game intentionally to have US lose by remote controlling stupidity! 300 channels, and nobody's taking our call from the space cased file of, "what's this freedom war against Life for again"? Look, is mercury as a medicine good or bad do you think?, let's ask someone for Christ's sake. Or for Deb, Henry, Bill, Beth, Mark, Carol or Tony. Johnny Wizard, our everyday normal magic man of folklore, opens up the stage to ask all the people together, "Are we Man or machine to take this all lying down quietly"? We need to talk about what a King like me, is doing in a place like this, under appreciated, and left alone without my home, dying for a break in radio programming, as President of the company that started the sands running, Shareware Earth Co., a god-like production of miracle and wonder!! You just participate, and you won't even believe how good we could have it, Rejoice, for Johnny Jesus has come down for diplomatic talks. Give away! Give away!

Again, CNN, CBC, and FOXNEWS, (who advertise their listening) suggest G.W. Bush and Co. have publicly acted nothing warranting immediate arrest, or have openly supported the great Kucinich's plan for Impeachment, and consequently, are leveraging America into this mess 'because' we were portrayed as sold to the U.N. for freedom as Iraqi's Grand Strategy. BOGUS! Nothing about the PLANNING of killing people indiscriminately for financial criminal gains as bonafide terrorists, for we had unrestricted access prior to dropping bombs for mangy LIAR neocons. ORHA. I have yet heard FOXNEWS complain in pains of liar BUSH personally being the al-Qaida cause responsible, (like Alex Jones sells foolishly falsely also) More than a million INNOCENT people have been murdered directly by the criminal action of the broken Bush Rule, UN-CONSTITUTIONAL! Don't they know of what You speak? Now???

Make it so,

President and CEO of Shareware Earth Co.
King Johnny Wizard

Christ is Person ! ! !

Justice to the bushite, Justice to the enemies of America, so called out the Son to God as King of men:

BELIEVE!

Like, so in walks this, out of work time Lord who thinks to converse to the masses about the most basic of reasons to save the lives of innocent others, leaving him convinced, he really needed an audience for this fable to rise as profitable venture. So, it was followed to make it out there in this real world, is to care for Justice measured. All done so to bring greater hope for a better future as all would follow, boy, were they surprised!

Johnny Wizard has arrived..

Spare me some money won't you please for this art of wonderous tragedy?, Jeeze..

P.S. I'm still hoping that Coast to Coast will bill me godman co-host, all to openly address these freedom for all operations, with Justice ruling our way over the irrational tyrannies practiced by others happily blinded. Evidence is required to convince ourselves on who is good or evil. Period. Don't like it? Too bad. We are on charged!!

Intelcenter.com = alqaida videos you can get nowhere else!

It is important to also realize, this intecenter terror bringer does nothing to sell the arrest of the actual perpetrators of 911 by supporting our Policed requirement to form actual evidenced conclusions in our the land of the make believe. Now, who personally are these pro-bushite anti-American terror scripters, and what is it going to take to find an informed citizenry out in these here parts, to make the proper conclusions by phone calling for furthering our infos around to channels of command of the big ringers in the sky. I'm sure we's a be furious over these facts of high treason in America if we were allowed to freely say as much on our radios and TV networks. Al-Qaida = General Mahmoud Ahmad

That's what I'm talking about.

BUSHITE AMERKA CLAIMS THIS DOESN'T WARRANT THE DEATH SENTENCE?

Again, evil bushite THIEVES claim they are justified when indiscriminately bombing populated cities to MURDER US People.

General Johnny would teach MY soldiers to immediately arrest to kill for such criminality. In fact, I'd likely even throw in some bonus cash, an a Freedom medal from all lovers of Liberty. Did you know, many bushite sing a song about killing innocent young girls for pleasure? Did you know that also, an "American" radio host likes playing that same song as recorded on "American" airwaves? Fight back for God, or die from self contempt my friends, fight back for life and love.

Again, evil bushite THIEVES claim they are justified when indiscriminately bombing populated cities to MURDER US People. All to help 'escape' the neocon ENEMIES of America - they also support "officially" destroying Our public infrastructure, thieving humanitarian aid, while incarcerating innocent people to collectively be punished by the TRULY Satanic enemies of GOD. Ten "CIA" bushite enemies have been found to have kidnapped near one thousand innocent Americans to be tortured to death, in tyrannical nations friendly under American funding by Bush unquestioningly. Fight back for your neighbor, fight back for America, fight back for YOURSELF. Or, don't.

See the bushite, you bill it for Christ, You bill it for America, You bill it for them, you bill it for US.

Murdering bushite gang rapists try escaping true accountability

See? in Johnny's world, that "the Army" person would have been the FIRST questioned, then likely arrested. But look, it hasn't even been acknowledged as evil doing in progress. (Every time you read, "The Army says..", become aware.)

It should be noted, ungodly bushite enemy commanders call every car bomb in Iraq, al-Qaida, without even pretending to do freedom operations for YOUR protections, as just another dead body in the rubble. (Likely caused by Aegis for cash profit.) So then, look my friends, Amerka refuses to demand justice to save the lives of their very own sons and daughters. And when, WE, Humanity, beg them to answer our calls for accountability, they refuse but for to LIE, stating publicly, "God" would grant robbing from innocent others, to enrich their great unholy tyrannical demon liar. They know easily that the bushmob did 911, and they like it. No, they crave it. The chance of murdering their own "loves" to enslave the human race for the antichrist, sounds great, just as long as they can get themselves in on the take.

/ / Idiot General Says Dead U.S. Troops Best Reason To Keep War Going And Kill More U.S. Troops

[Option B: More Dead U.S. Generals And Fewer Dead U.S.
Troops ?] \ \

If the sacrifice of soldiers lives is going to mean anything, it going to mean how long it took, Americans to care for themselves as really worth something. When, or if that day should come, it will be the day where Iraqis victims are seen, as just you or me. Today, there is nothing more i wish, than
to hear bushite nazi savage thieves for the neocon die
rightly, before the innocent they target for murder. All in an attempt to 'escape' those truly responsible for the crimes of 911 a bushite whore practices, as an enemy to Christ and America.

Just look at that my friends of Earth just look at that.
Americans speak only contempt for the value of human life.
Every day, INNOCENT Iraqis die by the criminal actions of the demonic neocon enemy forces of EVIL, and our deaths as the god loving mean nothing. A small few die in a bridge ACCIDENT,
and every corporate channel devotes the entire day's news as
it. Allawi confesses to killing children for "CIA" money, and there, as with the soldiers who braggingly, beat innocent
children to death for sexual pleasure, bomb people
indiscriminately, or steal all the humanitarian aid, don't command your slightest concern as impartial paying for it TV viewers. They say, US people who aren't "Americans", do not deserve due process, the freedoms they claim to own exclusively, of which WE, are granted nothing of. See?, by not using evidence to from your guilty verdicts, how can it be therefore possible, to know, you've arrested, tried, then executed a mass murdering NEOCON war criminal? I don't think Americans could possibly be more disrespectful to God and country, Johnny and Justice right now, do You?

http://existentialistcowboy.blogspot.com/2007/06/911-culprits-why-towers-really-fell.html

/ / We know that a crime was committed on 911. George W.

Support US please, to work on Just causes for the betterment of the human species, Or don't and die unworthy you bunch of bushite nazi savages.

We Have A Problem Here

Look, Bush closed investigations on 911 immediately, then started firstly on Iraq, for war mongering thieves, with General Ahmad escaping un-accosted for the neocon enemies. Not relevant? Your Constitution is laying undefended, a National act that can not be done by any other terrorist group but those who claim your freedom rights denied by bushite command. Not treasonous? Look Condi, the demon 911 nazi witch PERSONALLY assisted in dropping more than seven million land-mines on Lebanon indiscriminately in Your terrorized dying names. Hate Life and God as yourself do You?

Don't anyone be deceived that the neocon enemies minimally assisted these crimes by refusing to allow US pursue the evil doers by following the actual crime scene leads, but we lack REAL leadership skills that are naturally required to see molten Iron flowing like water from the 911 towers on YouTube. Oh golly gee, who is that theatrical man from Canada with all the answers on Justice for Peace with Freedom Ruling Supreme? with atheists and everything? A brilliant man given next to no chance at receiving acknowledgment in Bushite media amerikan impires.?

Ray McGovern on 911 broadcast nation-wide on the coast to coast radio network "What we need here is an investigation. There are answers out there, but no one has pursued the answers." Similarly, there are questions that we isn't [allowed] figuring.

"No one has pursued the answers"? Come on Ray, don't tell US, you have no internet access, or haven't seen the video of molten iron flowing like water... blahblahblah

These DEMONS need to be arrested, tried, and EXECUTED for TREASON. TRAITORS TO LIFE

"I told him, there's women and kids in that room," Lance Cpl. Humberto M. Mendoza said of Lance Cpl. Stephen B. Tatum. Tatum's response was, "Well, shoot them,"

If Americans don't proudly put to death Tatum, on behalf of the Family that lost their son, their Marine, Johnny will formally conclude, Bushite america is an ungodly evil nazi fascist state of intolerance and hate to US, the Great Human Race. Bushite amerka does not own Freedom, nor do they own our rights to be Just. Join me in demanding the Public execution of the satanic demon liar Tatum, on his Public insistence that murdering innocent families to thieve from for the neocon, is a crime not warranting the death sentence enforced by any family man. Death to the bushite. death to the enemies of man. The neocons will be arrested, tried, and executed for the crimes of 911 as traitors to Life.

Death to the bushite instead of the innocent loved in God

/ / IntelCenter issued a tacit warning that the footage may be re-hashed when they released the "new" tape to the media, but they failed to mention the fact that they released portions of the exact same clips in October 2003. \ \ amazingly - I witnessed blurred-out faces of those they claimed al-Qaida in another instance just recently. I say American taxing payer folks, flip me some dollars, and I'll pay out rewards - after a moderate lunch - all to take desecrating Elvis. Elvis Presley. If you don't love Elvis, there is something seriously wrong with America. Now yous messing with a real son-of-bitch. HeY!, question: why don't Americans kill a bushite for Yourself bud? - because Bushites

Time is Up

Al-Qaida Kagan "Al-Qaida, their whole strategy revolves around generating sectarian violence, because that is how they embed themselves within local communities "

What?? For friendship?

What is the demon TRAITOR to HUMANITY in America saying about the reasons he embeds an Iraqi under 50 odd divergent NEOCON labels? Wouldnt most Al-Qaida take great joy in killing a bushite nazi grunt like any real Family man would also? These LIAR dumfuk grunts who cheer "whore yeah", routinely, can barely read or write, so, how possibly does this FOXNEWS
expert, expect such ungodly antichrist forces to delineate
Al-Qaida from the local communities they PROVABLY
indiscriminately bomb as Satanic?

Kristol and Kagan: Put Everything Behind Escalation So We
Can Bomb Iran and Syria

Kristol and Kagan MUST be put to death for treason against America, treason against Life, treason against GOD. They both have continued to Publicly advocate murdering more innocent peoples indiscriminately they call, "Al-Qaida", all to rob
further monies from an undefended America. It is easily learned by any as all, the victims of bushite tyranny are exclusively, US, The People, guilty of nothing but our shared love of GOD. Remember forever: there was NO JUSIFIED REASON for bombing PEACEFUL Samara, NONE! that bombers confess was done as ordered by Allawi INDISCRIMINATELY, all for getting killed Marines sent in later for more stolen cash from America. P2OG. [hundreds of bushited Marines died rightly almost immediately - (wow eh?)] A Satanic action, Kistol and Kagan, both blame without thought to question on "Al-Qaida".

The action of Satanic bushite bombers targeting Samara as war criminals is FULLY documented.

Death to the bushite neocon LIARS, death to the enemies of Freedom for Humanity. My beloved friends of GOD, please, when you see the mute bushite, kill it for Christ, kill it for Love, kill it to defend your loved family. (Any soldier who doesn't proudly talk of how it hunts those British soldiers who kidnapped barefoot children and victimized them on video, is a soldier worth destroying NOW to defend GOD and Life from needless death.) I HATE the REAL demon antichrist Christ says.

/ / The US has also been backing some pro-western politicians like Iyad Allawi \ \

Do you know who Allawi is? Allawi confesses to blowing up school buses filled with children for "CIA" money. NOT THEORY. HE ADMITS IT AS AN ACTUAL SATANIC DEMON! Allawi, the truly insane mad man, confesses to having ordered the murder of doctors and nurses that treated wounded god loving women and children from Fallujah. It was these DOCUMENTED acts that had him thrown out of 'the CBC, CNN, and FOXNEWS TV expert scene as workable', all for fears that US humans might actually wake the fuk up on WHO is Our True Enemies here. All three, pro-private-bank zionist news stations are well aware that the bushmob did 911, but lie to YOU as forsakenly dying for their growing riches and world wide broadcast fame.

CBC National Newz - July 11th 'tens of thousands have died in Iraq since the war against truth started.'

Anyway, these two Allawi incidences are fully documented, look it up, then demand the "The US" pro-western politician person quoted as supporting Allawi - be found guilty of CRIMES AGAINST HUMANITY, Demand publicly, having the neocon zionists EXECUTED by America, for America, as America. A Just America that defends America from criminal madness. Or don't. Death to the bushite, death to the enemies of Man I say.

ABCNEWS.com : FBI Called off Terror Investigations

A question Johnny Wizard has for America: Tell me, is this not a treasonous act - for Bush to close criminal investigations, immediately after the terrorist crimes
of 911? Shouldn't the demon enemy be put to arrest
for that godless act alone in this forsaken dying world?
A world left instead suffering further the tyrannies
of the war criminal ENEMY of all Human Life?

A refresher: the neocon will tell you openly, they live to lie to the Public for cheating and stealing by murder of US as proxied, innocent peoples purposefully enslaved by a made ignorantly entranced TV audience that is repeatedly reminded,
we have no power worth respecting.

CNN, CBC, and FOXNEWS aren't taking are calls presently,
but just lie and tell US they do. Look to see, almost all political internet traffic condemns Bush straight to hell
well he rightly belongs, but the polls still say no - WE,
seeking for Just cause, are the minority.. just roll over and die for the neocon betrayers to god and country, life
and loving.

George Bush "The same folks that are bombing innocent

George Bush 'Iraq has nothing to do with 911, you bunch

- die America die. I mean... I love Jesus'

So it was as I thought too: the direct co-operation of the joint chiefs of staff assisting General Ahmad, in committing the murder of thousands in America on 911 for the neocon TRAITORS, as the same 'escaping' enemies
today, responsible for 'secretly' ordering these indiscriminate terror attack bombings against YOUR Satanic.

DEMON MURDERER PETER POWER TRIES TO LIE HIS SOCKS OFF ABOUT HOW HE MURDERS LONDONERS AS A FOR REAL TERRORIST RECRUITER

OBSTRUCTING JUSTICE FOR AMERICA

oversight abilities."

BLATANTLY TREASONOUS war criminals acting to measurably now destroy yOur Freedoms in godless America. The Satanic neocon's 'faith', is in that YOU as an American, will watch the same corporate drivel that offers next to nothing to empower YOURSELF to speak Justly for a dying America. Instead of demanding 24 hour, wall to wall news coverage, of war criminals going down one by one by the will of Man to Justice,

AMERICA HATES BUSHITE

Nationally broadcasted every day across America, Mr. George Norry publicly supports the murder of innocent Arab children, and I'm beginning to really hate a silent dying America for it. Speak to defend the innocent in this world American, or die yourself from self contempt.

Bushites war LIFE itself. So then pleads I again the Son to God, as Man to Men: war to kill the enemy bushite nazi savage thieves, for real Freedom is waged truly by Just causes. The mute, pro-censorship/tyranny THIEVING bushite savaged nation, has NO EXCUSE for the crimes they have committed in our dying names. I demand our voices heard internationally for Justice as Freedom is Godly.

To, with a Love in your Heart for GOD, kill such contempt for Human life, is to serve American freedom to the last bushite neocon breathing. Death to the neocon soldier, death to the enemies of Man.

/ / "They can try to have their votes of no confidence," the president said, "but it's not going to determine - make the determination - who serves in my government."

/ / The [BUSHITE ENEMY] US has said it would refuse any request by Italy to extradite the accused [satanic bushite torturers of completely INNOCENT PEOPLE]. \ \

Christ, The Son of Man, begs the godly men of Earth, to judicially bill on sight, any neocon soldier who supports the carnage waged in Afghanistan as cop killing dope pushers. They shoot innocent women and children dead in the streets for humor, and bushite pirates at CBC and CNN, state bushite in Afghanistan are doing a good thing helping the bushmob escape the crimes of 911 by warring for Muslim fundamentalism, persecuting INNOCENT women and Christians, while for entertainment, bomb innocent families running for their lives from a Holy Church. Soulless child killing soldiers who CBC execs would tell are our DEMONIC heroes. Lawless dope pushing cop killers have got to go down dead screaming, instead of the innocent - YOU and me they target for MURDER. Death to the dishonorable bushite THIEVES, death to the enemy neocon LIARS of GOD and man.

We can really be something greater, while a murderous bushite thief, a LIAR, can hardly read or write Liberty without flinching from self contempt.

Kill a bushite LIAR, why don't you my brothers and sisters of the faith in something greater than bushite godless tyranny?

Brig. General David Fraser - former nazi commander of NATO who 'okayed' the bombing of defenseless innocent Afghan women and children for the Satanic enemies of Man, stated on CBC, he liked killing police officers, along with innocent women and children, (deliberately targeted for the pleasures of the demon antichrist) because, Afghanistan's children hope to learn. See? The bushite 'will' murder all our children and teachers on hope that we will never learn the Taliban, led by "Omar the Just", were loyal to Christ as REAL American Freedom, when publicly demanding evidence to form your conclusions. Thus is why the ENEMY to LIFE neocon state on YOUR TV and radio, WE must never be allowed to speak openly with the Taliban regarding the FACTS. Because if we did, neocon pension thievers would be hunted down in the streets for public trial, and then gloriously put to death by Christian values committed to TRUE freedom from lawless godless zionist LIAR tyrannies against Mankind - YOU included.

George Norry and Art Bell are the most evil of bushite, who as betrayers of the Human race, deny soldiers to know: General Ahmad funded Atta. They will both support the murder of Your American Son or Daughter for further zionist evils, before allowing true open line communications, to defend ourselves from the lawless demon enemies of Man. Do something about it, or don't. Let TRUTH set US free.

Instead of making an easy phone call today for your dying brothers and sisters, die as Satanic bad guy enemies of Life on Earth, sacrificed in cowardice to the real demon antichrist, and see if we, the true, strong, and free, care. The Son of Man SCREAMS before coming home to GOD'S America: We are coming to destroy Satanically lawless bushite enemies, all for the love of God, we shall succeed my friends, we shall succeed. I will not willingly live in a forsaken world with LIAR zionist war criminals conning US to believe, God is not Great, True, Strong and Just.

Die bushite die!

AS DYING, American families, [and forsakes Christ as demon

Kill a bushite as the Love of Justice for Humanity

God is Great

Again, George W. bush did 911 with General Ahmad, but CBC
zionists, actual treasonous LIARS, actually smile to dying Canadian soldiers with only true contempt. CBC kills Canadian kids, with their intentional demon lies, trying to subvert Justice for God and Johnny. In fact, yesterday, they did a special, all on how "God is NOT Great", giving that bush bitch demon LIAR, all the space to pontificate it's hatred for Wisdom, Science, and GOD, with only nods and smiles from the 'illiterate' hord. Remember: A zionist KNOWS it's an enemy of Humanity when it supports dropping seven million land minds to murder indiscriminately OUR CHILDREN for decades, or stealing a Christians Home because they say God says Jews would do such ungodly acts. Blame innocent Jews the holocaust denying zionist shout, of which not one, is a Jew. Like me.

To Kill a Bushite, is to be Heroic

Pro child killer George Norry, enemy of the American soldier, still blabs about how more must die unjustly for bin Laden with LIES, knowing full well, video of steel flowing like water from the WTC exists, and that General Ahmad funded Atta.
George Norry is a traitor to the FBI, who further plans more to die sacrificed under the censorship of the tyrant antichrist. Who cares I ask about America truly dying as neoCONNED, for George Norry has millions to not take your calls for protection, and honestly, 'Americans' couldn't care much less for Our Humanity's future. The Son of Man begs the Men of Earth to defend Ourselves from the unholy forces of our tyrannical enemies. Death to the ungodly bushite thieving LIARS, death to the ungodly enemies of American children everywhere. GOD praises all Men, who kill the murderous bushite enemies of Just causes. The THIEVING satanic bushite forces, speak only contempt for GOD on our demandings of the public execution of the boastful terrorists, like the bushite who video taped the murderous assault of OUR kidnapped bare footed children, or murdered Iraqis while desecrating ELVIS, done all to please the "escaping" satanic demon antichrist zionist, Our Mr. bush Jr., who with his private business partner, General Ahmad, actually committed the ungodly treasons of 911 in a land of blind men sleeping., according to the eternally Honorable FBI anyway.

War criminals who deliberately set them up with Satanic 'black magic' to be killed in criminal actions. P2OG. Kucinich for President!
http://www.democracynow.org/index.pl?issue=20070524

Now, it's true, America's Alex Jones states Kucinich wants to take away all your guns, and is a communist, but, Alex as sometimes, is terrified of those who seek the requirements to defend freedom directly, as more specific. (Example: NWO isn't the name of the specific guy who financed 911 to murder America.) So, as a consequence, he gets near ridiculous with labels applicable to generalizations only dummies could believe blindly. With Kucinich campaigning on ACCOUNTABILITY, Alex Jones looks quite foolish. But, he's still trying. Thank god for that. Thank god for that. Talk radio in America should take open line calls on our ideas about how to actually plan to defeat these, found factually to be, traitors to God and Country.

What ever happened to butterfly kisses after evening prayers?

Are you telling me, an American Father, wouldn't gloriously kill this lawless bushite enemy and his demonic ilk, for our love of girls everywhere? Or, how about the UNARRESTED soldiers we witnessed on video beat shoeless children pratically to death while laughing and cheering? Or like those that speak zero defenses for Haditha's confessed MASS MURDERING irrational women and child killers? The REAL demons

CONFESS to going into a house, WITHOUT reasoned approach, and slaughtering an entire INNOCENT family.. for nothing but their lifeless SATANIC pleasures. The 'cause'? To, for God, gloriously, with love, kill these unarrested murderous continuing ungodly bushite nazis, is to war the TRUE enemies of Humanity to save the lives of our precious loved ones.

The Pentagon's Power to Jail Americans Indefinitely
http://www.jonesreport.com/articles/270307_pentagon_power_jail.html

Look, demon enemies of Christ torture innocent people for fun, paid for by the silent American tax payer. Americans refuses to bother making a simple phone call to Coast to Coast to raise some concern. THEY don't. They refuse to hunt bushite down in their streets for death to defend the innocent held indefinitely against GOD'S will. Death to the bushite, death
to Johnny's godless, lawless, fascist enemies of FREEDOM.

Look, CNN, CBC, and FOx News know the bushmob did 911, but will smile while watching your son or daughter sent out to die
CONNED by their demonic hatred for US freely communicated.
How do I know this? I made the effort of making the phone calls.

"Al-Qaida" = "General Mahmoud Ahmad"

Defend freedom, and the FBI, by demanding Coast to Coast radio hosts allow free communications, absent their personal contempt for preserving freedom to be our America. George Norry WILL kill Your American child for the contempt he truly holds for our lives here. He says he only supports murdering Arab children for the neocon, but when your not looking in his 'shadows', he'll kill your child too, don't doubt it for a second.

pleasure of the president

US Attorneys don't serve "the pleasure of the president", they serve freedom lovers dedicated to defending America from willful criminality. But, americans are too stupidly weak to demand Coast to Coast hosts allow open communications on America's highest of concerns. Bushite america would rather, in silence, thieve from God as our Humanity, than serve the protections of Justice as ourselves.

/ / According to the Islamic understanding of power, the Mujahideen don't compete for the positions in the leadership. \ \

"Those who negotiate in the name of the Taliban will be killed," he [the bushite nazi dumfuk 'Taliban' 2nd in command] said. He did not elaborate.

Hmmm. Allah is all, and negotiating for freedom from naked bushite tyranny is won EASILY through communicating understanding. The tribal strategy of Afghan fighters, where Allah is Oonerroh, seems to be not the only thing missing from the statements of this "Taliban" RELIGIOUS FUNDEMENTALIST top top top leader. Only "second" to Omar the Just. (Apparently an individual this current bushite incantation of "Dadullah" is totally un-familiar of.) Omar, the Just, whom Dadullah claims he receives his Top Secret nobody can see'im orders. In other winds: Bill a bushite for God and America, an all day long you'll have good faith in a world freeing ourselves of godless dumfuk tyranny implemented by the horribly foolish, as deeply ignorant of Allah, bushite demon liars for the traitor neocon. TRAITORS!

"Those who negotiate in the name of the Taliban will be killed," he [the bushite nazi dumfuk 'Taliban' 2nd in command] said. He did not elaborate.

Allah is all, and negotiating for freedom from naked bushite tyranny is won EASILY through communicating understanding. Omar the Just knew this to say so, as do I. And this is why corporate news professionals forbid me to speak openly without nazi censorship, ON OUR AIR-WAVES, because I am honorable, right, and true as believable. While America's fun guy, zionist George Norry, states to support PUBLICLY, the ungodly murder of innocent Arabic children for nothing but his personal contempt of YOUR DYING LIFE, while further wanting to invite thoughtlessly nuking places on Earth all for his secret hatred of US freely commutating. Typical bushite. Ending with to tell US again 'convincingly', that bin Laden did do 911 as a terror-ist bad guy in G's World!!?! How so? EH? How so? he don't care man, he don't care. He and his family have millions of dollars to sell you out, so why care for your struggle to survive in bushville soldiering?

Alex Jones and me aren't on the best of speaking terms, but I will state, a desire to address every same challenge he has adroitly addressed as publicly lacking. And when I am addressed 'officially', I will campaign to put US in the space to realize, we are the government, we are the people. We don't need to run to the hills and encamp ourselves away to defend ourselves to the max from the man, we are the man. I'm telling yeh, I know this to be so as the sea is we magically. Equal rights for all in God's name is self evident. Self evident to ME anyway... but well.. who am i?, right - I'll tell you as I have for more than a decade as a living fiction forsaken for lack of anybody anywhere understanding in totality what I am here on Earth as true Son to Man - a 'understandable' timeless stand in for G to gain recognition through as honest broker. [I've been everywhere around forever, and.. blahblah.. I know people really don't care to know of ancient wisdoms, truths that guide the order to the Universe, cause often they think I'm beyond their comprehension as a 'better than', when all power is in equal respect for others as our hurting brothers and sisters suffering with tyranny by our collective willful ignorance on Justice.[God's bestest is Just for every reason being thus]] I am one serious genius by no accident in words you have as much right to contend for yourself being, if you'd only believe we have some good ideas here to really defend ourselves with.

Please my American friend, help US speak out freely Coast to Coast. So we together can start, on demanding Justice for all, as innocence in serious jeopardy. Dadullah is most likely an individual who holds at least some control over official military functions of NATO in the region. So, we're going to seed loyalties of the rare Patriots in the force to recognize our need to isolate who supports, not talking FREELY for peace easily in Afghanistan without question. No evidence was brought against Laden, therefore, the Taliban were True Patriots, and bushite traitors are pure racist nazi filth ridden, toxic, as being cowardly dishonorable as despicably evil, enemies to us all. Put US in Command.

Question the bushite, question to anyone who mumbles disagreement in the godly fact, that WE, as Humanity, will spend the better part of this next generation, hunting every last war profiteering nazi war criminal down for our real Freedom from their, so errorred "endless" tyranny of big money terror. Lawlessness with be outlawed, and ANY corporate american who mumbles otherwise, as an enemy totalitarianist, the clear ungodly, (as should be criminal,) will be put to challenge by their very own children, or parents, or bleeding dead brothers. Hannity must be tried for death as lying that the holocaust never happened from Iran. DEATH to the demon liar nazi fu-ker I say, DEATH to the demon liar nazi fu-ker.

Who IS running this bushite nazi liar show, where they, our elite corporate media masters, kill our stupid kids with their flagrant naked monster lies, while refusing all calls for clarity, Johnny America really wants to know. Like immediately. Help us out here some man, don't be evil.

/ / "Those who negotiate in the name of the Taliban will be killed," he said. He did not elaborate. \ \ He's either with the proven cowards of JTF2, or the two or three "CIA" guys secretly hunting bin Laden in caves out there with tens of billions of dollars. SPENT EACH YEAR 'unknowingly'. (No reason why, but, they just can't tell You, as the paying for it really while DYING) Put US in Command.

/ / The Mujahideen aren't students of power and don't compete for power like others do. We are students of truth and work for establishing this truth and for this cause we sacrifice our power \ \

I would offer rewards for more soldiers to come forward. Why? because there truly is, no honor among thieves. Every bushite soldier in Iraq for the liar neocon is minimum, a purposeless dumfuked cowardly thief. http://cleveland.indymedia.org/news/2007/03/24652.php

answers to any question on the science of God as is pertains
to Justice measured, but this is just who I am to be conscious man. So, if we can get over the shock of me being so especially normal, maybe we can then realize, I have some simple good old ideas that transcend through time by rational understanding communicable between any two people. I am not a
"miracle worker" to all those I advise to not eat Aspartame
because it's a poison that also makes your body crave
un-needed carbs, that will likely convert to more unless fat.
So, it slowly kills you, while making you fatter than you need be along the dead end journey faithing in "the system". So, why do some do it religiously? Who cares (for now) but to say, our governments are failing US miserably. I spoke personally with one of the head scientists in Canada at
"Health Food and Safety", and he told me the scientific analysis done by reputable scientists I found freely available repeatedly on the internet years ago, was completely true.
(It breaks down to formaldehyde, and methanol (a slow lethal poison), among other shockers. Poison. P-o-i-s-o-n-s in our food stuffs. Poisons.) However, he could take no action to defend Canadians "officially" because we, Canadians, have our corporate interest news departments completely refusing to defend ourselves from corporate exploitation anywhere, and as

natural consequence, we, as the dying world, would together unrepresented, probably lose a law suit from mutant Monsanto through the self inflicted bounds of OUR censored WTO program. - instituted through the top secretly mastered puppet people persons of the 'unseen' NWO I guess.

I'm telling you, we need me as King.

Look: Aegis's workforce, for American PAYING profit, has been publicly disclosed through CNN to be shooting people in Iraq indiscriminately for your money, and when the Pentagon was contacted by Nick Roberts about what would be done, they responded, nothing would be done by Johnny's America but to increase the multi-hundred-million dollar contract with demon enemy Tim Spicer to continue. Now... why you ask? Because the neocon liars, steal money by lying to cowardly American kids about what they mindlessly, without thought, give their souls for. Tim Spicer openly hires South African goons to commit hardships for American GIs to die without end for, in lawless tyranny. Peace sells less money for the neocon war profiteers to murder the innocent American as. (Iraqis, along with the rest of Humanity's Men, WILL eventually learn this truth, or life for you will end.) As an Arab hating bushite, (like what you'd find as a publicly proud practiced hatred for all Humanity, by an Amerkan dumfuk soldier in Google's alt.religion.islam), they say nothing for Freedom by Justice, but root themselves to Spicer's monsters who like killing black guys, as world renown mass murdering racist nazi filth. That's why zionist Israel loves them so much.

Look: Somebody stole four trillion dollars out of the Pentagon.

Look: corporate magic TV people couldn't care less for US if they tried. Ahmad funded Atta. bin Laden claimed he played no part in 911. And video of iron running like water moments before the first tower fell is freely available for download all over the place. CBC, CNN, FOXnews et al. know the Bushmob did 911 in other words. I've spoken to most of those 'in control', and I'm telling you, they're losers, and they know it. Remember: they'll censor my voice to send YOUR child to die for no better good, or reason understood, while entertaining. Weekend TV in North America totally sucks. Now, why do YOU think that is brother? The more powerless they make US, the more money the neocon zionists can murder Humanity for, thinking they might just get away from this if we continue to take no action in defense of anyone as God would will. Let me be Your servant King, by backing me up some here. We need some dollars to eat, and I need it now before we starve to deaths.

Look: Barbra Bodine did the Cole bombing. [the Cole whose crew has been completely overhauled. Where are the many who served there NOW

eh?]

Look: America has kidnapped countless thousands without evidence to be held against OUR will indefinitely. [Like the NOT Jewish Israel]

Look: innocent people are being tortured to death by those who hide OPENLY in America's uniform. [let US hunt them down for GOD, despite what demon lies they argue give them as Satanic to avoid "The Law".]

Look: the bushmob war profiteers STOLE the Iraqi Development fund

Look: the more than 10,000 security contractors for Bush are officially deemed lawlessly unaccountable to anyone - THINK ABOUT IT

Look: Negroponte PERSONALLY stole the Iraqi emergency water provision money

Look: Sattler OPENLY committed the worst war crimes of all Humanity's history

Support my cause, which is your cause.

Senior Military analyst, Rob Riggle "In the field John, the soldiers are out there, every day, risking their lives, for a common Ideal: that none of the President's decisions be questioned."

This is more true than a bushite would admit before murdering a honorable father to rape his young child, like Lcpl Boudreaux freely confesses. Boudreaux will tell you, openly, you have to murder the Arab father of the Arab child your planning to rape, because if you don't, that Father will spend the rest of this life, hunting you down in the streets to rip you limb from limb for it.

Let US, me and the few, proud, and the brave, bring that Father's intent to bare on lancing Boudreaux, and any other who would sing in it's ungodly defense.

Zionist american media celebs do tell, everyday, soldiers for the neocon are all Heroes.

Please, my brothers, join me in hunting each and every bushite present in this video down for death. For a Love of God that will never end, until we have seen each and every responsible child killing bushite present brought to true Justice extreme.

Don't let these neocon zionist bastards doe this to US.

Any Commander that doesn't support the arrest of those responsible for 911 and the subseqent neocon war crimes of Iraq, is a traitor to God and Country.

How much much God take as taken, before you people get on over this criminally empowered war monger Congress of an unelected lawless dictator demon, and call them out on the turning talk commercial radios, all to finally truly defend ourselves with a good media plan for results.

Make the call, be a man.

Sir Ken, head of the Crown Prosecution Service

"The fight against terrorism on the streets of [..] is not a war. It is the prevention of crime, the enforcement of our laws and the winning of justice for those damaged by their infringement."

You got that right. So, join US in demanding the quick trials, and public executions of known bushite enemies who murdered Americans on 911 with general Ahmad, and who with Peter Powers, murdered the innocent in Britain for more stolen goods against God. And anyone in the air force as bushite bombers should be a great joy for US all to hunt for prosecuting too. The bushite dumfuk is an enemy to our lives, with it's blatant naked contempt for the innocent, who like the demon liar THEIVES at CJOB, George Norry, or Hannity, will forbid ANY human defenses of the lawless dictate of the IRRATIONAL tyrannical demon antichrist, all so to victimize more of You as the censored forsaken.

The TRUE Son of Man Johnny Wizard Exists Born to this Eternal World to end permanently demonic bushite enemies of Creation. Help Life out by destroying cowardly America's greatest threat to the Species, the greatest threat against Humanity's Freedom to be Loved by God. Corporate nazi zionist bushlores at CBC, CNN, and criminal thieving from the desperately poor in Winnipeg CJOBers forbid open communications, and I can't 'take over', because then I'd be defeating my own, power to the Peoples argument. So, it really is up to YOU, yes you there... reader. Who.. really..? YOU, here, now. Life begs, takes a stand for your fellow man, and demand our voices heard for the defense of the entire human race. And be quick about it. Repuglicons don't want freedom from endless war where they kill your forsaken kids, for we all know, bushites would be publicly tried, then spend the rest of their treasonous lives behind bars broke, or dead from lethal injections made popular in America. Again, officer Bowman is responsible for letting 'escape' those from Fort Detrick, who attempted to murder the American Congressmen who thought going into lawless tyranny, !makes no sense! Where is corporate America on our issues when OUR free speech is ruled by the irrational evil minds of Limbaugh, Bell, and Norry?!?!! Back to Bowman: Bowman, also is responsible for sabotaging the Moussaoui warrant. And, how much you wanna bet, he's probably the same bushite who found Atta's passport, and likely had all 19 names of the high-jackers to give CNN, CBC, and FoxNews just like the neocon's "bin Laden" would have too. Take the publicly prancing bushite enemy out for questions by yourself, if he doesn't plead his defense publicly on Coast to Coast by tomorrow. Remember, there ain't an "Intelligence" group worth their salt on the face of our Earth, that doesn't know exactly what I'm doing here honorably for a real Justice made through careful thought. So, support Johnny Wizard speaking for public challenges internationally, and with the 23 plus co-operating for life 'Intel' agencies, along with, anyone else who can join in on the call. as a growing number of Patriot Soldiers, who trust yourself to see, this wanting of Justice isn't complicated. A person accused of a terrorist event without any evidence, has our accuser a bushite, who should be watched carefully until verifiable conclusions are done by the understanding of fact. Not faith. With George W. Bush making real decisions in faith, expecting us to believe as corporately broadcasted unabashedly unbiased, that he is not a deliberate incompetent monster war criminal of unfathomable evil?, who is just too 'stupid' to understand why we are innocent until proven otherwise?, is really something we all need to scream about to save our dying lives.

"[..] just like the neocon's "bin Laden" would have too."

However, the real Laden, on video taped confession, claimed he played no part whatsoever in 911, then later, offered himself for arrest, confident he would be acquitted. Not corporately newsworthy though, so, few even know why their American child was later died in the terrorists act of corporate contempt for US living Freedom with something greater as real Justice wills

Again, my friends, Art Bell and George Norry have thousands of bushite dumfuk in America that will phone them to tell US how greatly they are to have no care for dying freedoms in America. While when the humans call, Art Bell for example, between breaks, when privately screening his calls, just hangs up on anyone he fears might articulate things like Ahmad funded 911's Atta, according to the FBI, in defense of America. I say, we at LEAST, talk about putting them both to death for treasons against Your Life dying teen soldier, wannabe Patriot. Make sense?

My friends, People are dying because the magic radio and TV wont broadcast our publicly available findings. Police findings. People are dying needlessly, illegally, irrationally like meaning really stupidly on Bush's behalf, for they claim, we don't want to be 'embarrassing ourselves', leaving our forsaken Johnny Wizard's Wild Wow World of Wonder Wording Wees!.. mostly just appreciated by myself as sole surprised spectator, because you people seem to not be there for God when the chips are down, and truth is plain to see.. 911 was an inside job, and CBC with CNN don't want to tell us about it, but will watch our LOVED children lied to, to go out and die further for a causeless war of criminality unparalleled in it's wickedness.

Do you expect yourself to fail trying?

It's all up to You my friend, it's all up to you.

Be sure you have the user ID exactly as it should be, upper/lower case,

The effect of HD can not be measured; radio ratings vary considerably due to competitive situations, the normal statistical wobble or error of a poll and there is no way to tell which reason of many is affecting ratings. Since the HD1 channel of every FM is a simulcast of the analog channel, there is no way to distinguish it from the analog product in the ratings; AM has no secondary channels so there is going to be no difference in ratings for an HD or non-HD station. So far, in this early stage, there is no measurement of HD 2 channels although in the People Meter, such channels will encode for Arbitron separately and will then be measurable.

I was in my senior year when I was hired to go manage a station group; if a GPA is indicative of anything beyond the ability to take tests and write term papers, then it is relevant.

Credits are transferrable among colleges and universities that share a common accreditation board or standard. The places I studied, outside the US, are not members of these boards. The credits are valid towards a degree in PR or Ecuador, but few, if any, colleges in the US would have accepted them in the early 70's.

No it isn't. And even if it were, it wouldn't excuse your deception.

5788. To Poster Known As "Knowledge"

Your excellent follow up on my post regarding the ignorant American reactions to the Iranian President deserves its own thread so I am reposting it below.

One thing I would add to your post is mention of horrendous genocide white America has perpetrated upon Native Americans. A shameful part of American history that the has been relentlessly censored in this "free" nation.

http://www.unitednativeamerica.com/aiholocaust.html
is an excellent source on the American Indian Holocaust conducted by the American government and carried out by its citizens.

"Knowledge" please continue to post in the shortwave newsgroup. As you undoubtedly know, this is a cesspool of simple minded bigoted good old boys that reproduces like bacteria. This explains the why the radio hobby is the way it is - stagnant, parochial, lacking vision and dying out. But that is a topic for another day.

Your insights and knowledge (pun intended) is like a refreshing drink of cool water in a desert of ignorance.

With Highest Regards,

A.W.S.
President
GLT Shortwave Club

I wonder how these same Amerikkkans would feel if Bush was going to speak at a college in Iraq and the president of the university turned to Bush before introducing him and said something like this"

President Bush..we want you to truthfully answer some hard questions for our students:

First, why does your country which in fact is the only country in human history to actually drop two atomic bombs on civilians in Hiroshima and Nagasaki used Agent orange in Vietnam killing tens of thousands of American solider's and Vietnamese feel that it has the right to disarm nonwhite Nations an place them at your mercy?

Second, how can a country with such a violent hateful human rights past, seeing how you treat African Americans in Amerikkka, point fingers at other Nations and try to discredit them.

Third, Why did you attack Panama, Grenada, Somalia, countries in south America? Were they all terrorists too? Why don't you send your troops to Northern Ireland to subdue the White savages there who have been blowing up each other for over 20 years?

Fourth Mr. Bush why did you not release your financial records when Congress asked for them?

Fifth why were you afraid to let the Nation see you military record, and your college record, or lack thereof?

Sixth How could you repeal affirmative action at the university of Michigan, and then go lay a wreath on Martin Luther King's grave the next day saying that you admired him? Isn't that extremely hypocritical when the world knows you don't give a mouse's arse about civil rights for nonwhites.

Seventh, After you told the lie about Iraq having nuclear weapons, which they have every right to have, why did you then change horses in the middle of the stream and start braying out that SADDAM was a bad man who needed to be removed? Don't you think MOST of the sensible world believes that you are a hundred times worse based on what you have actually ordered to be done so far? Would it be OK if other leaders got together and figured out a way to remove you and your banditos?

Eighth, Do you think you rule from a position of strong mental health sir? Isn't it weird for someone to say they have the right to attack anyone at any time and kill millions of innocents because GOD told you to do so? In my psychology book Mr President that is called delusional thinking, and it is a very serious mental problem.

Nine Once you found out that Iraq and Afghanistan had nothing to do with 911, why have you persisted in lying on them and continuing to attack them instead of going after Saudi Arabia? Seventeen of the hijackers were from there, and the other four were Egyptian.
Why didn't you order that those countries be attacked?

Ten President Bush, why do you find it funny when you mess up the English language as you do? Don't you think it is of paramount importance that anyone who is leading the most powerful nation on the planet have an excellent grasp of their native language?

Speaking well is an indication of how normal your mind is Mr. President.

Well I could add many more things, but I think you get my drift here. Would Americans think that it was OK to introduce our president in such an insulting manner even when all of these things are known facts?
What is being said about Mahmoud is mostly speculation, and rumor that is being accepted as fact because White people are like Werewolves. They are thirsting for more innocent peoples blood now and someone will have to die to satisfy their devilish thirst for the blood of babies, children and pregnant women.

How would you Wheat folks appreciate that?

d'Eduardo,

Since the vast majority of AM/MW Radio Listeners still have Analog "Only" AM/MW Rados -and- Since Nightime IBOC Broadcasting makes Analog "HD" Radio Painful to Listen to : Expect the numbers of Nightime AM/MW Radio Listeners to start Dropping as more and more AM/MW Radio Stations begin IBOC Broadcasting at Night.

The Tombstone of AM/MW Radio does not read "RIP"
it reads "IBOC" ~ RHF

Once Again I Ask Myself : What IBOC ?
All I See Is The Blinking Blue Light ! ~ RHF
In That Distant Land* Where IBOC Fears To Go :
Life Exists and Radio Listeners Live Beyond the 10mv/m Contour.

I'm sorry to differ, but I can see absolutely NO RELEVANCE whatsoever in Poster's message or yours, as regards a "shortwave" group.
95% of what I find on this newsgroup is :
- either spam,
- or bigotry of one kind or another - the important thing being that it should bear absolutely no relation whatsoever with shortwave,
- or plain dumb-headedness (the name is cuhulin, whose compulsive posting is not even excusable if it is meant to be funny, which it has ceased to be about 95 years ago).
In a way I admire guys like RHF who go on posting relentlesly about what they hear on shortwave or technical issues or the contents of what he actually hears on radio.
And BTW, if you're such a hot fan of our friends in merry Islamic Revolution Park (who get under far more than suspicion for preparing atomic bombs by the AIEA, i.e. a more serious source than Mr. Bush), I suggest you write Mr Ahmadinejad and ask him to have your hometown targeted first - or better, move to Israel, where you're sure to be in the first row when it actually starts. IMHO the lessons of Munich in 1938 have not been learnt by many, and no masochistic "dear me dear me we killed Indians and enslaved Africans what bastards we are" stance is any excuse for being so stupid.

No, the limiting thing is what else you can hear, not what their power contours are. There's a thousand skywaves on the frequency just as strong, at night.

That's the benefit of having a clear channel and contour protection, which no longer applies on most frequencies.

I posted this at rec.audio. I'll crosspost it here, as my response is still the same:

HD RADIO is no worse than DAB or DRM radio

I hear a LOT of people complaining about Hybrid Digital Radio, but from what I've heard from European listeners, HDR is no worse than DAB (poor quality audio;worse than FM), or DRB (both poor quality & interference w/ existing AM stations).

Thoughts?

Opinions?

Frankly I'm a bit surprised at the reaction. There's currently a transition from analog to digital broadcasting (both in American and the European Union), and there will be some growing pains, but it's only temporary. In the LONG TERM, the digital radio will provide better sound than the current analog (like squeezing 300 kilobit/second 5.1 surround into the current FM bands).

Why? IBOC sucks. DRM sucks.

The audio quality is only improved if you're very close to the broadcasting station. If you're not very close to the broadcasting station, there is NO audio, period. Doesn't sound like a very appealing package.

Switching to digital just makes sense. Digital makes better use of the limited space available. With digital the FM band would effectively triple or even quadruple the number of channels on the dial. (Alternatively Classical FM stations could boost the sound from 2 channel stereo to 5.1 surround.)

That's good for the consumer, and something I'd like to see happen.

As for AM... well to be honest, I don't even care. AM is largely ignored by myself, since there's little there worth hearing. (Rush Limbaugh? Michael Medved? Some Liberal Nutjob? Pu-leeze. Not thanks.) But as long as I'm upgrading my FM to digital, we might as well bring AM along for the ride, too.

I want to see FM upgraded with three to four times more programs to choose from.

Ya know, Hybrid Digital Radio has an option for 20 kilohertz wide channels (the center 10 for AM, and the adjoining 5 kHz sidebands for HD).

If the stations simply switched from 30 kHz mode to 20 kHz mode during nighttime operation, that would help minimize interference to the skywaves.

(But no the FCC lackeys never thought about that. Dummies.)

I'm very familiar with the graveyard freqs. I enjoy listening to KOY at night when I'm in Tempe. They have a pretty much identical setup You're making the most elementary of mistakes here. More channels does not equal more or better programming options.

Because you can't hear anything unless you've got hundred million instructions per second running in your digital signal processor.

That means that radios will be 1)expensive (probably $50-90 minimum, compared with the $1.50 credit card radio today)
2)relativly power hungry
3)use private/secret/obscure modulation (Nobody unliscened can build one)
4)enables digital rights management (nobody without a subscription can listen)

And sound like crap below 50-100 kBPS.

What a way to serve the public. What a way to control the public...

You'd better check your bio! It says you started ASU in 1973.

The problem you pathological liars most often have is that of keeping your story straight.

The point isn't trying to use statistics to point a finger at HD, but rather to use them to determine whether the channels are attracting a sufficient audience. That's all those numbers are really good for.

What's the difference? The September to June term ENDED in 1973; you are playing the same game folks in radio did when we played "spot the difference" between AP and UPI wire copy. Two reporters, same story, slightly different ways of seeing it... both factual, though.

The main purpose of FM HD is to provide digital main channel audio and robust texting; the digital audio is the only enhancement for AM of significance. Simulcasts are not measured separately in radio ratings.

Yes it does. Each station gets split into 3 or even 4 sub-channels.
For example one of my local stations has split into (1) Christian talk/ education programs (as they've done for the last 50 years). (2)
An all-music channel. (3) Another all-music channel, but teen-oriented. ----- Thus giving more choice to the listener, in the same way XM Radio has more channels and more choices.

> or better programming options.

True. It might be the same old crap. But then neither does sticking with the old Analog standard improve anything. Better to (a) upgrade to digital and hope for more variety/ better programming, than to (b)
Do nothing and keep the current crapfest.

Between telling the truth and deception? If you haven't figured that out yet, you probably aren't going to.

What's factual is that you attempted to deceive the readers of this group about your academic history. I don't give a rat's ass whether you attended ASU for one semester or ten years, but lying about your academic accomplishments (or the lack thereof) is pathetic. A man your age should have learned that by now, but I suppose some people never do.

three the amazing hgh and on channel four a guide to investing in gold.

True, but better programming would improve a lot. And it wouldn't require new technology. And it wouldn't destroy MW. And you should be able to hear it from more than ten blocks away.

No one's saying do nothing. A lot of folks are just saying "don't do

The IBOC hash shows up in two manners. One is due to the finite slope of the analog IF. Essentially, IBOC sits in the guard band. [Of course, the guardband is now "quaint", dating back to the days when the FCC cared about protecting signals.] Given how AM demod works, this shows up as high frequency hiss. Some of the digital hash falls into the analog channel. It sounds like noise right in the voice band, degrading the analog signal. There is no linear solution to get rid of this noise.

In theory, the FCC shouldn't care about the Arbitron, i.e. it is not a significant measurement of concern to the FCC. The FCC should be concerned about the quality of the signal. OK, OK, I live in a dream world.....

What is not significant is your constant pontificating.

You realize that you have painted yourself into a corner, either you are for real and look like a complete jackass or you are a faker.

I don't know which situation is worse for you but that's where you are at in the news group.

If you are for real I sure hope people in your industry don't read this news group for your own sake.

You are making, just like DXass, assumptions on your own. In other words, misinterpreting facts, and creating the equivalent of black helicopter conspiracies. Makes me wonder what percentage of dxAsses loggings are fake, done with other peoples reports or from internet data.

Most stations are processing even the analog signal digitally, anyway. But HD processing is generally done separately, to preserve more dynamic range among other things.

I'm sure they don't read this group, as few were ever DXers. That is why I get invited to speak at NAB, RAB, NAB Europe, etc.

For the moment, the main advantage of HD is having a digital version of the content on the analog signal: as more receivers arrive, there will be increased interest in the secondary channels, and the use of closed channels for special data delivery applications. That's the entire business model of HD, in fact.

There is plenty to read in this news group on the subject of digital transmission. Most people in the news group don't want it. The reason are several but paramount is the fact that the implementations are old technology and ideas that do not fit the propagation of the bands they are implemented on.

The best match so far with the applied technology is FM because it most closely emulates the conditions or transmission path for which those outdated ideas were originally conceived. Daytime AMBCB comes in next and nigh time AMBCB and short wave come in last.

Arguments that current digital broadcasts by proponents fall flat because everyone has or now realizes that this type of transmission has its own downfalls compared to analog.

Arguments of proposed improved digital broadcast by proponents are just collections of insipid stupid ideas like using additional bandwidth or more power or just reduce the coverage area of a transmitter. Just more dumb-ass ideas on top of the current old and unsuitable concepts currently applied that reverse the supposed benefits of going to digital mode to begin with.

Old, inappropriately applied technology ideas currently trashing the radio bands. Absolutely pathetic.

And just as bad as the poorly considered technology is the implementation where the whole of the band is used instead of just a part so a great deal of chaos ensues generally pissing people off.

But don't worry digital mode proponents; the hilarious HD troll Eduardo will be along soon with his rationalizations, misunderstandings, market statistics, and his specially developed for the Internet hubris to smooth over the pain of the reality of HD and DRM in this post.

Thanks for informing anyone reading the news group of your preferences not that anyone would care. I don't have the vaguest idea who you are so why should I care? Many people listen to the programs on the AM band

Audio processing not the issue. The issue is the HD side bands screwing up the analog reception. The noise for analog reception varies depending on what radio you use to receive the signal.

For example I can't use the sync function on my Sony 7600G for KKGO and KNX unless I want to hear a a low frequency buzzing in the background.
This was not an issue until they started the night time HD broadcasting where I would want to use sync.

On the R8B and RX340 I can use sync but not side band selectable sync unless I want to hear hiss in the background. Things will continue to get worse the more digital mode is allowed to be used.

I posted this at rec.audio. I'll crosspost it here, as my response is still the same:

HD RADIO is no worse than DAB or DRM radio

I hear a LOT of people complaining about Hybrid Digital Radio, but from what I've heard from European listeners, HDR is no worse than DAB (poor quality audio;worse than FM), or DRB (both poor quality & interference w/ existing AM stations).

Thoughts?

Opinions?

Frankly I'm a bit surprised at the reaction. There's currently a transition from analog to digital broadcasting (both in American and the European Union), and there will be some growing pains, but it's only temporary. In the LONG TERM, the digital radio will provide better sound than the current analog (like upgrading FM Stereo to 300 kbps Surround).

Wouldn't it be cool to have 5.1 surround from your radio?

Or have your FM station suddenly multiply from 1 station to 4 stations (offering, for example, 2000s-era music on the main channel) (and 90s, 80s, 70s on the 3 sub-channels). Or maybe a Jazz station dividing itself into Modern Jazz, Mid-Century Jazz, and Classic Big Band-era Jazz. FM could effectively triple its number of channels.

Well the IDEA is sound, even if the analog-to-digital (HD, DAB, DRM) transition has some growing pains to overcome.

What is the reason for your optimism? Every other advance in radio has been better by design, and demonstrated its improvement from day 1.
Digital radio hasn't done that - it has been poor from day one, and to be better than its predecessor it will need to get a whole heap better then it is now.

What do you believe will be the basis of that improvement?

What do you mean by "the IDEA is sound"? HD and DRM are lousy ideas.

No, they are going to increase quantity (more radio channels), not sound quality. Se how they done in UK.

It that's true, then HDR is horrible indeed.

Better sound? Maybe. Much smaller coverage area? Definitely.

I couldn't care less about FM.

Can you describe the sound part now?

HDradio is worse than DAB insofar as the so-called IBOC implementation guarantees interference to both the analog main channel and to adjacent channel stations. DAB has been implemented on exclusive spectrum, or, at least, spectrum that is not already used for consumer applications. As to the quality, yes, a DAB multiplex can be exploited to provide 1990's pioneer streaming audio quality for many program streams channels or a few streams at 1980's near-CD quality. HDradio benefits from a decade of codec and silicon development needed for it to have marginally acceptable quality in a much more restrictive bandwidth. So, too, does DRM benefit from said development, making it possible to provide a digital carrier within LW,MW and SW channeling plans. Thast said, I find it much less fatiguing to listen to a program on an analog AM carrier than to the same program over DRM.

Adverse reaction to HDradio is stronger than what it probably was to DAB because of the perceived negative effects on analog reception and the lack of new program offerings. DAB takeup has succeeded as well as it has in the UK because of new program services, not because of audio quality, and because of a concerted government, broadcaster and manufacturing industry push, the likes of which we have not seen in other countries. A stronger parallel can be drawn to the sizable takeup of XMRadio and Sirius satellite services in the US and Canada - the quality stinks but the program choice and wide ranging coverage are unique.

DRM is still an open question - my dabbling with it persuaded me that it is not really viable where sky-wave propagation is involved, either as the main path or as an interferer to the desired ground-wave path. That said, it should do as well or better than HDradio for LW, MW, 26MHz, and VHF but is as disruptive to existing analog stations.

I've been more impressed by synchronous AM demodulation of AM signals than by a digital equivalent. It's a pity we could not get mass manufacturing of synch AM radios and ultimately convert all AM stations to USB with reduced carrier for power savings and reduced interference.

Most consumer radios have no issue; when you use an RX340 for a purpose for which it was not designed, of course it sounds bad. Most listeners do not have $5000 radios... most DXers don't either.

The FCC did not take your reception of either station into consideration, as, unless you live right on the ocean, you are outside the contours that are going to get any protection these days.

How much more can digital (HD) be allowed to use? It is authorized 24/7 for AM and FM in the US, and I do not believe that there were more than 24 hours in the day.

Yeah, that more than 24 hours in one day thing is something you've not tried to

The IBOC sidebands would be completely audible on any receiver except for the fact that the upper sideband and the lower sideband are 180 degrees out of phase with each other. Any asymmetry in the i.f.
passband (like selectable sideband reception) or in the propagated signal (e.g selective fading) will upset the cancellation and the hash and the warble will be heard.

Uh, no. Perhaps you misunderstood, so let me repeat it: Channels:
(1) Christian talk. (2) All-music. (3) Teen-oriented music. -----
And the other station I like to tune-in has these channels: (1) Adult rock. (2) Soft rock (instrumental).

These are ACTUAL programs, not made-up fiction.

New technology might not improve the programming, but it will triple or even quadruple the number of choices. (See above.) And once the analog is phased out, and the HD Radio is restricted to the standard 10 kilohertz width (mode 3), everything will be good again. No more overlapping stations. (That is only a temporary situation, not a permanent one.)

> No one's saying do nothing. A lot of folks are just saying "don't Sounds reasonable, but if you want to transition from AM-analog to AM-digital, you're going to have to make some sacrifices. Even the European Union's DRM methodology spills-over into adjacent channels (10 kHz AM + 5 kHz DRM). Plus it's only limited to ~10 kilobits per second.... barely adequate.

But that's the price you have to pay when you upgrade.... like when color TV arrived. Or the necessity to get new Digital TV receivers. You phase-out the old, and phase-in the new.

BTW:

I don't really understand why people are upset about the loss of DX'ing over AM (only temporarily; it will be restored when AM goes pure digital). You can still do DX'ing via using services like shoutcast.com. Just yesterday at work I was listening to an Australian station. Another favorite of mine is located in England. DX'ing is still alive and well on the internet.

No doubt that distant AM station you can no longer hear is still available to you. Just visit their website & listen to their stream (and you don't need to wait until night; you can do it during the day too).

Analog modes are inefficient, because they waste bandwidth sending sounds you can not hear. Digital only removes that extraneous information, and thus uses the space more efficiently. Which is why a digital radio like HD can squeeze 5 channels into the same space as 2-channel FM. ----- Or five FM-quality (64 kbps each) programs into the space of 1 FM channel.

Digital psychoacoustic modeling is more efficient (sends only sounds you can hear), than the older inefficient analog modulations (that waste space sending sound you can't hear).

No, because I can not read your mind. Please explain the

Was there a downside to upgrading from Cassettes to CDs? No. Was there a downside to upgrading from analog VHS to digital DVDs? No. Was there a downside to upgrading from analog radio to Digital satellite radio? No. (I could go on-and-on with other examples like digital MP3s and Ipods and Internet radio and.....)

To date, I've not seen a downside to abandoning Analog format and adopting new Digital ones.

But I'm sure you have some.
What are the downsides?

Like it matters but I have the same issue with the Drake @ $1,500. It will be a problem with any radio that has sync.

What do you mean these radios were not meant for this purpose? Are you turning into a complete nut case?

Since I live close to the beach I get the best reception but inland those stations do well on the car radio where I listen to AMBCB most the time usually. FM reception is not that hot around here with all the mountains just off the coast. AM usually offers better reception.

More stations could be using it. The digital side bands could be increased in power or bandwidth.

I don't know what QRM means - probably interference? In any case, once the analog is turned off and the HD Radio is constrained to a standard 10 kilohertz channel (mode 3), there will no longer be

Yeah I've heard that, but can't that be fixed simply by boosting more power to the digital stream?

I'll just bet Eduardo could statistically find 25 listening hours a day

Old? Both HD Radio and DRM (and also DAB+) are using the latest MPEG4
HE-AAC+SRM codecs. That's the newest and most-advanced digital compression standard currently available.

The modulation is COFDM - also one of the newest ideas available for sending data via broadcast.

Interesting. First, what is AMBCB? Second, why do you rank AM lower than FM? And why do you rank skywave transmission as last?

Well FM-Hybrid Digital already sounds better than the old analog FM. The AM also sounds better, albeit at the loss of hearing distant stations (which can still be done via internet streaming).

Both of these will dramatically improve after the analog shutdown (FM will have room for 300 kbps per station).

The quality stinks? Really? I listen to XM streams via the internet,

When they went to color TV, nobody lost the abililty to watch on their B/W sets.

When they went to FM Stereo, nobody lost the ability to listen on their monaural radios.

When they went to AM Stereo, nobody lost the ability to listen on their monaural radios.

When they went to TV stereo, nobody lost the ability to listen on their monaural TV's.

In the latter two cases, listening got BETTER on the old technology due to accompanying changes in audio bandwidth, allowing for better fidelity.

Digital is NOT better. It may allow the cramming of more into the same space, but more is not better. Digital TV (except the higher bandwidth/bitrate HDTV signals) looks like crap. The pixelization is terrible, the artifacting is hideous, and the fact that the signal just drops out entirely below a certain level is unacceptable. I'd rather have a bit of snow, and still be able to watch my television than have "clear" picture and then NO picture. Same with radio. Digital signals are not robust enough, and will drop out entirely in low signal areas, rather than just getting a little less quiet.

This ain't "better", hoss, just different.. and mostly in a bad way..

Utter rubbish.

Compression algorithms generate poor quality sound voice or music.
Compression algorithms are no substitute for a higher bit rate.

The answer is no because you don't understand what you are posting about.

The simple answer is you don't get something for nothing. Transmitting intelligence has three basic parameters, distance, power, and bandwidth. I suggest you read up on the theory of transmission of information and then post back here after you are informed.

None of what you mentioned above bears on the subject at hand. CD, DVD, and the like are the media digital data is recorded on. Radio is information transmission over distance. Not at all the same thing.

Yes it could but that would defeat one of the reasons to go digital.

No downside? Ever hear of replacement costs? Ever hear of unavailability of product? Ever hear of CHOICE?

Those that think there is no downside to "upgrading" technology do not take a myriad of factors into account, some small (like the DX hobby), some larger (orphaning millions of listeners that don't live inside city grade contours of broadcast stations, and lose their ability to receive stations that they were previously easily able to receive) to larger still (the obsoleting of literally hundred of millions (possibly even billions) of currently useful devices (analog TV's (especially portables), analog radios, turntables, cassette decks, ad inf.). And has anyone considered the long term ecological repercussions of having to dispose of all these millions of now useless devices? "Progress" don't come for free. Sometimes it costs more than people are willing to pay.

Digital radio is an answer to a problem that doesn't exist, and is/will create(ing) more problems than it solves.

You mention digital satellite radio. That's fine, and I wouldn't mind giving it a try.. but hey, satellite radio doesn't affect my ability to listen to any of hundreds or more terrestrial analog stations whenever I choose. IBOC terrestrial radios DOES! If you want to listen to digital radio, then get yourself an XM or Sirius radio and listen to your heart's content.... just don't expect the millions of people in the US alone that IBOC is negatively affecting to just roll over and play dead.

The radios were designed before HD became a standard. So they were not designed to receive analog signals when HD was being broadcast simultaneously, as the design predates HD. Duh.

Such marginal reception areas outside the primary contours of AMs is exactly what both the FCC and American broadcasters were willing to sacrifice to get digital capability. Everything has tradeoffs.

There are perhaps 250 stations in the top 100 markets that warrant use of HD; the rest are not viable full market signals. And, in that fact, is the problem with AM today... The better signals were licensed back from the 20's into the 30's, moved a bit in '28 and after NARBA, but designed to cover existing 70 to 80 year back population areas. Many growth areas have no good AMs, many AMs have been outgrown by urban and suburban sprawl, and today's noise levels all contribute to make most AMs poor HD candidates. The longer term survival of AM is certainly in doubt when many major markets have less than 10% of all listening to that band, and most of that in definitely "senior" demographics.

We can hope the power is eventually raised; on FM there have been studies of raising the digital signal by as much as 10 db.

Synchronous AM demodulation uses a locally regenerated carrier, fed along with the AM signal (upper or lower set of sidebands) to a multiplier (modulator). The result is the audio. It replaces the envelope (diode) detector usually used. You can think of it as another superhet

stage where the result, instead of another IF frequency, is the baseband audio. That's because the local oscillator is the same frequency as the carrier of the (IF) signal, so the difference is zero. The sidebands wind up translated to baseband audio instead of to another IF frequency.

There are advantages. Since one set of sidebands or the other can be used, if there's a distant station 10KHz away, causing that AM whistle, you just switch to the other set of sidebands, whichever comes in the cleanest. Also, it doesn't depend on proper amplitude and phase of both sets of sidebands to work properly, as does the regular envelope detector, so it works better with impaired signals.

That's just it! The HD 2 channels in most markets are totally non-duplicative of the Analog/HD1 channel content. NY has, for example, things like traditional jazz, country, classic hip hop, 50's and early 60's oldies, standards, etc. that are not available on main channels.

The other way to see this is from the perspective that there are not many AM (MW) DXers left. The combined IRCA and NRC membership is around or less than a thousand in North America... compare that to when RaDex was sold at the news rack at the corner drugstore and DXing was engaged in by millions.

HD is supposed to be compatible with existing radios Eduardo. Oh! I see now that was just another lie. You got me good that time.

What can I say about your reading comprehension that is already known to readers of the news group. He did not ask why or if a station should have HD he asked how HD could be used more than it is now.

You can hope that. I don't and I think most people reading the news group would not want that either.

I just do not believe your contention that the numbers of people that listen to night time AMBCB are small. I think there is a great deal of regional listening at night and non-local stations during the day where reception is of good quality such as where I live on the coast. There are plenty of people that listen to stations that are not local in order to hear a program not broadcast locally.

I don't think radios that have production runs of a few hundred or a thousand or so were taken into consideration. There are relatively few radios that are incompatible by 100%... most have the "DX receivers" have the ability to change mode.

Most broadcasters and the FCC think this; it was the basis for approving an

Because many formats are excluded because, with the finite number of FMs in any market, there is not room for the second tier of formats. With HD 2 channels, there is.

There are no facts to support your contention. Listening to out of market stations is very small (by the way, Ventura, Riverside West and San Bernardino West are all in the LA DMA... the metro definition that matches the TV metro area). Still, in your county, there is pretty limited in-market listening to out of market stations.

Now, now, Eduardo... you know full well that the reason that a given format is not available in a given market is because it's just not profitable to program it. The only difference with IBOC-FM is that now they can use a single plant to provide multiple formats.. I don't see a lot of stations doing this, though, on a long-range model, since these formats will still not be profitable.

Same here. We have one AM station that sucks, and 1 FM station (a university station too poor to afford a satellite dish). I can get Los Angeles AM in the daytime, but at night San Francisco works much better.

You DO realize, don't you, that most AMBCB DX'ers (or SWL's for that matter) do not belong to clubs? That most are not even aware these clubs exist? Do you think that I cared about clubs when I was lying in the grass when I was 14 listening to Wolfman Jack (or the Grand Ol' Opry on weekends) on my pocket radio? Do you think that those kids listening to a ball game from a distant station when they should have been sleeping know or care about DX clubs? Or the trucker tuning across the dial to find something worth listening to (hard to do these days when all you got at night is George Noory)? Only the hardcore DX nerds know or care about DX clubs. Most just listen for fun or the excitement of hearing something from far away.

You have no facts to support your contention since all the waking hours revolve around the commercial radio books. The statistics you look at don't address the regional listening. Now don't go back on the word of Earl answered the last question really well.

DRM (and I imagine HDradio-IBOC-AM) are fatiguing (to some people) because very low audio encoding bitrates must be employed in order to fit within the allowed spectrum; typically 10kHz of RF spectrum restricts the audio to perhaps 20kbps. Considering that a CD streams at about 75 times this rate, losses in encoding at these very low bit rates along with the consequent artefacts are pretty severe. Low bitrate audio tends to have a gurgling, grainy, grungy effect - hard to describe but after a while, I just have to turn it off. Admittedly, ambient noise (e.g. road noise) can mask a lot of it but I'm not sure that it's any less fatiguing.

I was too general in my comment about satellite radio. Both XM and Sirius use a range of encoding standards, putting news/talk on the lowest and music on the highest. My main channel on Sirius Canada is CBC Radio One which was stupidly assigned a news/talk standard when it actually comprises an eclectic mix of content - we're currently listening to Randy Bachman (BTO) playing #2 hits from the 60's and 70's in his weekly 3-hour program from the local FM. The Sirius news/ talk encoding is not much higher than 20kbps - voice is bad enough but music really stinks. The highest standards on XM and Sirius are better, but like Eureka DAB, frozen in quality at that which could be provided by the adopted codecs of the day (1990's). What you hear over the Internet will be encoded differently, using codecs popular for Internet streaming, not their proprietary ones for satellite delivery. Both XM and Sirius favour offering more choice than higher quality, so, like Eureka DAB, subdivide their digital channel capacity into more, smaller chunks - maybe that's what sells subscriptions - ergo, lower quality.

It will only increase choice for those who live a stone's throw from the transmitter. It will deprive everyone else of their choice, which is analog.

Of course, this is when all of the programming become really

While you're on the internet, maybe you should visit a diploma mill.
That would be right up your alley.

I think the USB to which Tom refers is upper sideband. Converting AM stations would mean they'd transmit only one set of sidebands, the upper set, reducing the bandwidth to almost half. More stations could be licensed in the same band. A small amount of carrier would remain, to give the receiver something to lock on to for use in recovery of the audio.

Analog video uses something similar called vestigial sideband, and we could be talking about that for AM. Conventional radios with envelope (diode) detectors wouldn't work well at all. When there's only one set of sidebands, with or without the carrier, the envelope of the composite RF signal doesn't look much like the original audio, and large amounts of distortion occur.

As a side issue, the loss of fidelity for which AM is notorious is largely in the receivers, with their narrow bandwidths, resulting in audio that is rolling off pretty fast around the 5 KHz point. (AM stations actually transmit a fairly high-fidelity signal.) This narrow bandwidth reduces the noise (including the 10 KHz whistle from the carriers of adjacent-channel stations) that results largely from many distant stations all coming in on the channel. AM radio, with its low frequencies, travels very far, particularly at night, so lots of distant stations come roaring in. Converting AM stations to only one sideband with a reduced carrier would reduce all of that noise. I doubt it will happen.

Unless they are subscription based. Technology which is currently in test.

Once that seal is broken, there will be no reason for broadcasters to stop its spread, and given the ever widening range of options, expanding costs, and mounting fees, royalties, and surcharges, every reason to.

Under that scenario, anything can be made profitable.

That is absolutely untrue.

There are many profitable formats that could be done that are not being done because there are even more profitable formats that "use up" all the available FM channels in the market.

Depending on the market, there are probably a dozen or so profitable, although less so than those on the air already, formats available.

Call them what you will, they are simply formats 13 to 24 in a market with 12 or so stations.... profitable, salable, listenable. But not as profitable as other formats, so they don't get broadcast until HD comes along.

> The only difference with IBOC-FM is that now they can use a single plant

Sure they will be. Our Tejano formats on HD in 5 markets in Texas are getting excellent response, and should be generating respectable income soon, even without that many receivers out there. Tejano, as an example, was about a 0.8 to 1.1 share format in Dallas on a signal that now has about a 2 share... the Tejano format was lost to the market till we put it on HD, and now, over time, it will be a respectable performer... just right under the better performing formats we have on the main channels.

I honestly believe this is not delusion. I honestly believe he believes this noise.

His comments blaming DXers for abandoning broadcasters, while delineating precisely how broadcasters have developed their disdain for DXers is evidence that he's really looking at snapshots of this party, but not attending the party, itself. Taking the Broadcaster/Dxer enmity out of chronological order, as he did, suggests that he's seeing what he needs to focus on in order to justify his position, but not seeing a good deal of the out-of-frame that gives the snapshot context. This is common among manglement in Radio.

It's what used to be called not seeing the forest for the trees.

It's what pilots call flying instruments in VFR conditions: Paying so much attention to the minutiae that they fail to look up and actually see how the plane is being flown.

One of my mentors in the Physics department at UMSL used to say, as the textbook he taught from explained, formulae and numbers are only shorthand for English sentences. If you can't explain your case without resorting to formulae and numbers, you can't explain your case.

Corporately, that is the equivalent of: If you can't convince someone without quoting a policy, you're hiding behind a firewall because you actually can't function amongst your clients/customers.

And if you notice, he doesn't really answer your questions, Telamon...but like Johnny Cochran, he gives you the answer he would like you to hear, whether it addresses your question or not.

Has he posted the link you've asked for yet?

There are several inconsistencies in our most recent discussion about demographics and agencies. The kind of inconsistencies that someone with major market experience in both sales and Manglement wouldn't have made.

And in these last discussions, about DXers and this thread about HD, he's begun speaking openly out of both sides of his mouth, not only contradicting himself but doing it with a kind of indignation that's also inconsistent with someone of his knowledge and experience.

Someone made the statement, here, that a person of his stature and position doesn't need the ego piece that is his website.

Perhaps, that's true. Although I know people in the business who are still trying to prove something after 30 years in the big city. But when you read it, and as Ace has pointed out several times that the content of his website has changed more than once when his credentials were called into question, it does give one reason to wonder not so much what it is that's false, but what it is that may be true.

If someone is using a station in its skywave protected contour, that is not DXing. That is listening to the station in its coverage area.

>That most are not even aware these clubs exist? Do you think that I cared Wolfman is something of a different time and a different generation. He was got audience on AM, at XERF and then XERB, because there was not much local radio. It was pre-FM.

Where I spent some time, north of Traverse City, MI, at night we listened to Chicago's WLS because there was no local station you could hear, at all.
Today, there are a dozen FMs and an AM putting primary signals over the little town of Omena, and nobody listens to AM who is under about 50 there.

And the Opry can be heard on the web much better than WSM ever could be picked up.

> Do you think that those kids listening to a ball game from a distant > station when they should have been sleeping know or care about DX clubs?

I don't see a heck of a lot of kids going to or listening to baseball games any more. Another sign of the times... baseball is a slow, oldeer person's sport (or a ticket out of the Dominican Republic).

>Or the trucker tuning across the dial to find something worth listening to

Most truckers have Satellite now... an excellent solution for drivers who move from market to market, too.

Static, fading and noise are fun? It may have been when there were no alternatives, but between the web and the FM dial and other portable devices, it is not 1966 any more..

XM talk stations are compressed out the wazoo over the bird, while the internet stream is fair to maybe good, depending on how picky you are.
XM music over the bird is acceptable.

XM PR (Public Radio) is the exception to the rule regarding over compression. With NPR mixing music with talk, XM needs to be ready for anything.

Now, weren't you the one that said that before consolidation, 50% of all stations were not profitable?

Since there is only a 100 share in ratings and revenue, how does doubling, or even trebling the number of channels in a market, even under consolidation, make these additional number of channels profitable?

You can't have it both ways.

Forgive me for saying this, but.....

Now you DO sound like a shill.

All 25 or 30 of them? Most of those stations, perhaps nearly all, do not

Do a nice little straight line history and project into the future the total AM listenership in the US and its age level. Within th enext decade, it will be almost entirely over 55, and down to about 6% to 7% of all radio listening.

Let's say in Anytown that there are 24 formats that could get over about a 1 share.... in other words, the percentage of listening that would get advertisers results based on enough listeners hearing the message. But Anytown has only 12 FM signals that do a decent job of covering the market. So there are 12 viable formats that are not being done in Anytown, formats that would be salable, listenable and useful.

So, a station puts one of the viable second tier of formats on and eventually, as the number of radios increases, they start seeing sales results. It took FM from about 1940 to the mid-70s to be broadly profitable, so the wait for HD radios to improve and sell is a small consideration; many of the formats themselves will sell HD, such as country in New York... a format that got a mid-1's share when on a major FM some time ago.

In my own sector, I can see at least 5 if not 10 missing Hispanic formats in LA alone... most of which would be good use of an HD channel.

You have a mistaken impression of radio audience measurement. The fact is,
ANY radio station listened to in an Arbitron diary is processed. It does not matter if it is commercial, public, religious, local, internet, satellite, or a rare DX catch.

If enough mentions for enough time to create statistical reliability are made the station is considered "in the book" but the Arbitron software stations use lets us look at stations that may have a share of 0.0% but did get one mention....

A sign that out of market listening is insignificant to radio and advertisers comes with the already started roll out of the electronic People Meter, which senses encoding on each station. Most "out of market" stations so far are not encoded as it will not be till the end of next year that the top 10 markets are on PPM; none of us cares about the 0.3% of listening to out of market signals, by the way.

The only straight line I see is the HD driving listeners away evenings.
Using statistics to predict the future is foolhardy at best. You don't

I just ran a multi-book report on your area, called LA / NNE, and found that less than 10% of all radio listening by 18-54 year olds is to AM. #1 and #2 stations are KLVE and KIIS, both Wilson FMs.

No, satellite providers have nearly 150 channels each. Most channels are so niche they could not be commercially viable anywhere. HD2's can pick the remaining profitable formats and provide them for free.

I don't think it likely that Anytown USA would support 24 different formats. Anytown USA may be more diverse than in the past but not to that extent.

I don't see any radio stations promoting itself in multi-formats.
Currently listeners identify a station with a format.

You called me an SOB, so it is my turn to call you one. The only thing on my website that has changed in the last 4 years is the addition of a bunch of old Radex, Whites and Stevenson's magazines. The bio / history is essentially unchanged from when I cut and pasted it from my resume, about year 2000. It's even got the same spelling errors.

Your knowledge of radio sales is dated, stilted and inaccurate; what a significant Chicago station can do at a local agency does not in any way affect the fact that agencies seldom enough to say "never" buy 55+ and getting a buy's demo changed is as close to impossible as getting a tortoise to fly.

Yes, most are the dogs that can not be profitable. A B or C FM in a rated market has a tough time losing money.... a daytimer has a tough time making any, and most metro AMs are not profitable.

The bulk of brake even stations are small market ones.... the owner gets a salary, but no return on the investment. the station is guaranteed lifetime employment, unless it is an AM, in which case it should be good for 5 or 6 years still.

Most radio operators know that unless we offer the variety of more formats, many people will leave radio or use it less. In this case, we talk ratings... if we want to preserve the same rating base, called Persons Using Radio, we have to keep the erosion down. Markets are highly fragmented already; in Houston's PPM the difference between #1 and #15 is 0.2 ratings points. So some additional fragmenting in the family is better than losing listeners who want a specific format and can't get it on terrestrial radio.

No, it's your idea to somehow discontinue the internet. Good luck with that.

No, it is actually not. You are perhaps missing the point that radio markets are not single cities or even counties. Chicago is an 11 county metro, for example. Very few signals cover it all. Only a couple get any significant listening outside the metro, either... despite pretty good coductivity there.

So there are really only a handful of staitons by day, on AM, that cover adequately outside their radio market. And at night, there are even fewer due to interference, directionality, and the fact that AM is only listened to lightly at night demonstrates this.

The number is basically the 25 former 1-As, plus a handful of the old 1-Bs. No former regionals get any really useful skywave, as the channels are too crowded. And some of the 1-As are chewed up at night by other stations, like KFI and KNX do to the East of the LA market.

The decline of AM listening is mostly a function of age. The band "average age" increases by 1 year every 18 months, nationally, and there are two whole rated generations that for all practical purposes don't use AM at all or only for some special occurrence. I steadfastly predict that Americans will continue to age one year each 12 months, so there will be ongoing ageing of AM listeners until the band is totally unprofitable. This will be hastened by the current "we already read the tea leaves" move of many AM news talk operators to transfer the format to FM and put the AM to some other niche use until it no longer produces anything.

In most cases, we can already quantify the interest in the second tier formats, and every market has room to have double the FM formats that it currently has, and all can, if properly done, enough audience to make money.

The losers will be the limited coverage or rimshot FMs, and the AMs trying to do on of the viable FM formats on the dead band.... those will have to find something even more niche or disappear.

The HD 2 channels are not identified with the main channel except as "102.9
HD2 is Tejano in Houston" type of IDs.

More than there are in English, as we have the individual music forms of nearly 20 nations, many of which are viable formats in different markets. An example would be the Colombian population of Miami, of about 250,000. That means there is room for both a Vallenato station, a Cumbia station and maybe a traditional bambuco / folkloric music station, too. In LA, there are several formats that would appeal only, but strongly, to Central Americans, as well as Caribbean tropical, Spanish language rock, standards, all grupera, all-norte&#65533;a, oldies, 70's ballads, etc. There are 10 for you right off the top of my head... all have been researched and are known second tier formats that could get a one to two share on a decent FM... and will grow to that on HD2's-.

There are already about a dozen Hispanic formats on, including Mexican tropical, sports, news / talk, adult hits, AC, regional oldies, regional hardcore, regional Mexican, Spanish CHR, variety, Christian and reggaet&#65533;n.

What!

Are you saying that not only are there enough HD radios purchased in "a market" AND by a specific ethnic group to show itself as a "respectable performer" and by that I take it to mean it is showing good advertising results? You have certainly reached new heights in the "strange tales from the pointy haired marketing management side".

This sort of thinking started when Eduardo went on a diet and began eating those radio diaries to lose weight. I told him it wasn't a good idea but he would not listen. I hope you kids reading this out there on Usenet now realize the dangers of a diet that consists only of radio marketing statistics. This state of mental confusion could happen to you.

We are just now getting our first advertisers on the Tejano network, and we believe the interest by the lifestyle group has caused a lot more radios to be sold than we thought. The morning show, which also runs on KXTN in San Antonio where it is in the top 4 or 5 in rank always, gets half its calls from the other markets, so someone is listening. And the advertisers who know the lifestyle are willing to try the network. We have had the morning talent do appearances in HD only markets with attendance of several hundred.

This is an ideal case of a format with a small but absolutely loyal following who will spend the money for a radio and listen a lot.

Wow, that's all. That's pathetic. I'd have thought that someone with Sorry Tardo, but you'll never stop the internet or internet radio. Not even you, with all your fancy college degrees and diplomas and "certificates of completion" and mail order Ph.D.s

You're right. I did. Because you are precisely that. You argue out of context, and you don't address anything said by your opponents. You remain oblique, and diffuse. And you speak in shorthand. You obfuscate.
Without actually making a case.

But when you blamed DXers for broadcasters' disdain, you truly showed your intent. It's not about fact with you. It's about the debate.

And the truth doesn't require debate tactics. As someone here

Actually, Steve pointed out that wasn't true about a year ago.

At least my knowledge is based on 45 years of active experience.

There are questions about whether or not yours is.

You can't have it both ways, David. You can't insist that Radio is healthier than ever, and then claim your worry is about the success of terrestrial radio against alternatives.

You can't have it both ways, David. You can't claim that there are too many signals to be profitable, and then solve the problem with more options.

You're talking out of both sides of your mouth.

Like I said, now you really DO sound like a shill.

I think he believes his own noise and no he can't provide the link because what he claims doesn't exist. At least not yet.

He has written some weird stuff like he has people around him looking over his shoulder laughing at peoples critical responses to his posts on Usenet as an attempt to bully the people critical of him. Very strange he would need this imaginary support.

I have noted the deception and misdirection. It's madding.

Most lies have a kernel of truth in them so they are believable. All I know is every time a take a poke at what he posts the stick goes right through the one layer of the "story" he tells. All that he posts seem very illusionary in nature.

At one time it seemed to me you thought he is for real. You still think that way?

Then I'm an exception. I listen to regional stations for the programming.

No, only the nutjobs like dxAss and Telamon and Steve refuse to realize how radio is used today, and the changes the industry has to make to survive... and that said survival will likely not include AM in the long run.

The fact is, I speak with real listeners every week, and have a pretty good idea what they want today, based on tens of thousands of yearly interviews.
Here, there are some who seem to have an intimate relationship with their TenTec and have no idea what real people do, and how stations today have to serve them.

But I do not claim that. Radio is in slow revenue growth mode, and this year may be no-growth (although due to automotive and mortgage / housing crisis situations) so it is critical to keep the existing audience base, which the PPPM shows to be a 96% reach of all 6+ Americans.

It is rational to offer more formats on the good facilities via HD2, although the losers will be the rimshots and AMs. This will allow the listeners to pick free, terrestrial radio with more options.

It's the same reason stores open branches... when I have to drive 15 miles to Bed Bath and Beyond, I pick the Linens and Things that is 3 miles away, but if there is a new BBB at equal distance, I will remain loyal to that chain. The total market sales of BBB will be divided, but they keep my dollars...

Probably not the case. My guess is the profit margin was to thin and they wanted to spend their time on more profitable product. There are many older technology type components that would continue to get more expensive with time and they would need to redesign it just to keep costs down. I noticed the price on a R8B kept going up the last few years they made it. With the Asian competition and the engineering hours needed probably tipped the scales in favor of dropping it. Drake would probably be asking at $2K to $2.5K for an R8B if they were still making it today.

The info provided to iBiquity's owners is not public, so I am not giving you a link. You will simply have to hold your water until Samsung ships low power, lower cost chips in 2008.

Nothing is like your insistence that listeners will put up with a bad AM signal and listen, despite radio audience measurements that are universally accepted showing no such thing occurs.

Or, the simple answer: there is a huge decline in the number of SW stations, and also in SW listeners. Domestic SW, the nicest DX, is all but disappearing and the quality broadcasters are reducing schedules or suspending service.

Yeah, I do. But, over the last few weeks, I've noticed some serious inconsistencies in his positions. And, I've watched him, when pressed, back away from his arguments. Now, sometimes we say things in the heat of a moment, or when time is short, that may require some clarification. But, I've noticed a consistent pattern of argumentation, and when pressed for specifics, a termination of the discussion, so he can move on to other things. Direct questions asked, but never addressed. Specifics requested but never supplied. Your link request that was never provided. And now, twice, in front of the group, he's promised to get his engineers out here to take signal strength measurements at my location to determine why I can't hear a local 50kw station, but immediately dropped all conversation about it.

To date the only one who's bothered to investigate my reception issues, is me. :)

Again, not terribly surprising. Not any of it. Most broadcasters, in fact, most people in any profession are particularly good at spouting a company line, but woefully inadequate at following through. Or directly addressing matters that they feel are inconsequential to them, beneath them, or in the most insidious cases, may threaten their position. A lot of people I know are like this. You probably know some, too.

But, here of late, I've seen more of it than in months past. And I've seen more attempts at abject dismissal, in lieu of substantive conversation. Which I have seen more out of consultants, than actual working frontline broadcasters. And some blatant inconsistencies in his claims about agencies/sales. And his experience. These things make me suspect that, though, he's still the David we've all come to know and love, that he's getting low on the calm, educational patience he's showed a year ago, and is now running out of both patience, and appreciation of the intercourse.

Like the parent who, when set with a barrage of questions he/she no longer wants to deal with, because he/she can't make a compelling case, retreats into 'because I said so.'

He speaks a corporate line. He speaks a policy statement. He speaks...well, he speaks like he's reading out of a textbook. But he doesn't speak with a level of personal intimacy that someone with his experience would employ. You and I, for instance, barely know each other. And have only corresponded once or twice within the group. But, here, you've asked a direct question based on existing conversation, but with a level of personal interaction that David does not employ. You ask me about what I think and whether or not it's changed. And you phrased it in a very personal way. Two people exchanging ideas....one to the other.

But when David speaks, he speaks like a policy statement. There's only a level of personal interaction after it's been brought to his attention that there is none. Hell, even Eric Richards, with whom I share no personal cordiality, will address a post as though he's talking TO me, but not AT me. David doesn't do that. He speaks AT his opponent. Overwhelming with statistics, where a conversational sentence will do. Jumping into conversations with material that brings nothing to the topic at hand, but definitely puts his expertise and policy positions on display.

Like a textbook. Very much like a textbook. General practices, expectations and limitatons. But no personal experiential variations on the textbook case. And everyone, EVERYONE, has personal experiences where the textbook doesn't tell the story.

Then there was the issue of his ham credentials. When pressed he gave a credible story about corruption in the testing process in Ecuador. Nothing out of the ordinary, actually. Nothing outside the realm of possibility. Certainly, something we'd all believe based on the politics of the region. But when pressed, he gave no clarification, with any personal experiential content. Just something that sounds a likely story.

Which is all, really, that he needs to present. If that. But all of his stories sound like that. Textbook, obvious and not unexpected likely stories, without any personal variations, or counterintuitive wrinkles.

Somewhere you'd expect some.

Colleagues, whether vocational or avocational, don't address each other like that. He claims to be a DXer, but disdains DXers. He claims to be an SWL, but contributes almost nothing to SW related conversations. He keeps his content almost entirely on BC related matters, and, again speaks not TO, but AT the topic. Like we're not here. Or beneath him. Ignorant USENet savages, who could not be informed if we could BUY a clue.

As I said, I've known people in the Radio business like that. But then don't rise to the level of corporate oversight, or management. And they are certainly not leaders. Usually they're middle manglement. And consultants.

So, yeah, to answer your question, I think he's for real. I just think he's not as good at keeping it real as he wants to believe.

Yeah, I can agree with a lot of it. Critique without a bunch of URLs

Actually, I disagree. He overwhemlms with statistical buzzwords rather than statistics. It's easy to talk about normal distributions if you have read about statistics, but what if you don't know where a normal distribution simply doesn't apply?

Just an ego trip. "Let me show you how much I know." Only it doesn't work.

He (or those who think like him) can destroy conventional radio, and where it is useful is in times of emergency, such as 9/11 or when a major river-crossing bridge suddenly ceases to exist.

For a commuter, all that chit-chat between the musical pieces or the news stories is very useful.

Your experiences of a decade or more ago have little to do with the current situation, where interactive media is far more attractive to advertising agencies than radio because there are more creative dollars to be made there.

I'm out of patience with the people who insist that there is listening to distant skywave signals, when there is no such thing documented and with those who think AM is not on a horrible decline, with its main and majority format, news talk, moving to FM. And I'm out of patience with you, who think a radio station in 2007 can change the demos on a buy because he once saw a station changed on a buy. I spoke with the head or our naitonal rep about changing demos on a campaign, and she simply laughed.

When the responses I get are idiotic, I react as one does to an idiot. At some point, it came to me that DXers were now enemies of radio stations...

which is when I dropped my Northamerican radio club memberships... because supporting one's enemies with money is hardly rational. The inability of the DX community to realize that AM has changed from a music medium to a talk one, and that shows like Noory are necessary, and that technical changes have to come if there is any chace of AM survival make the DXer a Luddite of the first order.

Drivers licences, visas, import permits, bulding permits, licences, tax audits, etc., were all facilitated in a way that is accepted outside the US, and not called "corrupt" as you have called it. It's just a different system. And while I was there, there was no exam for a ham license at all... you had to be sponsored by the RCE (Radio Club del Ecuador) or other of the ham associations, and you got a license. My sponsor was Ing. Fred Simon.

But, with about 30 years of living outside the US, and even more working there, I am used to US gringo standards being applied to other cultures as a metric. Other cultures do not work like the American system, and can not be compared to it, either.

Anyone with over 2000 AM veries has, I think, earned the right to be called a DXer. But I am not a club member of any of the DX orgainzations because the hobby, which led me into radio, now pretty universally hates broadcasters and the very stations they listen to.

And an FM can not provide the needed service in the Minneapolis case? Or did the bridge extend across the entire Great Plains.

WWL was one of the really lucky stations, as it had been hardened. Nearly nowhere on the Gulf Coast or FL is there a station that sould survive what WWL went through. The first to go in a hurricane are usually AMs, as the sites tend to be low and damp. FMs with backups on buildings are the most robust today. I have been through a bunch of big hurricanes while in PR, and the AMs never stayed on.... the FMs did.

And an FM can not do that?

FMs are highly viable still; with few exceptions, AMs are not.

You just pointed out something that the engineer who gave a radio club a tour a few years ago mentioned.... there are no young DXers any more.

I'm sure some of it is that there is no appeal of AM at all to young people, whether they be teens or young adults, so they would not discover AM skip in any case, But there has to be more to this than just what is on the radio.

A parallel would be the number of people who in the mid to late 80's into the 90's built their own computers. There were parts places all over, magazines filled with ads for cases and fans.... now there is nearly nothing.

People listened for content. You and your buddies at iBiquity have destroyed the quality -- what there was -- of the remaining content.
Most people are now listening to their digial audio players, not to the FMs.

You are not a "typical" listener by any means. The term "broad" in broadcasting is there for a reason, and radio can not nor has it ever been able to serve very tiny niche listener groups.

But I think you are off the deep end because of your denial of ratings, inability to see that if there is no listening of conseuence beyond a certain signal intensity, there must be a truth there, and your idea that knowing wave and propagation theory is somehow necessary to understanding that listeners don't tune to weak signals.

No, I think anything over the price of a Drake or AOR is the equivalent of buying a Bentley. Nice if you can afford it, but not worth the extra $200 k over a BMW or Benz. I am not saying it is a waste of money if you are very rich, but I sure would not buy one.

My real point is that even in the DX community such a radio is rare. Among listeners to commercial stations, so rare as to be freaky.
>
> And I'm not a real listener. Funny man.

No, you are not. You are way to into the subject, albeit woefully misinformed, to be a "real" listener. Real listeners seldom remember call letters (unless they are over 50) and round dial positions and don't know station locations or slogans half the time. Radio is an accompanyment to other activities, and used like a utility.

> Well Bozo. I am a listener and I know what I want and it's not a serving

You might as well give up, as you are not getting what you want from terrestrial radio. I'm surprised you even engage in off air reception, anyway.

Ratings wise, radio geeks are like contest pigs... very noisy, but they contribute nothing to ratings or our livelihood.

How has iBiquity destroyed the quality of FM? There is no degradation of the FM analog signal to add HD, and saying so is an exaggeration or a lie.

Most people, as in 96% of them, are listening to the radio each week.... same as 1965 when Arbiytron began.

You are full of crap. KFI and KNX come in just fine here at night. I also regularly listen to KKOH out of Nevada, KOGO San Diego, KGO in San Francisco to name a few. I'm beginning to think you don't live in LA when you post this crap. They all come in well on a portable radio I hold in my hand so drop the jealousy act over my table top radios.

You do not seem to know what can be picked up on the West coast at all.
You seem to get your information from the Internet instead of actually listening to a radio. You are a real nut job pretender. How can you not know about the reception I get if you live in LA? I can only conclude you are full of crap and that you don't live in LA or anywhere on the West coast.

LOL!

I've been in the business since I was 6, some of my experiences are going to be very old.

That certainly doesn't mean all of them are. I'm not working in the 50's, here.

You misrepresent the facts to support your arguments as needed. You tell me I don't hear the stations I listen to because they are so weak as to be DX and nobody would spend time listening to them. You are full of it.

You don't seem to know what reception on the west coast is like so either you don't listen to AM at all or you don't live on the west

You're kidding, right? Those ads are everywhere. There are probably at least as many people building their own computers now as there are buying pre-built ones. In our house, there are exactly three pre-built desktop machines (old Gateway minisystems I bought for next to nothing to use as streaming machines). The other 6 desktop machines (mostly towers) are built from discrete parts chosen for their particular merits. This is done by most anyone into serious computing. Those that buy machines off the shelf are usually doing so just to access e-mail and do a bit of web surfing.

I agree with you. Mostly. I think that most U.S. stations like Top 40 or Rock will try to squeeze as many programs as possible into their 200 kilohertz channel, but I think other stations like Classical will go for higher-quality 300 kbps Surround sound, because their listeners demand the best-possible.

BTW, the HD Radio uses HE-AAC and can achieve FM quality as low as 64 kbps.

Your vision of "radio" is not radio. It's a low power digital 'local' service that forces everyone to buy new hardware to even make use of it.
Anyone can listen to "radio" on the same equipment they listened to it on almost 90 years ago.

You're the second person to say something like that. But that's not (half-hour ads).

- How much more can digital (HD) be allowed to use?
- It is authorized 24/7 for AM and FM in the US, and
- I do not believe that there were more than 24 hours
- in the day.

More AM/MW Radio changing over to IBOC.

Well he just made an important mistake posting about his area of expertise that leads me to believe he is a faker just like some people pretend to be a doctor or a cop. He may hold a position at Univision but in reality does not belong there.

He knows some information but not enough to convince me he is who he purports to be.

Then his arguments over my reception is so ignorant to the extent that I just can't believe he lives or has visited LA for that matter. I mean how much rope should I give him to hang himself anyway? The guy is full of crap.

I only understood about 75% of what your wrote, but if I understand your meaning, this new receiving technique would not improve the sound (it would still be limited from 100-6000 hertz), but would only reduce interference.

Thanks. I only get the bad IBOC hash on one station, so it may be the station or something in the path that effects the sideband differently.

Well you don't seem to know what reception is like around here on the west coast and all you need is a portable radio to find out. Knowledge of propagation is not necessary. You just keep on making crap up about how hard or easy it is to pick up a station based on something you read and misinterpreted on the Internet.

The deep end you allude to is the end of your rope.

Oh now you tell me after reading all your informative posts that I'm misinformed. Well, guess it's hopeless. I'll just have to face the fact that I'm not a real listener. I'm...I'm not in your book so not only am I not a listener but I must not exist at all.

Why...why...why yes you must be right. I should just give up listening.

Yeah. Hey, I always knew I was nothing. Thanks for pointing that out.

And I guess that means that everyone else reading this news group is in the same boat except for you.

Maybe, just maybe, everyone should just stop listening to you instead?

You are correct that you can get all sorts of distant stations in Ventura, but Mr. Eduardo would say that doesn't matter since your listening is not in the Arbitron. Now the FCC shouldn't give a dam about the Arbitron since that is marketing, while the FCC should be concerned with excellence in engineering.

The plan is to kill the analog signals and go strictly digital.

True.

On the other hand, codecs have advanced a lot over the last few years, specifically to improve low bit rates. Take a quick listen to these AAC+SBR stations:

Q93 Louisiana - www.shoutcast.com/sbin/shoutcast-playlist.pls?rn=377155&file=filename.pls
SKY FM - www.shoutcast.com/sbin/shoutcast-playlist.pls?rn=8849&file=filename.pls IMHO they sound better than the AM Stereo radio in my car. Even as low as 16 kbps, you have fairly good sound. (If the above link did not work, here's the station listing.)

www.shoutcast.com/directory/index.phtml?orderby=content&sgenre=Top%2040&numresult=25&maxbitrate=32

Also:

With a nominal increase (+5 khz each side),
HD and DMR can achieve 40 or 70 kbps
which is as good as FM.

I don't know much about the Satellite services, but I see sirius uses AAC (no plus). AAC is not much better than MP3, and 20 kbps is definitely not sufficient, even for voice. I'd probably be calling every day, and complaining to sirius, until they got tired of hearing from me.

Ahhh I see. I figured they'd use the same codec, rather than spend money creating two separate streams for the satellite and the net.

I've been listening on the internet, and considering subscribing, but if the radio's sound is crap then it's not worth the $13 a month fee. (later). Ooops hold on. If wikipedia is accurate, XM is using the superior AAC+. "Audio channels on XM are digitally compressed using the aacPlus codec". So XM would sound as good as internet.

Good heavens. I suggest you listen to more radio more often. Make it a portable so you get out more often. Heck there are infomercials that go on for hours on the radio.

But still have the same poor AM sound. Digital offers an upgrade to near-FM quality.

How high? 0-10000 hertz? That's not as good as the 0-15000 possible with AAC+SBR.

I use Winamp to listen as it has the right codec built in.

Unfortunately the spectrum DAB occupies is currently reserved by the U.S. military. So that literally means there's no place in U.S. Radio to insert a DAB-exclusive band. (The FCC is selling tv channels 51-69, but it will likely go to Internet Wireless.)

Personally, I don't want to see DAB in the U.S.

I like the FCC's plan to keep the current FM band (rather than discontinue it, as the UK/Germany is planning to do circa 2015). That means my favorite stations, the ones I grew up with like FM97 or WARM103 or WJTL90, will still be in their proper places ..... just upgraded to digital quality..... and with more sub-channels.

I like the IBOC plan, even if the execution has been a little flawed.
(For example, I would have banned AM-HD from nighttime, until after the analog shutdown.)

Yes it does. AM-HD sounds like FM quality. FM-HD sounds near-CD quality.

Riiiight. And my analog television will still be operational in 2010. And the UK/German committee discussions to shut-down analog in 2015, didn't actually happen. It was all faked.

Riiight. The FCC's going to let analog/digital coexist forever on TV and Radio

Riiight.
And California doesn't have earthquakes.

Not a factoid; just personal experience. I have never heard any 30-minute ads on radio, so I consider is a non-issue. Like worrying about an asteroid hitting the earth in my lifetime (an unlikely event & a non-issue).

Also:

I tend not to hate commercials. For me commercials provide FREE television and FREE radio (not having to pay $13 a month).

That's a positive not a negative.

Please list a couple stations that do "hours" of infomercials, and then point me to some of the Station websites, so I can check it out for myself. This is a whole new phenomenon to me, because I've never heard anything like that locally (neither on FM Music, nor AM Talk).

Thanks.

Hey, if you don't register in that book, then how do they really know whether anyone is listening? I don't believe in polls. Someone decided that a certain percentage of statistical probabilities existed and base almost everything in OUR lives upon it. I don't care much for that idea.. we're not statistics, we're individuals, but so much of corporate America (or any other country) cubbyholes us and treats us like we don't exist as individuals, that we MUST be lemmings that belong to a certain group.

You do realize (maybe you don't) that that argument is actually a straw man.

There's no such thing as 'free' radio or television. When you buy a product (Coke, Ford, KFC, Trojan Enz) you're paying for "free" broadcast media. Do you think that the price of advertising is not passed on to the consumer? It's sort of like when your employer pulls money from your paycheck to send to the IRS and SSA, it doesn't hurt so much as it's money you never see (unless you're lucky enough to have some of it coming back to you at tax time). I'm sure that you and I pay far more than $13 a month in inflated prices from paying for advertising.

Uh huh. Take a quick listen to these "low bit rate digital" AAC+ stations. They sound better than the AM Stereo radio in my car.

Neither AM nor FM are currently broadcast close to thier technical fidelity limits. Plenty of people are happy with the current mid-fi radio and perfect audio reproduction, even if it were possible, would not bring in more listeners.

5.1 surround would drive listeners away. People use the radio for backround sound. People listen in the car. A wide dynamic range would go from lost in the ambient noise to the jarring. There's perfectly good practical reasons that neither AM nor FM isn't braodcast close to their fidelity limits.

And broadcast high fidelity has been tried several times. Wideband AM was first tried in the 30s. FM radio took a generation to get going, despite it's noise immunity. AM stereo failed after a good sincere attempt. A few wideband stereo receivers were made but they didn't get much interest.

Alot of people like high fidelity but they like control of it. They'll play it when they want, where they want. And that means they're playing recordings.

So? In most markets, most listeners are listening to a few stations. The bulk of the stations get by with less. And there's alot of stations which hardly anybody listens to. In fact, it wasn't long ago stations were going dark for lack of listeners. While it might be nice if radio had more variety, how do you support it?

Even cheap programming isn't free.

But what is the idea? Higher fidelity in a medium in which high fidelity has already disappointed? More stations in a medium in which a number of stations are already struggling?

What makes you think I buy that trash? I actually buy very little (since I'm not rich). Besides in nations like the UK that have commercial-free TV and radio, are the products any cheaper than U.S. products?

NOPE. UK pays the same price.

It's a mistake to think that, if the FCC suddenly declared commercials can no longer be aired on TV/radio, that U.S. companies would happily cut their prices in half. That would not happen.

As I recall it Drakes explanation of the discontinuation it wasn't so much the lack of demand but other issues.

Alot of the big time stations run infomertials before 5AM. On weekends, they could show up at almost any time. The smaller brokered stations often run the hours and hours of infomertials.

Radio infomertials aren't usually like the Ron Popiel sort of TV informertial. They often masquerade as real call-in shows, but the fake callers are talking about the benefits of a particular investment or hair restorer or something like that.

I have no idea if these radio informertials are available on the net. After all, downloading a fake call-in show would destroy the illusion, wouldn't it?

I agree with that. What would attract people to HD Radio is seeing their favorite stations (like mine: FM97) multiply into 3 or 4 channels..... thus giving more choices to the listener.

Just because you have 5.1, doesn't mean you'd have a large dynamic range. One does not imply the other.

I would hardly call having 4 incompatible methods a "good attempt".
More like a "bass backwards" attempt. Had the FCC selected a single standard, AM stereo would be as popular in the U.S., as it currently is in Canada, Japan, and Australia. In those nations, virtually every station is broadcast in AM Stereo.

As for FM, it was stifled by the AM corporations trying to crush it.
First they delayed its introduction by twenty years via regulatory roadblocks (else we'd have it in the late 30s), and then they tried to kill it by giving it inferior programs while saving the best stuff for AM.

Point: FM and AM Stereo were stifled NOT by disinterest in high fidelity, but because of poor handling.

For every additional channel a station adds in IBOC, their main channel bitrate MUST suffer, as bandwidth is taken away from it, so it of necessity MUST cut back the bitrate. DAB in the UK suffers greatly from this. Back when they first started broadcasting, reports are that the Eureka system sounded quite good, but as more streams were added, and the bandwidth and bitrate of all stations had to be throttled back, complaints of artifacting and poor audio reproduction started coming in.

Well yeah, but even shoutcast & live365 have advanced search functions, and they are for entertainment too. It would be impossible to scan through 10,000 stations just to find the ones you like.
(Which is why they have the advanced search.)

I don't think I'll be using tuner2 any time soon. Not user-friendly.

Let 'em know. I'm sure they are up for making things better. It is too

Uh.... no. Almost all radio stations offer "listen live" over the internet. Pick your favorite station, type in its call letters.com, and see if they have a stream. For example: WBAL.com has a live stream of their station in real time.

[edit]

I just checked-out a couple (5) AM stations (4:30 am california time) and none of them were playing infomercials. So please give me some call letters of stations you know with certainty will play infomercials, and I'll check them out myself.

And more expenses for the broadcaster.

Certainly not. And just because the frequency respose of AM radio can go from 20 to 15kHz, or better doesn't mean it does. And FM radio is also capable of excellent fidelity but it doesn't really happen either.

5.1 would be compromised in similiar ways.

Sure it was. The radios were available, but people didn't buy them. People didn't buy them when they had four choices. People didn't buy the multidecoder radios. People didn't buy the AM stereo radios when there was only one choice.

Lots of broadcasters transmitted AM stereo, and it worked pretty well. But people didn't buy the radios.

I know plenty of people who never owned an AM stereo radio. I have no idea how the FCC kept them from buying AM stereo.

FM was on the air in the late 30s. I have a Stromberg Carlson AM-SW-FM radio made in 1940. The FCC did change the FM band after WW2. Many people blame the change for FM's slow restart, but again, the FCC wasn't keeping people from buying new radios.

The AM corporations didn't have any control over the FM stations they didn't own. There were independant FM networks but they couldn't develop competitive programming.

If public had a robust interest in high fidelity radio, then presumed poor handling would not be an issue.

In my market, Chicago, the top 2 stations account for about 10% of the listeners. The bottom 15 on the Arbitron list draw 1% or less. And there are a number of stations which don't even make the list.

As far as I know, the story is about the same in every market. Here's where to check it out:

The Realistic DX 440 and Degen 1103 have both sleep timers and timed automatic turn-on functions.

I wouldn't count on SW radio to wake me up, however.

And of course, if what you say is true, listeners would be perfectly content listening to static so long as they can heard it in HD quality.

Oh well. Somebody else in this forum just got done telling me,
"Listeners don't care about quality", so it shouldn't be an an issue.
People want variety, and lots of stations. And that's what IBOC-FM provides.

BTW:

IBOC does have an advantage over DAB. DAB only has room for ~100 kbps per station. IBOC provides each digital FM station with 300 kbps.

HD/IBOC does not employ AAC, although an earlier version may have IIRC. It uses something called PAC(?)

One annoying thing I always found about either service was that even with a satellite dish the sets at Wal-Mart broke up on and off as you moved around them. How QUAINT.

It's a quality receiver extremely well suited for Medium wave

It's becoming painfully bloody OBVIOUS that we have a foreign OP who has the British status quo confused with a purely AMERICAN concept, hybrid digital (Britain has absolute stark, raving NIL). Nobody else in the world has bothered much with a halfway approach to digital radio--only the US..

They doesn't seem to be stopping them from adding second and third channels Like WIYY in Baltimore, which has voluntarily added Classic Rock and Indie Rock to their AOR primary station. Now listeners of that style have three times as much content to enjoy.

Plus: If a smaller station can't afford multiple program, then they don't need to do anything. They can just limit themselves to 1 high-quality channel (300 kbps).

And then the listeners of that Classic Music station would complain, and the manager would have to decide between (a) increasing bitrate or (b) losing customers.

People in Canada, Japan, and Australia bought AM Stereo radio in droves. Why? Because there was a single standard, not the 4-way mess the FCC left behind. (It's similar to today's HD DVD versus Blu-ray battle; most people are just waiting to see who wins.)

If the FCC had picked just ONE standard, then u.s. citizens would have acted like canadians, japanese, and australians, and bought the radio upgrade.

But with a 4-way race.... well u.s. citizens were left confused. And it was the FCC's fault.

NOTE: This situation doesn't exist today. FCC has selected HDR, and thus people know what they need to buy to get double or triple the # of stations on the dial.

> If public had a robust interest in high fidelity radio, then presumed poor

I already agreed with you that HQ is not going to motivate people to upgrade. It will be seeing their favorite FM stations split into 3 or 4 programs, thus tripling their options, that will motive people to buy.

Hmm, interesting. In my markets (Lancaster, York, Harrisburg, Baltimore), the listeners are fairly evenly divided bwtween the stations. They all get a piece of the pie. See: http://www1.arbitron.com/tlr/public/report.do Actually, I just looked at the Chicago market. The ratings don't support your claim. Even in Chicago, the listeners are fairly evenly divided amongst the top 20 stations. (ranging from approximately 2 to 5% of the listeners, per station).

That seems to suggest listeners do what I do:

- jump from station to station
- looking for variety across multiple channels
- and that they would LOVE having 3-4 times more options on the FM dial.

I'm not confused. I am aware that DAB sits on its own separate band.

Not true. The U.S. is not the only place to use IBOC. The E.U. also uses IBOC for shortwave, AM, and (soon) FM.

You have it backwards. It used to be PAC, derived from MP3.

Early testing showed it didn't work very well, so the codec was switched to MPEG4 AAC+SBR.

Huh. I thought the "backup" terrestrial stations were supposed to prevent that. (shrug). When I was last at Walmart I tried to listen to an XM radio, but they didn't have any operational. Nice. Way to demo the system.

I find that the alarm is much better for waking me up.

Except Wireless Internet is extremely expensive, not free like HD or analog Radio.

Also it appears it won't work outside of your home. Thus HD or Analog radio is still the only option for car travel.

I sense a lot of animosity against Eduardo, but I think he has a valid point about the viability of multiple formats. The Baltimore AOR station has added sub-channels for Classic Rock and Indie Rock, which is just great for fans of the "rock" genre. Now they can hear music that they might otherwise not be able to hear. They have more choice.

I know.

You're going to say, "But it's not profitable". Okay well apparently the station manager disagree with you (which is why he's now programming 3 channels for his station). BUT even if we assume you're correct and it's not profitable..... so what?

A station can just as easily broadcast 1 channel at high-quality 300 kbps.

The HD Radio standard is flexible.

I'd call it a "lie". I still listen to FM, driving across the country on business trips, and I hear absolutely NO degradation in the signal. (I wouldn't even know HD exists, if it weren't for the ads.)

Eminently logical. I've already stated this elsewhere, but it's worth repeating. The Baltimore station has split into 3 sub-channels:
- AOR
- Classic Rock
- Indie Rock

.....thus giving listeners more options, more variety, more music.
It's similar to what's been happening to Cable TV the last ten years, slowly but surely expanding from ~50 channels to ~200 channels. (And profiting.)

Wireless internet is not extremely expensive? Where have you been shopping? And many people already have it, in which case internet radio introduces no additional cost.

So you've given up any pretense of being an actual user and are outing

Once Wimax is rolled out here in NYC I'll have to pick up one of these babies. This thing will actually give you a meaningful choice in what you listen to. You won't be confined to what's local, unlike with HD.

I own a Linksys Wireless B Music System internet radio, I paid about $159.00 for it at the Wal Mart store a few years ago.I can use it tethered to my computer, or, I can use it wirelessly up to about 100 feet from my computer.I don't tote, so I keep it tethered to my computer.

Right. I said there were a handful of stations that get any kind of regional coverarage. KFI and KNX are licensed within the market you live in, although you are in an area outside the radio metro, but inside the TV metro (marketing terms like MSA and DMA were set up precisely so advertisers would know where the influence of a market's stations extends to... it's not arbitrary.... it is based on listening) where the signals may be receivable, but few people listen.

KOGO is probably receivable as you are near the coast. I have no usable night signal in Glendale, as 600 is very congested inland. 780 and 810 are former 1 B clears.

You have proven my case. Many 1 Bs shoot out over the water, but the As and usable B's combined are not even 1% of all the radio stations in the US, and none of them has registered skywave based listening in ratings for many, mnay years... decades perhaps.

All we are looking at here is whether the FCC and the broadcast industry did the right thing. A sacrifice of a quantity of listening so small it is statistically not quantifiable looks to many to be a fair price to try to move AM to digital and to try to "reinvent" it. I happen to think AM is too dead to save in the long run, but standing in the way of perhaps its only chance to survive is also not appropriate.
> You do not seem to know what can be picked up on the West coast at all.

I can get Kota Kinabalu many mornings, but that is no indication that anyone else in the US is listening to it. My point... what I have apparently failed to convey to you, is that reception of night skywave signals is not how 99.999% of people want to hear radio. The levels of such reception are so low that they do not register in radio ratings, where every listening incident is captured, including distant stations, in the current system.

> You are a real nut job pretender. How can you not

The fact is that many LA stations are unusable to me, let alone distant ones. The noise level is so extreme that anything but a huge signal is not worth listening to. You are talking about a theoretical ability to pick up a station and I am talking about what people actually do when they listen to the radio.

Our KTNQ, a 50 kw AM, of which a decade ago I was program director, did not have a usable night signal much of the time where I lived in Toluca Lake; it has no consistently usable signal in Orange County, either. And guess what: we got no diary mentions in those areas, either. Listeners don't seek out signals that sound bad.

Hi Brenda,

Yeah just 5 seconds ago when I read your post. ;-) Although it's sometimes painful to have to abandon your old record player and upgrade to CD, I think it's worthwhile. You get better sound. (Of course, you don't have to abandon records; there are still turntables out there.)

Me, I'm stuck in the middle of this HDTV transition. I'm recording HDTV with a vcr, which is totally inadequate for the task, but I'm still glad the transition was made, because HDTV looks much, much better than analog. I have no desire to take a step backwards to analog.

> Those that think there is no downside to "upgrading" technology do not > take a myriad of factors into account, some small (like the DX hobby)

Yes true. By the way, DX isn't dead. It moved to the internet, where you can hear stations as far away as London, Russia, Australia, et cetera. I hear more distant stations now than I ever did as a teenager.

> some larger (orphaning millions of listeners that don't live inside city

The analog FM is still there. So too are the websites, so rural listeners can stream them off the internet. Heck, I listen to stations in my hometown, and I'm currently 1000 miles away, just via streaming.

> to larger still (the obsoleting of

Yes. Just like when we abandoned horse-drawn carriages, steam engines, and riverboats. It's called progress... moving from old technologies to new technologies. Movign from slow or inefficient technologies to faster, economical technologies.

BTW analog TVs are not dead. I've got a digital tuner attached to mine, which means the set will die a natural death of old age. It's not been wasted.

> And has anyone considered the long term

Trivial compared to the amount of trash generated from food packaging. By volume I'd estimate a thrown-away VCR or Cassette player is less than 1% the volume generated by food boxes, plastic wrap, and containers.

> Digital radio is an answer to a problem that doesn't exist,

Actually there is a problem. Young adults and teens are demanding more variety, and analog radio doesn't have room to grow to meet that demand (no room to add stations).

No it doesn't. Just type in your favorite radio station's call letters.com, and you can hear them over the internet. (If you can't find your station, I'd be happy to help you locate its dot-com location.)

Oh and you can try free XM by going here: radioaol.com - That's what I listen to during work (sometimes).

I don't want to pay $150 a year for radio. I like the free over-the-air kind, but I want more stations.

Yes, but better sound is of little value when combined with piss poor programming.

That's right, you can hear it all on the internet. But wait, what do

That's what I keep telling all the HD radio proponents, but they just clink to their little digital horse drawn carriages. Time to let go of the past and drive on the internet autobahn.

Yeah, that's why internet radio is the future. Cheaper than satellite, thousands of more choices than HD.

Progress feels good. Real good.

Yes I am aware of that problem. (Although I'm still able to hear Radio Disney just fine on the AM.) The solution is simple for someone like yourself who has an internet connection:

call letters.com - listen online.

You are, as I mentioned previously, the kind of listener radio stations are hard put to serve. You mentioned already that you are not satisfied with your local stations (and your local stations are those licensed to Ventura County) and prefer to listen to ones from locations at some distance.

Radio sales and programming are focused on the local radio market. Even the LA stations, some of which get listening by Ventura County residents, don't have an interest in residents in your county as, simply put, there is no money to be made off such listening. Your local stations don't seem to serve you, and the more distant ones do not care to serve you as there is no gain. You are one of a tiny percentage of bona fide radio listeners that simply can't be satisfied... in Ventura, probably the econommics of a small, low revenue market are the determining factor... so to broadcasting, you are "unservable."

You find listenable stations that the average person neither knows exists or can not pick up well. Most DXers have a bit more tolerance for noise, hisses, buzzes and static than the average listener... who today uses CDs or iPod digital files as the standard; AM as a band can not satisfy the listener expectations of the last two generations.

You equate being able to pick up a station with being able to listen to it. These are not the same things, and you should understand that the normal listener to radio has a higher standard of reception than you do. For example, 780 in Reno is not 100% every night; most listeners would never return after the first time they hear nose, static, fading or interference.

And you equate listenablity to receivability. The fact is that listenership of AM radio is at its lowest at night, likely due to, first, the greater use of TV by the AM 45+ listener core and, second, by the fact that nearly every AM in the US has less coverage at night than in the daytime, so choices are reduced.

Countless studies have been made over the years of where a station gets its audience. The purpose is to not waste money marketing and promoting where there is no potential. For AMs, where we can identify at home and at work listening by ZIP code (and that is 70% of listening) nearly all the listening to any particular station takes place inside a very strong signal contour. Most radio stations do their promotion in what we call Hot Zips, or areas where we get lots of listening. All of these are inside, to use LA as an example, the 70 dbu for FM and the 10 mvm for AM. And it's the same for our competitors.

The average radio listener does not listen to weaker signals. They definitely do not listen to noisy ones.

Add to that the fact that nearly all AM listeners are over 45, and the majority over 55 and you have, as I said, two generations of Americans who don't use AM much or at all.
> You don't seem to know what reception on the west coast is like so

I know what reception is like for DX, but that is irrelevant to a discussion of why a decision was made to implement HD and then extend its use to nights on AM. That decision is based on how radio is used as much as on the technical issues.

My DX interest is stations from Mexico, and, to some extent, Central America. I really have no interest in domestic DX and do what I can to null those stations. Ask about when you can get La Voz de Centroamerica in SPS, Honduras, and that I can tell you. When is XEW silent so the "hidden relay" can be heard? The difference is that I know when I am DXing and when I am listening for content.... something the average listener is really clear about.

We are aware of what is going on. That's all that matters; the idea is to keep expanding the station count so more and more manufacturers will buy the new chips and get the radios out in the stores.

How does the fact that listeners measured by the ratings services show no interest in skywave reception at all related to whether I know what reception is like of not? They DON'T listen to distant signals, so there is no need to protect distant signals.

Computer Shopper went from a 300 page book sold everywhere to a standard size magazine, mostly with new media devices and such. LA had three local computer magazines, advertising the screwdriver shops and component sellers. All are gone, and have been for about 4 to 5 years. And the reason is that almost 100% of the screwdriver and parts shops are gone, leaving Frys and the big boxes to sell limited lines of easy to install routers and external hard drives. Mail order places, like my old drive supplier, Dirt Cheap Drives, are gone by the hundreds. My case source in Buena Park closed a couple of years ago, and there are fewer and fewer alternatives in new motherboards and components.

With over half the market now being laptops, most consumers upgrade the box, not the components. Most systems are warranty-voided by adding anything beyond memory, so this is done far less than in the past. The days of overclocking and selecting special components is long-gone as a general practice because computers have reached speeds where buying the newest chip makes scant differnece and overclocking is just not worth the risk for most.

I must have built 50 computers going back to the S-100 bus, but quit about 4 years ago when I could get everything I wanted in a laptop. I preobably also bought 150 CPUs, dozens of tubes of silicone grease, had cabinets filled with video cards and modems and motherboards... I used to know the different Asus boards by number... but like most assemblers I know, the pain is not worth the gain and assembled units are cheaper now than buying the parts retail. I buy a new laptop every 12 months, and by the time a new one arrives, the old one is pretty much ready for recycling... and I save lots of time trying to get parts.

FM stereo is a success... yet it took 4 years to get the first 100 stations on the air. Today, we have 1501 HD stations on or building.

You are in denial on this, too? How many SW stations did Colombia have in 1967? And how many now? How many total SW hours does the VOA produce today? 1967? How many SW transmitters and what powers and hours did HCJB have in the 60's vs. today?

Now do the same statistics for FM. Colombia had zero FMs in '67, now 80% of the listening is to FM, of which there are now more than AMs in the country. There is a migration from SW to Am to FM. And now to digital.

It does not matter what "reception is like here" because we can easily see what kind of reception generates listening... and, as said before, unless the signal is very strong, there is no listening generated. And beyond that, we have the fact that AM generates very little listening under age 45, and soon it will be "under age 55" and there will be no revenue to support the band.

When the People Meter comes, it shows more market compression. In fact, in Houston, the #1 and the #15 station are only 0.2 ratings points apart.

If you look at the Arbitron numbers, which are the useless 12+ figures, you will see that in nearly every market there is only one AM in the top 10, save those markets with multiple full coverage 50 kw stations.... like Chicago. Bit if you go to 18-54, the sales demo range, only one AM is in the top 15, WBBM, and it is 10th.

The Arbitron lists cut off at a particular point. I show 39 stations with some listening in Chicago, while the Arbitron page shows less... but not one is licensed outside the metro.

That's fine. I'm not one to stand in the way of progress, and if Internet Radio turns-out to be the "winner" then I will embrace it.

I'm not so old or calcified in my thinking, that I think there is only "one correct way" things have to be done.

If HD Radio flops, then it flops, but I'd rather TRY it, then to continue going down the Analog path which we know is doomed to die.
(AM is all but dead; FM is leaning that way.) HD might save one or both of them, by adding double or triple the channels across the band, giving young listeners what they want: more channels/more variety/more music.

HD is merely an attempt to give an old hag a digital facelift. Get with the program and accept that change/progress is inevitable. Don't cling to yesteryear.

I'm 57, and I'd like to say I'm an engineer, but the word is debased currency these days. People like me, who have done the studying, can design systems and circuits, write international standards, climb a transmitter tower in a gale, get you a telecomms license and shmooze middle eastern potentates etc etc are engineers.

The chap who comes to look at my busted washing machine and announce it is beyond repair - he is an engineer too, as is the bloke who sits at a mixing desk with not the slightest clue as to what he is doing, and moves a fader while trying to look cool.

I don't feel that inclined to call myself an engineer these days.

ANd this is a nonsense post.

You've cross-posted it to rec.audio.tech
rec.audio.car
rec.radio.shortwave
ba.broadcast

Realistically they have nothing in common. Even the last two are a stretch.

The question has no relevance in the first place, because there's no context to the point of the question, and once you cross-post there is nothing at all in common.

You might as well have asked "What did you have for breakfast" because it would have been just as off-topic to all four newsgroups, and be just been as nonsensical to the groups as your actual question.

FALSE. It only dates back 1990 when it was standardized. NOT in any way "old" and certainly not decades (more like just over 1 decade).

> The concept of data compression has been

Yes data compression is old, but MPEG4 HE-AAC is NEW. It was only standardized in 2003, and thus your categorization that it is "old" technology is false.

Wow.
Gee.

You're silence has totally failed to convince me (or anybody who might be "on the fence" and undecided) that HD is bad. Alright. Here's the reasons I like HD:

- analog sucks like a scratchy record
- lack-of-variety sucks
- Once analog is dead, Digital AM will have the sound quality of FM

(10 kHz wide) or even CD (+5 khz wider), so AM radio can carry something other than just talk. Like maybe some music that doesn't sound like its coming out of a telephone (example: Radio Disney AM).
- Once analog is dead, Digital FM will be able to offer 3-4 times as many channels across the band. And Classical Radio stations will be able to present it the way it was meant to be heard (300 kbps surround).

Hybrid Digital Radio is a good thing.
As good as the internet radio.
As good as the music coming out of my Ipod.
As good as the HDTV that is replacing blurry NTSC.

Yes. I believe the word you're looking for is "technician" - somebody who knows how to fix various things and assemble them, but doesn't know how to design, because they typically have only 2 years of college or trade school.

Is "he" refering to me? Well sorry to disappoint you, but a lot of that stuff is passe', and no longer taught in college. I studied digital circuit design and digital signal processing at Penn State.
No analog stuff other than the basics (op-amps).

I'm 20. Candidate for a Bachelors degree in Electro-Optics in applied Physics with a minor in Computer Science..

I created most of the infrared focal plane array test program for anti-missile defense and worked on other various electro-optic projects throughout my work experience, and before that I was a physics tutor for numerous college students. I've been playing piano for more than 14 years and still continue to play. I wrote a research paper on LED's in an RC circuit.

Modulation and information theory are not "pass".

There are millions of obsolete televisions which will stop working in just over a year. Does it look like the advertisers care?

They won't care about obsolete radios either.

If they are on cable, it does not matter. 70-some percent of the US is on cable, and another significant percent is on satellite.

This isn't a mailing list. This is a Usenet newsgroup. I've been

The average radio listener has three stations they regularly use, with very few listening to only one (mostly evangelical stations) and many listening to 4 or 5. In the People meter, the average listener has 5 to 7 stations they sample at least once every two weeks. Having more local choices increases use of terrestrial radio.

In fact it was 1915 but the patent was not granted until 1923

"The first U. S. patent for SSB modulation was applied for on 1 December, 1915 by John R. Carson. Patent 1,449,382, titled "Method and Means for Signaling with High Frequency Waves" was awarded to Carson on March 27, 1923 and assigned to AT&T."

Look I have no qualms with Internet Radio. I listen to it half-a-day, every day, at work. BUT it has one serious flaw:

- It doesn't work in the car.

And I spend a LOT of time in my car (roughly 1.5 hours a day), thus I like to have available to me either Analog or HD Radio to help pass the time.

1) Most internet radio is low bitrate and sounds like hell.
2) I don't know what bitrate you're using on your ipod, but a lot of people are using 64 or 96 k/b mp3 bitrates that sound like hell warmed over.
3) "HDTV" is not replacing "blurry NTSC". DTV will do so. Most programming on DTV is NOT HD, and may never be. It's 480i or 480p, which is supposed to be the digital equivalent of NTSC, but in reality is loaded with artifacts and pixelization. True HD does look pretty good, but to date the stations have nowhere near the useful coverage of their analog counterparts (people in the sticks can't watch them).

Cable TV penetration is about 68% to 72%, depending how the source calculates..... satellite TV was at 24% last December, so we have less than 5% to 6% of America that gets off air signals.

There is no pixilation of TV delivered by copper, and very limited breakups from satellite, usually weather induced.

But every digital device is full of analogue devices. Not only that, but they run so quickly that you need to be highly competent in distributed circuit theory and microwave design techniques.

Digital is only of use if you do your engineering at the LEGO level.

Streaming is not DX. Also, where do you think these rural listeners are going to get broadband internet access that would allow them to listen to these streams? Ain't gonna happen, because nobody is supplying broadband outside of cities. (hint: satellite internet doesn't handle streaming audio for beans, since the backhaul is still via telephone modem, and the lag doesn't allow for enough FEC...)

Those things were not abandoned wholesale or all at once. They were phased out by attrition, nobody forced anyone to buy a horseless carriage. Plus, there are still working steamboats and horse drawn carriages in use today.

Try connecting one of those set-top boxes to your portable TV at the beach, or out camping.. I am not happy (nor is anyone else in the situation) with having a relatively expensive pocket portable TV obsoleted and useless.

Most young people I know don't listen to radio at all. It's not in their line of thinking. They listen to their mp3 players when they listen at all.
They couldn't care less about radio, and adding more stations won't change that. Besides, have you checked out what kids listen to now? Almost 100% rap/hiphop/urban. They don't want choice... they want conformity (as youth always have.. not with the adult world, but among their peers).

At least in the States, AM & FM broadcasting is limited to 50 Hz to 15KHz.

Digital broadcasting is limited to under 20 Hz to over 20KHz, or basically,
the extent of the normal human hearing range.

If you're listening to 100 to 6,000 Hz, you're listening to a poor telephone connection.

Well no, on the weekends, don't list to KGO at 10PM. But Monday through Friday, that is a good suggestion.

100Hz to 6000Hz would be an unbelievably good telephone connection.
300 to 3000 is more like a normal one.

HD Radio is the marketing name for IBOC. One is a brand, the other is an acronym for the system behind it.

There you go again. There are various kinds or blends of hip hop and rhythmic CHR. Some markets have two or three stations in the broad genre, because it has variants, and the proponents of one kind don't like the other.

Young people (12-24) listen to all kinds of things, and that group is definitely not composed of sheeple....

Using diverse New York, the top radio stations are:

WHTZ CHR (what used to be Top 40)
WWPR Hip Hop mostly Black appeal
WQHT Hip Hop, mostly Hispanic appeal
WCAA Reggaeton (Latin rhythmic) and tropical WSKQ Latin Tropical WBLS R&B / Urban
WKTU Rhythmic / light dance
WPAT Spanish AC
WLTW Soft AC

WQBU Regional Mexican WRKS Urban
WWFS Hot AC
WAXQ Rock

So you can not say that all listen to urban or hip hop stations... not even 30% of the listening by 12-24 in NY is to such stations.

Bob Orban, on the NRSC committee, found that consumer radios almost without exception, rolled off by at least 10 db by 4.2 kHz, and passed practically nothing over 5 kHz.

He can't be a competent engineer if he doesn't understand three-phase power generation and transmission as well. Learning all that was necessary before we could learn electronics in every major engineering school.

And as I stated above, neither is power generation and distribution.
Where does he think the power comes from? The wall? And how does it get there? God puts it there? And how does it get from the wall into the digital gizmos?

Perhaps after he has 40-50 years of experience -- if he lasts that

KGO does not cover the west. It covers up and down the Pacific coast, as it radiates very little power to the NNE, NE, E, SE, SSE directions.

And KGO may be local to most of the Bay Area, but it is not local to Monterey or SLO or Eugene or Klamath Falls.... all of which have plenty of local stations anyway.

Don't confuse Eduardo, er, "SFTV," he has all the answers.

Oh, "SFTV," 44, computer science and mathematics, and an engineer.
And I use the term with pride and defend against those who misuse it.

Those would include YOU. You are the most childlike 35 year old I've

Steve,

I would agree - Sprint is rolling out nation-wide WiMax and once that gets substantial coverage, it is over for terrestrial and HD Radio. Jerry Del Colliano gives terrestrial radio another 20 years before "the sticks" become obsolete. HD Radio is a non-starter, as other technologies are moving forward at lightening speeds. Ford's point-of-sale, dealer-installed HD Radio will also be a non-starter, as Ford is offering Sync, as a standard feature across all of it premium vehicles, which constuitute 40% of its sales. Otherwise, Sync is a $300 factory-installed option, less than HD Radio at $279 + $50 installation fee. Even though Ford is offering HD Radio, customers have to pay directly for installation - Ford owns Visteon which makes HD radios, and Ford is an investor in iBiquity. LOL!

It makes no difference to the computer inside the radio whether the 24 kbit/s data arrived by wire, wireless, a floppy disc, or CD. Data is data. It will all sound the same.

Streaming audio certainly isn't DX, but I fully support Wimax and internet radio because (1) they're going send HD radio into the dustbin and (2) they don't destroy a huge swath of spectrum. Perhaps after Wimax results in the commercial death of HD radio we'll get to see something truly new and truly interesting pop up on MW.

Consumer interest in DAB in the UK is slowing (only 3.5 million DAB radios have been sold in ten years), DAB stalled in Canada, and there is almost zero consumer interest in HD Radio in the US - consumers must realize that digital radio is a farce:

At that point, there will not be AM... the spectrum will be used for something important, like radio controlled plastic cars from Radio Shack.

The thing is, in this case the choice is literally a no brainer.
Consumers will be able to decide between HD radio, which lets them hear a few big local broadcasters delivering generic programming vs
the thousands of stations accessible via the internet, bundled no doubt with email, web access, the whole shebang. Think about it.
Internet radio will let people hear EVERYTHING they can hear on HD, together with thousands of OTHER things as well.

Not much of a choice.

That is true. I was rather surprised on my last project to discover myself modeling analog signals, instead of digital. Oh well. Times change.

Doubtful. Engineering is boring; you sit in a damn cube all day long, staring at a computer. I've been saving every penny, such that I will be able to retire at 40-45. Or semi-retire (only take jobs I like).

Engineering is dull.

I find it ironic you call me "childish" in the same paragraph where Hmmm. When I was an undergrad, electronics usually came after electromagnetic physics. Power generation and transmission were EE

Yeah. Things were better during the 50s. I wish we could reverse progress and go back to the blurry, barely-visible black-n-white.
And no FM.

/end sarcasm

I sold my portable on ebay. I hadn't used it for ten years, and so saw no reason to keep it. I kept the 2nd one for watching analog cable upstairs, and thus no need for a D-to-A converter box.

I work with hundreds of real analog engineers who design and build the most popular digital circuits on Computers operate in two directions during internet access. Typically the phone line or DSL or cable line flows both down & up across the same wire, but not satellite:

DOWN - from the satellite
UP - via the phone line

So the down channel is broadband, while the up channel is narrowband.
The thing Brenda forgot is that virtually all of these AM websites are optimized for phone line usage. I don't need broadband to DX to California or the UK or Australia via my 56K modem.

The point you do not understand since you do not live around here is AM does better day or night than FM. Even the low rolling hills on the coast let alone the larger mountains inland make for very poor FM reception so your arguments that FM sounds better is bogus. AM is superior over FM around here at least. I'll bet you have never driven route 1 along the coast in Ventura or LA counties. FM really sucks on that road that runs along the ocean.

It doesn't? According to wikipedia, the EU has set-aside 300 megahertz of space! That's a heck of a "huge swatch" of spectrum. 15 times larger than what's allocated to FM, and 300 times larger than the AM allocation.

I call that huge.

When I went to engineering school at one of the Big Three there were no "optional" engineering courses. We had to take, understand, and pass all courses which were thrown at us or go spend out time elsewhere. Some of them, such as Atomic Physics, were very obscure. I knew electronics, but for the power courses I had to bust my hump.
That's why I still remember them and retain some competence after all the years of doing communications engineering.

If you sit in a "damn cube all day long staring at a computer" you are no more than a designer - the bottom rung of engineering. Do you get out in the field to see and evaluate your projects "in action"? Do you have X years of experience or one year of experience X times?

>Engineering is dull.

I too found design dull. When I started to do real engineering (project analysis and management) it was far from dull. If you find it dull, go do something else that will turn you on, and stop wasting your time and that of your employer(s).

So the reality is you don't know but are guessing based on manufactured statistics or stuff you read on the Internet. However, although you do not have direct knowledge you feel free to tell me what I can receive well or not. What a crock.

Yes, 'Eduardo' is a crock. A full crock. He's also a fake Hispanic, AND a pathological liar. He's been the latter for at least 50 years now.

I think his mommie taught him that one. After all, she went to the same school as Hillary Clinton, so what can one expect?

This is the guy that tells me what my reception is like based on marketing statistics. This is the guy that calls me a lier when I post about what I can hear, what programming I listen too, and that in any even I'm not relevant to his work or life. This in a news group about radio listening local or distant. The guy is a joke and is the only one that does not realize it.

As I recall it, you are. It wasn't so much an issue of demand it was something to do with the availability of components currently being used, re-design costs because of that unavailability, and just the overall cost of building them.

The market was there, just witness the still high price an R8B brings.
